TALK TOO MUCH TO WIN BATTLE.

German General Rebukes "Irrepressible Tattling" of Secrets.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—Gen. Klibe in the Germania angrily attributes the failure of the German offensive to the fact that the date on which it was to begin, July 15, seemed to be public property at home. He indignantly rebukes the "irrepressible tattling" by which news of military importance percolates to the enemy. He and virtually all the other critics agree that further hard fighting is imminent.

BATTLE SUMMARY

[Undated War Resume by the Associated Press.]

Whether as a result of weariness after two weeks of incessant fighting or because of the greatly increased strength in man-power and positions of the enemy forces, the Allied armies on the Soissons-Rheims front have noticeably decreased their efforts to clear the salient.

If the pause in the offensive is attributable to weariness, the armies of the German Crown Prince also must be worn out for despite reinforcements they have lacked the hardiness to throw back their antagonists.

The fourteenth day of the great Allied offensive saw little activity on the part of either of the contending forces—except in the nature of reciprocal bombardments.

STOP HUN RUSH.

Tuesday night witnessed violent attempts by the Germans to expel the Americans and French from the valuable positions hold north of the Ourcq in the region of Fere-en-Tardenois, and along the western side of the salient near Oulchy-le-Chateau, where Scottish troops are holding with the French the wedge that has been driven eastward into the enemy line. These efforts were entirely fruitless.

A watchful eye is being kept by the Germans on the Americans standing at the apex of the battle line near Fere-en-Tardenois, and the enemy guns are showering their positions with great quantities of high explosives and gas shells. The enemy also continues jealously to guard with huge effectives the extreme eastern and western flanks of the salient to ward off possible attacks.

Whether the Germans have chosen the spot where ultimately they will face about and give battle to the Allied forces is not apparent. Great fires behind the lines possibly might indicate the destruction of further villages which it is intended to evacuate and press on northward to a chosen battle line.

ENEMY IN DANGER.

In spite of the tremendous efforts put forth by the Germans to check the pressure of the Allies north of the Ourcq, today finds the German positions there in grave danger. French, British and American troops, fighting their way forward east of Fere-en-Tardenois, seem to be in a position to compel a hurried retreat from Roncheres and St. Gemme, at the extreme bottom of the salient between Soissons and Rheims.

The Allied line runs south from Soissons to Grand Rozoy and then it begins to turn east. It passes just north of Fere-en-Tardenois and continues to the apex of the new wedge at Nesles, where it turns sharply south toward Roncheres.

All around the salient there has been a continuous battle for two days, with the Germans launching repeated counter-attacks. They have failed and the Allies have gained important ground at vital points.

HUN LINE STRONG.

Immediately south of Soissons and west of Rheims the German lines are strongly held, but enemy efforts to improve his position in the latter region have broken down.

There now seems to be little doubt that the Germans will retreat to the Vesle River, any possibility of making a stand north of the Ourcq seemingly being gone.

Against the new British positions at Merris, in the Lys salient, there has been a heavy bombardment.

Plunging northward from Sergy, American troops have made a brilliant and important advance in desperate fighting and apparently have opened the way for further successful operations in the Marne salient.

The stoutest resistance was no obstacle for the Americans, and

Men Who will Control Telegraph and Telephone Lines.

Left to right, David J. Lewis, former Congressman, now member of tariff commission; Postmaster-General Burleson; John C. Koons, first assistant Postmaster-General, and Judge William H. Lamar, solicitor for Postoffice Department. President Wilson's proclamation, effective today, taking over operation of the country's telegraph and telephone lines, places the administration in the hands of Postmaster-General Burleson. The other three were made his assistants.

POSTOFFICE LOOTED; GERMAN SOUGHT.

PEORIA CLERK CHARGED WITH THEFT OF $11,000; BROTHERS IN HUN ARMY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PEORIA (Ill.) July 31.—John G. Bensing, missing cashier of the Peoria postoffice and said to be a relative of Count Von Bernstorff, is sought on a charge of absconding with the postoffice pay roll of $6000 and an additional $5000 lost from the War Savings Stamp fund. He is believed to intend escaping into Mexico and making his way to Germany. Federal agents are watching the border towns. A warrant for Bensing's arrest was sworn out today by Postmaster C. U. Stone.

Bensing, who disappeared Saturday, telegraphed from Mexico, Mo., to a relative to notify his wife to examine a stocking bag at their home. Mrs. Bensing found $1000 in bills in the bag and turned it over to the postmaster.

Bensing's father was chief military officer of the Duchy of Oldenberg, Germany, and he was in line for the same position, but was disinherited when he came to the United States. He served eight years in the United States Army, and also a term in the navy. Two brothers at last accounts were fighting in the Germany army.

MOONEY'S ATTORNEYS ASK FOR RE-HEARING.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—A petition for a rehearing of its decision of July 22, denying Thomas J. Mooney a reversal of the judgment of death against him, was filed in the State Supreme Court here late today by Mooney's counsel. Mooney is awaiting execution in San Quentin penitentiary following his conviction of murder in connection with a bomb explosion here.

The decision upheld an order of the trial judge in dismissing a motion for a new trial based on the contention that Mooney was convicted fraudulently.

Judgment on the decision becomes final on August 22, and it will be necessary for the court to act on today's appeal before that date.

GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER COUNTRY'S WIRE SYSTEMS.

Postmaster-General Issues Statement on Assuming New Charge.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Control of telephone and telegraph lines was taken over at midnight tonight by the Postoffice Department and their operation placed under the general supervision of a special committee created for the purpose by Postmaster-General Burleson. Mr. Burldson announced that, until further notice, the companies will continue operation in the ordinary course through the regular channels and that all officers and employees will continue in the performance of their present duties on the same terms of employment. The plan is, however, to co-ordinate the facilities of the various companies to the best interest of the public and the stockholders.

Investigations into wire conditions being conducted by the special committee composed of First Assistant Postmaster-General Koons, David J. Lewis, former member of the Tariff Commission, and William H. Lamar, solicitor of the Postoffice Department, will be continued so that all possible information can be secured before any changes are undertaken.

"Pursuant of the proclamation of the President of the United States," said Mr. Burleson's statement, "I have assumed possession, control and supervision of the telegraph and telephone systems of the United States. Until further notice, the telegraph and telephone companies will continue operation in the ordinary course of business through regular channels. Regular dividends heretofore declared and maturing other obligations may be paid in due course and the companies may renew or extend their maturing obligations unless otherwise ordered by the interest on bonds, debentures and Postmaster-General.

"All officers, operators and employees of the telegraph and telephone companies will continue in the performance of their present duties, reporting to the same officers as heretofore and on the same terms of employment. Should any officer, operator or employee desire to leave the service he should give notice as heretofore to the proper officer.

"I earnestly request the loyal cooperation of all officers, operators and employees and the public, in order that the service rendered shall be not only maintained at a high standard, but improved wherever possible. It is the purpose to coordinate and unify these services so that they may be operated as a national system with due regard to the interests of the public and the owners of the properties.

"No change will be made until after the most careful consideration of all the facts. When deemed advisable to make changes, announcement will be made."

NEW YORK, July 31.—Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Bell Telephone Company, today issued a statement to all employees of the Bell lines, asking them to continue to show their "finest sense of obligation and your loyalty and fidelity to the public service" under government control, which begins tonight at midnight, that they have displayed in the past.

Mr. Vail said that at a conference in Washington, the Postmaster-General asked co-operation and assistance. "He was equally emphatic in the statement of his desire to conserve the service and properties of the companies with a view to returning them when called upon to do so, in as good condition as received.

Mr. Vail added: "It was his desire that the owners should receive just compensation in the full sense for their use.

"The Postmaster-General, until other instructions are issued, desires that the conduct of operations shall continue as heretofore and also states that no changes will be made until after consultation and after full and careful consideration."

WOOLWINE STARTS CAMPAIGN IN CHICO.

GOVERNOR CANDIDATE GIVES RINGING SPEECH ON STATE ISSUES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICO, July 31.—Greatly improved, but still suffering acutely from an incipient attack of neuritis, Thomas Lee Woolwine, candidate for the straight Democratic nomination for Governor, opened his campaign here tonight with a ringing speech on politics, politicians and State governmental issues. Woolwine was advised yesterday by a physician that he should rest for several days, but the candidate refused to obey the order, stating that he had been advertised to speak by the Democratic County Central Committee here tonight and that he would talk if able to walk. He spoke for more than an hour, and those who heard him frequently interrupted his address with applause.

Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, and one of the chief Woolwine supporters in this district was called to San Francisco on business today and was unable to preside. In his absence Z. T. Corbett, secretary of the county committee, took charge of the meeting. Chet Reynolds, former City Trustee here, and well-known Democrat, introduced Woolwine.

"We want to elect a Democrat this year," Reynolds said. "And Woolwine is a Democrat—the only Democrat running for the nomination—and he can win."

Woolwine repeated his charges against Francis J. Heney here, alleging that remarks such as those made against the Constitution by Heney in 1911 would constitute treason if uttered in this war time. Woolwine is scheduled to speak in Oroville tomorrow at noon and at Marysville tomorrow night.

Allies Now Seek to Annihilate the Kaiser's Hordes

PARIS, July 31.—(Havas Agency.) French aerial observers, says the Matin, report that there are signs behind the present German battle front of preparations for a continuation of the retirement northward. The enemy is destroying much material and big fires have been seen, the observers declare.

GERMANS ADMIT CRIMES BY LIES.

Attempt to Justify Bombing Hospital Shows They Knew Its Location.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, July 31.—In answer to a question in the House of Commons today, James Ian MacPherson, Parliamentary Secretary to the War Office, said he was aware that the German government was attempting to justify the bombing of the hospital at Etaples, France, on the night of May 19, by alleging that the Red Cross was not displayed at the hospital. Dr. MacPherson had seen in German newspapers photographs which were published with the intention of proving that the Red Cross sign at the hospital was not shown on May 21, but existed in large numbers on May 27.

AMERICANS CREDITED WITH FOCH'S VICTORY.

DASH AND ENERGY OF OUR MEN KEEP GERMANS ON THE RUN.

By Maj.-Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

(Copyright.)

LONDON, July 30.—There is only one possible explanation of the German retreat, "according to plan," and that is that the defense has been worn down by the steady progress of the attack. As I have explained, there was nothing in the shape of the German salient or in the character of the ground which the enemy occupied to make it peculiarly difficult for him to hold the line of the Ourcq until his internal communications had been reorganized.

Foch's counter-attack was delivered on the western flank of the salient and that flank from Soissons as far south as the Ourcq near Oulchy-le-Chateau had been holding well since the first days of the Allied advance while on the other flank between Rheims and the Marne our progress has not been such as in any way to endanger the retreat of the German troops, on the southern front.

Therefore there has never been any question of these troops being pinched out and of the Allies making by such means large captures of prisoners and guns.

This southern front has been in the greatest difficulties owing to the breakdown upon them of their communications inside the salient and the Allied pressure has been too incessant to allow the exhausted troops to be relieved and a new line of defense to be formed.

HUNS LACK TIME.

The Germans required time to enable them to settle down on the line of the Ourcq through Fere-en-Tardenois and they could not gain the necessary time. Among the causes of this failure I should place the very high effect of dash and energy of the American troops. All other armies now fighting are more or less war weary and they all contain a high proportion of lads and of middle-aged men, therefore the appearance of a new army in the field with its eagerness and enthusiasm unimpaired, and composed of the pick of the manhood of a great nation must be out of all proportion to its numerical strength. It should be absurd to suppose that anything like the million and a quarter of Americans who we are told have been shipped from the United States have taken part in this battle or are anywhere on the front.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—An odd calm fell over the Aisne-Marne battle area today, with only the thunder of the guns to tell of new and more terrible gusts of the war storm to come. Paris and Berlin both noted it. The infantry had paused for breath while the artillery pounded new roads of advance for Gen. Foch's victorious armies.

Just what the lull may prove was not apparent. Possibly the enemy is already on the move after the decisive defeat he met in the battle which began Saturday and centered on the American positions along the north bank of the Ourcq.

Here the American Third Division and the now famous Forty-second Division, the Rainbow Division, composed of former National Guardsmen of many States, have made good their position against the enemy's best fighting units. They have met, outfought and forced backward by their fierce ardor picked Prussian and Bavarian divisions brought fresh to the field with orders to hold the line of the Ourcq at all costs.

That line has been broken. The American spearhead, driven forward again and again, finally broke the fighting edge of the enemy defense. When supporting columns surged forward across the Ourcq to consolidate the ground so valiantly won and held by the first rush, enemy hopes of clinging to the present line dwindled.

Holding the apex of the Allied line at the center, the Americans had paved the way for the dashing capture of Chalmont Butte to the westward by the Franco-British forces. Allied guns now dominate the enemy's lines from this height, foretelling new inroads to his positions and the strong probability that he will be compelled to fall back to the Vesle line.

The victory was given new significance today by Gen. March, who told the newspapermen at his midweek conference each army was now bent on the destruction of the other, all lesser strategic objectives having been swept away on both sides. The mission of each is to kill; to destroy the fighting power of the other. It is the ultimate military objective that both are now seeking and there can be no halting short of the goal.

WORDS CARRY CONVICTION.

As Gen. March never before has talked at these conferences in general terms, when he turned today from the pin-dotted map, where the turn and sway of the battle was outlined in detail, and for the first time disclosed the true significance of the struggle in the narrow confines, his words carried conviction to his hearers.

"Whatever the enemy's objective was at the start of the drive," he said, picking his words carefully, "and whatever our hope was in the counter-offensive on the flank of this salient, it is now perfectly evident that those aims have been set aside.

"The objective of each army is the destruction of the other army; each one of them wants to kill as many of the others as possible.

"The heading back of the jaws (of the salient) by the Germans at Soissons and near Rheims has made it practically impossible for us to expect a bag. They have had two weeks now to withdraw from the dangerous points down near the Marne, and the objective of each army is the other army."

BATTLE LINE SHORTENS.

The Chief of Staff had prefaced this new conception of the great struggle with a careful outline of the battle positions, showing that since last Saturday another ten miles had been cut out of the length of the battle line by the Allied successes. It is now barely fifty-four miles around the flattened salient in which the enemy has massed virtually a million men as against seventy-four miles when the counter-assault was set in motion. From Chateau Thierry the Americans have made the maximum advance, covering fourteen miles to reach the positions, where they rested today, preparing for new advances.

Coming to the army being trained here to support the men at the front, Gen. March said he had ordered six new divisions created. Again, regu-

FRENCH TROOPS STARTED TO MEET HUNS IN ASIA.

America Furnishes Tokio Information Desired and Intervention Plan Nears Completion.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Negotiations between the Allied Powers, Japan and the United States regarding the extension of aid to the Czecho-Slovaks in Siberia and Russia have advanced another step. Information sought by Japan on certain points of the American proposal now has been furnished. This places the whole subject again before the Japanese Foreign Office, which must determine whether the proposal is sufficiently concrete to warrant action.

From unofficial sources comes news that, in anticipation of a satisfactory conclusion, Japan and the Allies are perfecting arrangements for the organization of whatever military force may be necessary. Because of their proximity to Siberia, Japan and China have been foremost in this work.

To preserve the international character of the enterprise, France and Great Britain are preparing contingents. Both of them will draw upon their near-by colonies, the French having already started five companies of regular French troops and Annamites from Tonquin to the north, while the British probably will send troops from India and Hongkong.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED.

PARIS, July 31—(Havas Agency.) General army staffs at Tokio and Peking are preparing plans for joint action under the agreement between China and Japan for action in Siberia. The Chinese Ambassador to France declares that China has no intention to encroach upon the internal affairs of Siberia or Russia.

CZECHS RECRUIT SLAVS.

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—According to the Moscow newspapers, the Czecho-Slovaks have mobilized the classes of 1912 to 1920 at Omsk and the classes of 1917 to 1919 at Kurghan. The workers and peasants, it is stated, protested strongly against this action. (Kurghan and Omsk are in Western Siberia.)

CZECHS TAKE BRIDGE.

LONDON, July 31.—The capture by the Czecho-Slovaks in a surprise attack of a large railway bridge at Syzran in the Volga region is reported in a Moscow dispatch transmitted by the Central News correspondent at Amsterdam.

This capture, the message says, secures to the Czecho-Slovaks in this region communication with Siberia.

The Soviet government at Moscow has issued a decree against anti-semitism, a Russian wireless message today announces.

There is no place in the Russian scheme for the oppression of nationalities, the decree declares. The Jewish bourgeoisie "is our enemy, not as Jews, but as bourgeoisie," it continues.

FIGHT POGROMS.

The decree invites the working classes to fight against pogroms. All instigators of pogroms and all anti-Semitic agitators will be regarded as outlaws, it is declared.

Official representatives of the Social Revolutionary and Social Democratic parties in Russia have arrived in Stockholm, says the correspondent, and have issued an appeal to the Socialists of Europe calling upon them to form an international commission to visit Russia and ascertain whether the Russian Socialists are not right in declaring that the Bolsheviki have brought widespread evils on Russia, destroyed industry, caused universal starvation, despotism.

Assassination.

GERMAN COMMANDER OF UKRAINE SLAIN BY BOMB.

Field Marshal Eichhorn and Adjutant are Revolutionists' Victims.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—Field Marshal Von Eichhorn, the German commander in the Ukraine, and his adjutant, Capt. Von Dressler, were killed by a bomb in Kiev Tuesday, says an official announcement received here from the Ukrainian capital.

The bomb was thrown at the men while they were driving to their headquarters from the Casino.

The bomb was thrown from a cab which drove close to their carriage as they were approaching the Field Marshal's residence.

The assassin and the cab driver have been arrested.

It has been established, the telegram declares, that the slaying originated with the Social Revolutionists in Moscow.

YOUTH IS ASSASSIN.

The assassin of Field Marshal Von Eichhorn was a lad of 23. He declared at the inquiry held after the killing, the advices state, that he came from the province of Ryazan, adjacent to Moscow, on orders from a communist committee, to kill the field marshal. He reached Kiev yesterday.

A Berlin official dispatch regarding the field marshal's death says that after he had received severe wounds on the left side, heart trouble set in and the means applied to strengthen the heart only gave temporary relief. Capt. Von Dressler, it is announced, died from loss of blood.

Inquiry shows, adds the message, that the assassin calls himself Boris Danskio, and that he was an agent of the Social Revolutionists of the Left of Moscow. He was furnished by the Central Committee of that faction with a bomb, a revolver and a supply of money, it is declared.

Emperor William, upon learning of the attempted assassination of Field Marshal Von Eichhorn and before being informed of the fatal termination of the attack, telegraphed the field marshal as follows, says a Berlin dispatch:

"My dear field marshal and general: I have learned with indignation and deep regret of the abominable crime committed against you and your adjutant. Be assured of my sincere and hearty sympathy. I hope and pray to God that you may be granted a speedy recovery. May He preserve you to us and the fatherland.

"With hearty greetings, your well disposed King.

WAR OFFICE STATEMENTS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, July 31.—American troops maintain their position in the region of Seringes-et-Nesles, which they carried after violent fighting, according to an official statement from the War Office today.

The Germans made four attacks against the new French positions east of Oulchy-le-Chateau. They were repulsed, and the French line was held intact.

The French and the Germans carried out raids at a number of other points on sectors east and west of the Marne salient, but there was no change in the general situation at these points.

The statement reads:

"After a heavy bombardment the Germans attacked the new French positions east of Oulchy-le-Chateau. Our troops repulsed four enemy assaults and maintained their lines intact.

"On the right bank of the Ourcq there were lively combats northeast of Fere-en-Tardenois. The village of Seringes-et-Nesles passed from hand to hand but was finally taken by American troops in a counter-attack.

"A number of raids were made by the Germans near Mesnil-St. Georges, west of Montdidier, in La Pretre Wood on the right bank of the Meuse and in the Vosges. They were without result. Our troops made a successful incursion into the German lines northeast of Perthes-les-Hurlus (in Champagne) and brought back prisoners. The night was quiet on the remainder of the front."

There was only artillery activity on the battle front Wednesday, according to the official communication issued this evening.

The text of the communication follows:

"On the whole front the day was marked by artillery actions.

"Between Montdidier and the Oise an enemy raid northward of Antheuil obtained no results."

AMERICAN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Repulse of enemy counter-attacks on the line of the Ourcq after severe fighting and improvement of the American positions there were reported in Gen. Pershing's communique for yesterday, received today at the War Department.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 31, (via London.)—"Quiet reigned throughout the day along the battle front," says the official statement from general headquarters this evening.

The German troops in the fighting of the past few days took more than 4000 prisoners from the Allied armies, increasing their captures to more than 24,000 since July 15, says the German official communication, issued today. The communication adds that on Tuesday, nineteen Allied airplanes were shot down and that everywhere Allied attacks on the Rheims-Soissons sector were repulsed with heavy losses. Admission is made, however, that the British have captured the village of Merris, southwest of Ypres.

The text of the communication follows:

"There has been very lively reconnoitering activity in Flanders. As the result of a renewed enemy attack on Merris, the place remained in his hands. North of Albert and south of the Somme there were strong artillery duels in the early morning.

(Section missing.)

"On the main battle front between Hartennes and west of Fere-en-Tardenois there was no activity on the part of the enemy's infantry yesterday after their defeat of Monday. A violent partial attack was repulsed before Sapnay (northwest of Fere-en-Tardenois.)

"Between Fere-en-Tardenois and the Dole Meuniere, the French and Americans again attacked, deeply echeloned, toward Midday. Their attacks broke down with sanguinary losses. Also in the wood itself assaults of the enemy, six times renewed, broke down.

"Our infantry frequently pursued the defeated enemy and obtained firm possession of the front territory of their lines.

"Eastward of Fere-en-Tardenois the enemy in the evening and during the night renewed his costly attacks without success. Enemy partial attacks near Romigny (southeast of Ville-en-Tardenois) broke down.

"During the last few days we have captured more than 4000 prisoners. This increased the number taken since the 15th to more than 24,000.

"Yesterday we shot down nineteen airplanes."

BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, July 31.—The German artillery displayed considerable activity last night in the region of Merris, on the Flanders front, taken yesterday by the Australians, and in the Kemmel sector, the War Office announced today. It was also active on both sides of the Somme.

Prisoners were taken in raids and patrol encounters in the Lens region and north of Bethune.

ITALIAN.

ROME, July 31.—An official statement, issued today by the Italian War Office, says:

"In the Daone Valley our troops have surprised an enemy advanced post and captured its occupants.

"In the Brenta Valley the enemy launched an attack in force against our line on the Cornone. After brisk hand-to-hand fighting the enemy was forced to retire, losing machine guns and flame projectors. A few prisoners remained in our hands.

"Five hostile airplanes have been brought down."

AUSTRIAN.

NEW ENGLAND COAL SUPPLY IN DANGER.

FUEL FOR WINTER THREATENED BY NEEDS OF GOVERNMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 30. — Increasing demands for coal from overseas and for the emergency fleet, army, navy and other government operations threaten the New England fuel supplw for next winter. Shipments to New England are now behind the schedule figured on the ration of production necessary to supply the needs of the district.

These facts were brought out at a conference attended by Chairman Baruch of the War Industries Board, Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board, representative of the Railroad Administration, and Fuel Administrator Garfield.

J. J. Storrow, Fuel Administrator for all of New England, is said to have represented at the meeting that the situation in New England would not permit any cutting of the allotment. This was in response to a suggestion that his territory had been granted a greater allowance than needed.

SECOND PRIMARY FOR TEXAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DALLAS, July 31.—A second Democratic primary will be held in Texas August 24 to decide nominees for Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney-General, Railroad Commissioner, State Controller, Associate Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals, and for nominees in the Second and Thirteenth Congress districts, as a result of leading candidates for those offices failing to receive a majority of the votes cast in the Democratic primary last Saturday.

STONE PREDICTS GERMAN FAMINE.

"Hunger Rock" Visible Above Surface of Water in Elbe River.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

AMSTERDAM, July 20, (by mail to New York, July 31.)—The famous "hunger stone" in the River Elbe, near Tetschen, which, according to the popular belief in Germany, predicts a famine when seen, is visible for the first time since the beginning of the war.

The stone lies in the bed of the river, and has never been visible save at exceptionally low tide. On the stone is chiseled in old German:

"When ye see me, ye will weep."

RIVERSIDE, July 31.—An alumnus of Sherman Institute, according to Supt. F. M. Conser, has made the supreme sacrifice for his country. Word has been received of the death in France of Mathew Juan, a Pima Indian, who won considerable fame as a pitcher on Sherman's baseball team. Juan was one of the survivors of the Tuscania, which was sunk off the Irish coast. His death was due to wounds received in battle.

When the escort arrived to take him to the place of execution, Nicholas vainly attempted to rise from his chair. The priest and a soldier were obliged to help him up to his feet. He descended the stairs with difficulty and once he fell down.

As he was unable to stand without support when the place of execution was reached, he was propped against a post. He raised his hands and seemed to be trying to speak, when the rifles spoke and he fell dead.

TWO GREEK MISSIONS SEEK TO HELP WAR

PARIS, July 31.—(Havas Agency.)—Two Grecian missions, one entrusted with a special mission to the Entente Powers, are in Paris. One is headed by Bishop Meletios, the Metropolitan of Athens, and the other is under the leadership of M. Kyriakides, ship owner and vice president of the Central Committee of Greek Irredentists.

They will leave soon for America. Bishop Meletios, in an interview with the Petit Parisien, declared his mission to America consisted in the task of uniting of the Greeks who have settled there and giving them an organization which will render them useful to their country.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, July 29 (delayed.)—If there still be people in America who think that the Central Empires should be spared to recover forces for a new effort, let them picture the Marne Valley as I shall here try to show it, and think of their own home towns in a similar condition.

At the approaches to the two main bridges across the Marne at Dormans, the picture of war's destruction reaches the acme of horror. Words cannot describe the confusion of twisted iron, splintered wood, hundreds of stricken horses stiffened in the incredible postures of their death agonies and the still ghastlier remains of what had once been men.

I crossed the river below Dormans and made my way through Passy, Treloup and Courcelles to Vincelles, which is perched on the hillside above the plain, opposite Dormans. Each village and the plain itself bore increasing evidence of the gallant advance of the scanty first French detachments and the bitter reluctance of the enemy, though dominated by superior artillery, to abandon the posts that gave the command of the Marne.

TENACIOUS BRUTE.

"I must admit that the Boche is a tenacious brute," said a French lieutenant just back from the firing line. "This guard division has been smashed to pieces, yet the remnant fights just as hard. Cornered rat, I suppose. Anyway, it shows that their discipline is still strong, that men will sell their lives thus without hope.

"Again and again we are delayed by a lone mitrailleuse in some unexpected place—the middle of a corn field, for instance—and have to wait until it is ousted by crossfire or grenades until the advance can proceed. Sometimes there are groups of them, and then we usually call on the artillery."

We were standing amid the ruins of Vincelles. Here death and devastation had reached their climax. Houses were smitten as by an earthquake and the road was blocked with debris. Every few yards stones were yellowed by mustard gas, and from each room or courtyard that remained intact dense swarms of flies rose at our approach in warning of sights it were better not to see.

"There are 400 or 500 dead Boches here," said the lieutenant calmly. "At least that. They were mostly killed by our shells, as there was little street fighting. We shall never be able to get them out of the rubbish for burial. To my mind the best thing would be to blot the whole place off the map with dynamite. Just look at that!"

WAR'S TROPHY.

"That" consisted of five blackened fingers of a German hand outstretched from a huge stone heap as if in final supplication. Such is war as Germany has brought it upon the world.

It is a mistake to suppose the battle is wholly progressing according to preconceived plans on both sides. True, each adversary has a fundamental scheme of endeavor, but the inevitable fluctations of the combat produce modifications from hour to hour. Opportunism—readiness to change plans when the occasion seems favorable—has been the marked feature of the German operations in the past ten days.

Both adversaries are "feeling each other's pulse," as a staff officer expressed it this morning, so as to take swift advantage of the first favorable sign. But always the situation is dominated by the fact that the Germans have suffered a costly and undeniable defeat.

It can be taken for granted that Hindenburg did his utmost to repair the damage by the new stroke. He may not dare risk it—or be strong enough to do so—but as things are today, it appears the likliest probability on the war chessboard.

Railroad Denies Closing of Hotels.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTREAL (Quebec) July 31.—Official denial is made by officials of the Canadian Pacific Railroad that the company intends closing some of its large hotels in the Canadian Rockies because of poor tourist traffic. It is declared that Banff and Lake Louise hostelries are full of visitors and will remain open as usual until the end of the season. For special reasons, it is stated, one of the smaller hotels at Glacier may be closed a fortnight earlier than usual.

German Train Collision Kills 30.

American regulars, under command of West Point officers, and the famous Rainbow Division are in a death struggle with the Prussian and Bavarian Guards for the possession of the ground immediately east of Fere-en-Tardenois. The blunt-pointed salient at the bottom of the map is becoming too hot for the Germans and another retirement northward is expected. The most desperate fighting seen during this offensive is now going on in the new salient whose point is at Nesles. The villages and roads at this point are taken and retaken every few hours as the combat rages back and forth.

DISQUE MAY HEAD NEW SPRUCE CORPORATION.

RYAN DISCUSSES FORMATION OF AIRCRAFT TIMBER PRODUCTION COMPANY.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 31. — A conference with Col. Brice P. Disque, head of the spruce production campaign in the Northwest, and a visit to the great cut-up plant at Vancouver, Wash., were features of today's programme for John D. Ryan, director of the Aircraft Board, and Maj.-Gen. Kenly, chief of the aircraft service, who are here for a two days' stay.

Formation of the spruce production corporation, recently organized by Congress, will be discussed by the aircraft officials, and it is expected that the management of the Vancouver mill will be taken from military hands once the corporation is organized. Should Col. Disque be named manager of the new corporation, it is declared, it would be necessary for him to resign from the army.

BELGIANS BOMBARD FOE SUPPLY LINES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31. — The weekly review of Belgian operations received today by the Belgian Legation says:

"The usual artillery activity continued along the entire line, the greatest intensity being south of the Yser. Several of our cantonments have been bombarded by artillery and aviators. Our fire has been directed chiefly toward the enemy's lines of communication. Our reconnoitering parties have been successful, notably so in the vicinity of Wieltje, where fifteen prisoners were captured; also near Langemarck and Dixmude. In front of Nieuport we drove off a strong German patrol.

SIGNIFICANT GAINS MADE ALONG AMERICAN FRONT.

Germans Abandon Hundreds of Tons of Ammunition in Retreat.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Tuesday, July 30.—Although the Allied gains during the last twenty-four hours may seem small, some of them have been exceedingly significant, telegraphs Reuter's correspondent at the American front in France. The chief feature of the recent fighting, he says, is the French advance from Oulchy-le-Chateau, which carried the villages of Grand Rozoy and Cugny and swept the Germans off the Butte of Chalmont.

German guns on the Butte of Chalmont had hurled a crossfire upon the advancing French and American troops in the Valley of the Ourcq. The French now from this hill should be able to clear the angle between the Soissons-Chateau Thierry road and the railroad between Oulchy-le-Chateau and Fismes and bring much-needed assistance to the Americans in Seringes.

MUNITIONS LOST.

The correspondent writes:

"The enemy may certainly plume himself on his retirement according to plan, but it can scarcely be according to plan that he left hundreds of tons of ammunition behind him. There is as yet no conception of the enormous figures to which these losses in materials of war will run. The enemy has moved his guns wonderfully well, but his gunners have been warned to be sparing of ammunition and to fire only when necessary to support his infantry."

BRITISH WIN GLORY.

LONDON, July 31.—Monday's attack on the front east of Oulchy-le-Chateau, in which Grand Rozoy and the Butte of Chalmont were captured, was carried out by British and French divisions, the British, according to a French staff officer, bearing the hardest part of the work and fighting brilliantly, says the correspondent of the Daily Mail with the French armies.

"The British," the correspondent writes, "were on the left of the French action as a flank guard on Sunday when the attack was begun. The divisions met with strong resistance, but the French reached their objectives.

"On the second day the British made the chief attack, the French this time acting as a flank guard. The British objective was the line of heights beyond Grand Rozoy.

OBJECTIVES GAINED.

"In the early morning the attack went forward most satisfactorily, the British carrying the first line and woods east of the road and taking Grand Rozoy. Beugneux, however, was very strongly held, the enemy being determined to make a stand there.

"At 2:30 o'clock another attack was made, the British advancing over open ground sloping gradually up to the enemy's position. The French describe this attack as particularly brilliant.

"The advancing line was black with smoke of bursting shells, but the troops gained the woods and some of the important heights to the north, where they are now holding the line."

Aerial Warfare.

ALLIED AIRPLANES DROP TWENTY TONS OF BOMBS.

PARIS, July 31. — During the fighting on July 28 and 29, the Allied aviators were active along the whole front of the battle between the Aisne and the Marne, according to the Havas correspondent at the front.

On July 28, French and British bombing planes dropped over twenty tons of projectiles upon cantonments and roads in the Ardre and Vesle valleys and upon railroad stations and military objectives in the same region. Only July 29 and the following night thirty-six tons of bombs were dropped, fires and explosions being caused.

There were many aerial combats during the course of which fourteen enemy machines were shot down or forced to land disabled.

GOVERNMENT TO RECRUIT LABOR.

Federal Agents to Take Over Work in All States.

Unskilled Men Apportioned Where Need is Shown.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Federal government will tomorrow take over in every State in the Union the recruiting of common labor for the furtherance of the war. Labor requirements for war industries have been apportioned to the various States on a basis of population, and as men are needed they will move forward to meet the demand. The aim is to eliminate the turnover, stabilize wages, increase the production of essentials, and give efficient support to the man in the trenches, who needs from six to ten men to work for him every day.

Announcement of this plan was made at a luncheon given in New York to Secretary of Labor Wilson by Grosvenor B. Clarkson, secretary of the Council of National Defense, to a gathering of newspaper publishers.

Independent recruiting of common labor by plants employing over 100 men will be diverted to the United States employment service, and there will be restrictions upon private advertising for labor. The project will be conducted with the least possible injury to labor.

The country has been divided into thirteen districts, each district in charge of a superintendent of employment service. The States within each district are in turn in charge of a State director.

In each community there has been formed a local labor board with jurisdiction over recruiting and distributing in its locality. These boards will, if necessary, ask employers of non-war workers to give up labor to meet the needed requirements for war purposes.

SHIPPING STRIKE TIES UP URUGUAYAN PORTS.

MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay) Tuesday, July 30.—This port is completely paralyzed today by a strike of 8000 laborers connected with shipping. Even the crews of a steamer and government vessels sent to the rescue of a wrecked vessel left their posts.

The strikers are urging a sympathetic walkout in Buenos Aires in an effort to stop all coastwise traffic.

The national troops have been put on strike duty.

WHY SLOW NOW OVER MOONEY?

Fickert Comments on Change in Stephens's Attitude.

Governor Hasty in June to Deliberate Six Months.

But Case will be Issue Even After Election.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Dist.-Atty. Fickert, discussing the reprieve given Thomas J. Mooney until December 13, said today:

"What shall be done with Tom Mooney has become an issue in the campaign and were I Governor there would be no groping about for middle ground. The date of execution would remain August 23.

"Gov. Stephens takes the position that he will require all the time until December 13 to decide what to do. I recollect that in our correspondence referring to the filing of my brief setting forth my reasons why executive clemency should not be shown Mooney he advised that 'there should be no undue delay.'

"On June 5, he wired me that he desired the brief to be in his hands by June 8. Three days he gave me. He then was in great haste. June 8 was Saturday. I filed on the following Monday, June 10.

"So it appears that he wants more than six months to make up his mind. The June fever for haste has disappeared.

"It has been suggested that he might have set down August 23 or possibly November 6 as dates on which to more fully express his mature conclusion, but a commentator adds: 'Or, far better still, why not do right now that which you probably already have made up your mind to do after the election is over?'

"But, even after the election is over, Mooney and his ilk will remain issues the people cannot escape."

CONGRESSMEN GUESTS OF BRITISH NATION.

RECEPTION BY KING OF ENGLAND IS PLANNED AT BUCKINGHAM.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, July 31.—The members of the Military Committee of the House of Representatives returned to London today after experiencing the thrills of war at Dover during their inspection of the naval defenses. The committee will be received by King George at Buckingham Palace, tomorrow.

The members of the committee, who are guests of the British nation, were warmly received at Dover by Admiral Sir Roger Keyes, commander of the channel fleet. They dined on board his flagship last night. During the afternoon the committee witnessed an interesting programme of naval activities, which included the work of speed boats in making smoke screens. They took a short trip in one of the new anti-submarine boats and saw several monitors which had just arrived from service on the Belgian coast.

The Americans were so elated by their experience that it was arranged to take members of the party for flights in airplanes at Hendon this afternoon. The Congressmen will be entertained at dinner at the House of Commons tomorrow night.

During their tours of inspection the committee has met many heroes of recent naval engagements, as well as those who participated in the operations at Zeebrugge and Ostend.

LABOR BOARD DELAYS MINIMUM WAGE PLAN.

UNWISE TO MAKE ORDERS BASED ON NORMAL TIMES, SAYS DECISION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31.—A minimum wage to be applied throughout industry will not be established at this time by the War Labor Board.

In making this announcement today the board said wage controversies will be considered individually as heretofore.

Hearings on the question of a minimum wage had been held and the board was expected to establish a minimum in the near future.

The board's decision was set forth in a unanimous resolution declaring: "It would be unwise to make orders in this interregnum based on approved views of progress in normal times, which, under war conditions, might seriously impair the present economic structure of our country."

Declaring the period of the war not to be a normal period of industrial expansion, the resolution says "The employer does not expect unusual profits or the employees abnormal wages. Capital should only have such reasonable return as will assure its use for the world's and nation's cause, while the physical well-being of labor and its physical and mental effectiveness in a comfort reasonable in view of the exigencies of the war, should likewise be assured."

Employees and workers were called upon to compose their differences in accord with the principles laid down in President Wilson's labor proclamation last April 8.

ANOTHER LETTER BY HANDS-UP LANSDOWNE.

MARQUIS'S EFFORT APATHETICALLY RECEIVED BY BRITISH PEOPLE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, July 31.—Another letter upon peace prospects, written by the Marquis of Lansdowne, was read at a conference of his supporters today.

Lord Lansdowne is the only British statesman of first rank who is listed in his own country and abroad as a pacifist, and it is thought his words will be given the greatest publicity in the countries of the Central Powers, where it is insisted they represent a powerful portion of British thought.

The new Lansdowne letter has been apathetically received in political circles. The general Parliamentary opinion is said to be well summarized in the comment of one member of the House of Commons: "The letter is simply an elongation of Lansdowne's previous pronouncement, but it is an elongation leading nowhere."

AUSTRIAN FOOD PERIL PAST, SAYS MINISTER.

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—The food crisis in Austria is almost overcome and presumably will never recur, says Food Minister Paul, according to the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna. He says that harvest prospects are promising and that the situation, especially as to fodder, is better than the previous year. A note of warning, however, is sounded by the Minister, who says:

"There must be the greatest economy. The food department will make an effort to have sufficient supplies for the whole population of Austria as a basis for the joint plan of action with Germany and Hungary to defeat the Entente Allies' starvation plan. We have arrived at an understanding with Hungary, and Germany has recently proved her loyalty in this important domain."

ONE FAMILY FARMS, SOLDIERS AID PLAN.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 31.—Representatives of the Oregon Land Settlement Commission and the Washington State Land Settlement Association conferred here today in an effort to formulate a general plan upon which lands may be apportioned for settlement after the end of the war.

The Oregon commission has developed a "one-family-farm-unit" plan, which was favorably regarded by the Washington Commissioners, and it was decided that this plan be laid before California and other far Western State organizations and that if approved generally, it be taken to the International Irrigation Congress at its meeting to be held next October.

The plan contemplates the apportionment of the lands in small tracts among as many families of remaining soldiers and sailors as possible.

ORDERS 510 ENGINES, 10,000 CARS FOR WAR.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The War Department has ordered 510 locomotives for military railroads in France from the Baldwin Locomotive Works at a total cost of about $25,000,000, it was announced today. About 10,000 freight cars for service in France, costing about $18,000,000, will be ordered within a few days.

The locomotives will be of the American mogul consolidation type, weighing 270,000 pounds, and will cost about $50,000 each. Delivery will be started about the first of January.

All except 400 of the freight cars to be ordered will be of the box gondola type, and will be only about two-thirds as heavy as the average car used on American railways. The others will be tank cars. The individual cost is about $1800 each.

British Munitions Strike Ended.

LONDON, July 31.—The strike of munition workers caused by the government embargo on skilled labor is definitely ended.

MEXICAN REBELS GET SHIPLOAD OF GUNS.

CARGO UNLOADED ON WEST COAST FOR SONORA REVOLUTIONISTS, REPORT.

EL PASO, July 31.—A ship loaded with ammunition, machine guns and mountain artillery unloaded its cargo at a Mexican west coast port for the Sonora revolutionists, according to a report received here today by Federal agents. The ammunition was said to have been brought for the Felix Diaz movement on the west coast of Mexico, but was resold to the agents of Juan G. Gabrel and Julian Medina, who have started a movement against the Federal government in that State.

The headquarters of the revolutionary forces is at Sierra Azul, Sonora, where the two leaders are said to have more than 1000 troops, including many Yaqui Indians.

The restoration of the constitution of 1857 is the purpose of the new movement, according to a manifesto issued at Sierra Azul on July 14.

ORANGE SPEEDERS BROUGHT TO BAY.

FINE AND JAIL SENTENCES IMPOSED BY FULLERTON RECORDER ON TWO MEN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, July 31.—Two men charged with driving automobiles while intoxicated were given jail sentences by City Recorder Knowlton of Fullerton today. The first of these was G. W. Jones, formerly of Hollywood, but more recently of Placentia, where he has been engaged in raising tomatoes. His fine was fixed at $250 and ninety days in jail. This is the heaviest fine ever imposed in Orange county for such an offense.

The second victim was Ignacio Mares, who was given a six months' jail sentence. The latter escaped arrest by an officer at Anaheim, but was later placed in custody at Fullerton.

BAKER DENIES LARGE SHIP CONSTRUCTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Secretary Baker today denied published reports that the War Department is constructing on its own account several large ships. The only construction undertaken, he said, was that of a few small mine sweepers and quartermaster supply boats, which had been included in the department's activities before the war.

CATHOLICS ARRESTED, JAILED BY MEXICANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, July 31.—Five high church officials in the State of Jalisco, Mexico, have been arrested and thrown into prison, according to a report received here today. Their arrest followed the arrest and deportation of Archbishop Francisco Orozco y Jimenez, of Guadalajara. Friction between the church and state was given as the reason for the arrest.

Accident Kills Topekan in France.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 31.—Lieut. Phil Billard of Topeka was killed in an airplane accident in France July 25, according to a cablegram received by Robert Billard, his brother. Lieut. Billard took up flying as a sport several years ago, and at the outbreak of the war entered the military service. After having been stationed in California several months he was sent to France. J. B. Billard, former Mayor of Topeka, is his father.

FRANCE HONORS OTTO KAHN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 31.—The French government has conferred upon Otto H. Kahn, American banker, the decoration of chevalier of the Legion of Honor in recognition of his services on behalf of the Allied cause both before and since America entered the war, it was announced here today. This is regarded as an unusual distinction for the reason that few civilian appointments to the Legion of Honor are being made in war time.

Austrian Demand for Polish Threatens Chasm.

Dobrudja Solution Required to Satisfy Turks.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright.]

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—Trouble admittedly is brewing between the Central Powers, first between Germany and Austria over the Polish question, and also between Bulgaria and Turkey regarding the Dobrudja. Every possible solution to both questions has been repeatedly discussed between the four governments, but no agreement is likely to be reached. Germany will not hear of Austrian annexation of Poland in any form whatever, whereas Austria contemplates the bringing of the "kingdom" of Poland under the Hapsburg sceptre as a "vital necessity."

It was hoped in Germany that once Czernin had resigned no more would be heard of "an Austro-Polish" solution of the Polish question, and thus Austria was permitted to annex important Rumanian [illegible] under the pretext of the "safety of her frontiers."

It appears from an inspired article by Emil Zimmerman in Monday's Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, that Count Burian is just as anxious as Czernin about the Austrian-Polish solution, over which Austria is most likely to remain most oblique.

No peaceful solution is in sight regarding the Turkish-Bulgarian Dobrudja and Adrianople difficulties. Feeling is rising high in both Sofia and Constantinople. The Turks are accusing Bulgarians as being "tools of Germans of the Balkans," while the Bulgarians are saying equally hard things about the Turks.

Zimmerman urges the Central Powers not to fight among themselves during the war, for others gain "what they have so far managed to gain will probably be lost."

Aviators Make Rapid Flight.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, July 31 (Havas Agency).—Two aviators are reported to have made a flight from Paris to St. Nazaire and return in five hours and fifty minutes, including a stop of three-quarters of an hour at St. Nazaire. The distance of the round trip was about 475 miles.

Lieut. Cecil S. Huntington of Bay City is Killed in Airplane Accident in France.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Lieut. Cecil S. Huntington, local athlete and, prior to his enlistment with the Signal Corps of the army, employed at Huntington Beach, Cal., was killed in France in an airplane accident on July 25, according to advices received here tonight by his sister, Miss Helen Huntington.

Lieut. Huntington was born in National City, Cal. He formerly attended the University of California. His sister is his sole surviving relative.

MARINE'S COMMANDER HEADS ARMY SUPPLIES.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, July 30.—Maj.-Gen. James G. Harbord, former chief of staff to Gen. Pershing, has been appointed head of the supply service of the American Expeditionary Forces. He succeeds Maj.-Gen. Francis J. Kernan, who will undertake other important work in Europe.

Maj.-Gen. Harbord commanded the brigade of marines in the fighting about Chateau Thierry, previous to the present battle. He was promoted maor-general on June 28.

New Shipmasters Named.

SEATTLE, July 31.—New masters for government vessels were announced today by E. J. Griffith, director of the sea service bureau of the United States Shipping Board, as follows: Capt. Edwin B. Hoffman, steel steamer Western Cross; Capt. George Leighton, wood steamer Calala; Capt. Otto M. Bratrud, wood steamer Colusa; Capt. L. A. Bowman, wood steamer Bonnafon. The Western Cross has been assigned to the United States and Australasian line of New York and will be loaded here by the Robert Dollar Company. The three wooden vessels will be made ready by W. C. Dawson & Co., Seattle, for their voyages to San Francisco, where they will be turned over to the Matson Navigation Company for the Hawaiian trade.

Lincoln Instructors Exonerated.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) July 31.—Exoneration of charges that they had spread unfounded suspicions against fellow-instructors and the university was given Dr. F. M. Fling and Prof. Minnie T. England tonight by the board of regents of the University of Nebraska as the result of an investigation of testimony submitted by them during the recent hearing of charges of faltering Americanism brought against several members of the university faculty.

A Voice from the Battlefields of France —Pershing Speaks

That not only the indomitable spirit of America's own General John J. Pershing shall steel every American to "carry on" in this great crisis in world's history, but that his very words shall speak to us from the battlefields of France is the latest triumph of the talking machine. In crisp soldierly fashion this grim, iron-gray man sends his voice across the sea with a message to mothers, wives, fathers and children from the shell torn battlefields of France. It is accomplished by a phonograph record reproducing the living voice of America's idol who is making history today.

History in a phonograph record! That was achieved at the height of the offensive in Picardy when two million Huns surged toward Amiens and the Allies fought madly to hold them. General Pershing at that time sent into the horn of a recording instrument a message that is an inspiration to every American. Thus in his own ringing voice he speaks to us all here as the beloved commander of mother's sons who are giving their all to make the world a decent place to live in.

Think of the inspiration to be got by your son, brother, husband or sweetheart in camp if you send him one of these records enabling him to listen to the voice of his revered leader, General John J. Pershing.

This latest of all records is being sold at the Platt Music Company, 622 South Broadway, next to the Orpheum. It can be played on any talking machine. Send one of these records to your son, brother, husband or sweetheart in camp and let him be inspired by the voice of his revered commander. On every one of these records appears a fac-simile of General Pershing's famous signature. On the other side, Ambassador Gerard speaks on "Loyalty." The man the Kaiser could not bluff drives home with his sincere manner of speech what loyalty is. This record is the beginning of a series of records by the world's greatest leaders to be issued by the Nation's Forum as a weekly service. Make reservations now. Owing to the difficulty in securing these Pershing records, the supply is limited. Mail and mail orders will be filled in order they are received. All the records will be sold at the Platt Music Company.—[Advertisement.

Germany Faces Disaffection in Two Directions.

Austrian Demand for Poland Threatens Chasm.

Dobrudja Solution Required to Satisfy Turks.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright.]

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—Trouble admittedly is brewing between the Central Powers, first between Germany and Austria over the Polish question, and also between Bulgaria and Turkey regarding the Dobrudja. Every possible solution to both questions has been repeatedly discussed between the four governments, but no agreement is likely to be reached. Germany will not hear of Austrian annexation of Poland in any form whatever, whereas Austria considers the bringing of the "kingdom" of Poland under the Hapsburg sceptre as a "vital necessity."

It was hoped in Germany that once Czernin had resigned no more would be heard of "an Austro-Polish" solution of the Polish question, and thus Austria was permitted to annex important Rumanian lands under the pretext of the "safety of her frontiers."

It appears from an inspired article by Emil Zimmerman in Monday's Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, that Count Burian is just as anxious as Czernin about the Austrian-Polish solution, over which Austria seems likely to remain most oblique.

No peaceful solution is in sight regarding the Turkish-Bulgarian, Dobrudja and Adrianople difficulties. Feeling is rising high in both Sofia and Constantinople. The Turks are accusing Bulgarians as being "the Germans of the Balkans," while the Bulgarians are saying equally hard things about the Turks.

Zimmerman urges the Central Powers not to fight among themselves during the war, for otherwise "what they have so far managed to gain will probably be lost."

A Voice from the Battlefields of France —Pershing Speaks

That not only the indomitable spirit of America's own General John J. Pershing shall steel every American to "carry on" in this great crisis in the world's history, but that his very voice shall speak to us from the battlefields of France is the latest triumph of the talking machine. In crisp soldierly terms this grim, iron-gray man sends his voice across the sea with a message to fathers, wives, fathers and children from the shell torn battlefields of France. It is accomplished by a phonograph record reproducing the living voice of America's idol who is making history today.

History on a phonograph record that was achieved at the height of the offensive in Picardy when two million Huns surged toward Amiens and the Allies fought madly to hold the line. General Pershing at that time spoke into the horn of a recording instrument a message that is an inspiration to every American. Thus in his own ringing voice he speaks to us over the seas as the beloved commander of our brother's sons who are giving their all to make the world a decent place to live in.

Think of the inspiration to be gained by your son, brother, husband or sweetheart in camp if you send him one of these records enabling him to listen to the voice of his revered leader, General John J. Pershing.

ANOTHER FAKE WAR WORK HIT.

Authorities Order Large Sum Turned Over.

Ambulances that Never Got to France Involved.

Fair "Rookies" Alleged Financially Plucked.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 31.—Another "war charity" went into the discard here today, when Dist.-Atty. Swan ordered Miss Ethel Langdon Drake to turn over to French Ambassador Jusserand $14,000 which had been collected for the ostensible purpose of equipping twenty-five ambulance units for the Sixth Army of France, and to discontinue her war charity activities in America.

Simultaneously, Miss Virginia K. Chandler, captain in the "Drake Section Sanitaire," which was to operate the twenty-five ambulances, announced that a training camp of nineteen young women at Bayside, L. I., under her command, had been disbanded, and she had resigned her commission. All of the young women are said to be from families of wealth and social prominence.

Dist.-Atty. Swan said his interest in the "section sanitaire" grew out of the fact that Miss Drake had ordered no ambulances, though she had advertised that she had given twenty-five to France and wanted to send 1000 drivers.

Miss Drake admitted, Mr. Swan said, that she had received from $75 to $175 each from the young women "rookies" in the training camp to defray expenses. She turned over to the District Attorney's office $900 worth of diamonds which had been given her by Miss Gladys Rhoades of Omaha as a guarantee that her camp fees would be paid.

Miss Drake said that she had recently succeeded in getting Mrs. William J. Gavin, the golf champion, to arrange tourneys for the benefit of the "section sanitaire," and that $9000 raised thus in San Francisco is on its way to New York. Most of the information about Miss Drake was given the District Attorney by Mrs. S. J. Symonds, wife of a British army major, who said she had come to America with Miss Drake and had turned over to her a $1500 monthly allowance and a quantity of jewelry, as well as the French war cross given her for her relief work.

Miss Drake and Mrs. Symonds were living together at the Ritz-Carlton, which also was headquarters of the "section sanitaire." Mrs. Symonds, who was in tears when she left Mr. Swan's office, said she feared she was hopelessly estranged from her husband.

Young women who were in training at the camp included Miss Ethel M. Tobin, San Antonio, Tex.; Miss Dixie Gerard, New York; Mrs. Beatrice Price, St. Louis; Mrs. Eleanor G. Griffin, Detroit; Mrs. Eleanor Farley, Boston, and Mrs. Helen Cole, Battle Creek, Mich.

Twelfth Clearance

Commencing—

This Morning

At 9 o'Clock

—the first business hour of Bullock's 12th Clearance—and—

THOUSANDS ARE COMING

—Which assertion is made upon the basis of those who have been within the various sections of the store this week—taking notes—making plans—voicing their enthusiasm—and there are many, many more who have seen the windows, and written, and telephoned—and there are many, many more who know Bullock's 12th Clearance to be the kind of event it is—in very truth

"The One Sale of the Year"

—Because they knew Bullock's 11th and 10th and 9th Clearances, and their genuineness, and sincerity, and difference—because they know that no Bullock's Clearance has failed to add to the records and prestige of the years that have gone before.

—So that there is really little more that need be said—except perhaps in emphasis of the generalness of this sale—of its great depth and breadth and scope—as it concerns every section of the store—of the unusualness of its values that have been months in the gathering, that in many instances are marked at much lower prices than Bullock's could repurchase the same items again today—that in some cases are perfectly impossible to duplicate at any price (i. e., particularly certain lace jackets, linens, trimmings, et al.) that in every case (under the banner of Bullock's 12th Clearance) are worth most serious consideration.

—There are suits and dresses and coats; silks and woolens and cottons; linens and bedding; furniture, rugs and draperies; blouses, neckwear and hosiery; gloves, jewelry, handkerchiefs, leather goods and footwear; men's furnishings—and everything that Bullock's carries represented in some superlatively attractive form.

—There is interest supreme and enough of it, and more than enough for all.

—There are those Handkerchiefs, for example—and the Ribbons! (phenomena, if you please).

—There are the Children's Dresses and the Boys' Suits; the Silk Underwear and the beautiful Lingerie.

—There is that Carload of Wardrobe Trunks, supported by battalions of Handbags, Suitcases, etc.—all measuring up to Bullock's Clearance—in quality as in price—(which brings to mind that very important fact that Bullock's Clearance is as positive about and insistent upon standards and character as are Bullock's regular stocks—There is certain merchandise that is not permitted the privilege of entering Bullock's Clearance at any price.)

—There is that spirit of Bullock's which is the spirit of service that is dominant now as at all times—that spirit which is appreciative of its duty to you, that is cognizant of its responsibilities, and glad of its opportunities.

—So that in spite of the striking lowness of prices that are in evidence everywhere throughout the store, in every instance your purchasing interests have been considered and safeguarded.

—Such is the personality of Bullock's 12th Clearance—the One Sale of the Year—that will make itself known to you most graphically at 9 o'clock this morning.

—Consider it seriously as you will—it would be difficult to exaggerate its importance—Do not permit yourself to underestimate—for it is not an ordinary occurrence in any sense of the word.

Please!—

—Allow as much time as possible for the delivery of Clearance merchandise, which will be delivered as quickly as possible (you know it is "One Delivery a Day" now, in accord with our Government's request.)

—Please Do Not Send Telephone or Mail Orders for Clearance Merchandise

—If you are a dealer please do not expect to participate in Clearance offerings.

—Please understand the spirit in which Bullock's reserves the right to limit purchases of all kinds to certain minimum quantities.

—It will be Bullock's endeavor to maintain "Service to Satisfaction" at a high standard—

—Thank You!

SOLDIER FOUND DEAD AT BEACH.

Shot Himself Accidentally, Captain's Belief.

Divers Fail to Find Trace of Pickell's Body.

Storm and Tide Produce Marine Sensations.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, July 31.—Killed by a ball from his own rifle and without any apparent motive of suicide, Private Charles L. Mowery of Co. D, Twenty-first Infantry, was found dead today in a searchlight tower on the Long Beach municipal docks.

Capt. J. C. Johnson, commanding officer of Co. D, said he felt sure the shooting was accidental. "Private Mowery was always a notably cheerful man and was an ideal soldier," the captain declared. "I feel sure he had no suicidal intentions."

The bullet entered the soldier's head just above his left eye and blew the back of his head off. Capt. Johnson said he thought that the youth had failed to throw the safety catch of his rifle on and that the weapon was discharged accidentally while in such a position that the barrel was pointed toward his head.

Private Mowery was 20 years old and enlisted from Baker, Or., where his mother resides.

NO TRACE YET.

Police and divers have failed to find any trace as yet of the body of Verne Pickell, 18 years old, who fell from the Jackrabbit racing coaster on the Silver Spray pier last night into the ocean. Young Pickell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Pickell of No. 328 Linden avenue. The youth leaves, in addition to his parents, a brother, Jack, employed by the roller coaster company, and a sister, Miss Thelma.

"I've seen Verne jump from one train to another at that curve where he fell last night lots of times," said Miss Merna Jolley, a girl friend, who was on the train that knocked the youth from the structure, today. "I thought he was planning to do that again last night because, when I looked ahead, I saw him standing upright in the car and looking back toward me. I didn't see Verne leave his car, but I saw him fall right in front of mine. I think he lost his balance before he was ready to jump."

PRODUCE SENSATIONS.

Some of the biggest ground swells in years, impelled by a storm at sea and comparatively high tides, are now battering the Long Beach ocean front. While the tides this week are not the highest of the year, the combination of circumstances is producing some sensational marine manifestations. Enormous combers throw their spray fifty and seventy-five feet over the recently completed bulkhead on West Seaside boulevard.

VENICE JUDGE GIVES DRUGGIST STIFF FINE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, July 31.—James Alexander Johnson of Toronto, a druggist, was today fined $300 by Judge Rennie in Police Court when found guilty of a disturbance of the peace charge. Johnson came up for sentence today after a hearing last week in which it was testified that he had said American soldiers did little else in France than to parade up and down in Paris and salute the American flag, and that there was too much German influence in Washington.

Johnson succeed in the effort to have the charge against him changed from seditious utterances to disturbance of the peace on the ground that he did not wish a stigma to rest against his name.

He was arrested nearly a month ago by the Venice police for making alleged seditious statements.

SAWTELLE'S TRUSTEES STILL HOLD MEETINGS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAWTELLE, July 30.—There is a hydra head to the city government of erstwhile Sawtelle. However, little or no confusion is attending the semi-dual administration. Los Angeles city is in full charge of the reins, as decreed by vote of the people of the town at the annexation election, but the City Trustees continue to meet regularly, just as they did before Los Angeles took possession—forcible occupation is the term applied by the Trustees to the act of Los Angeles in taking possession of her newly annexed district.

The Trustees meet and go through the formality of transacting business, and that is all it amounts to, for they have no treasury, no funds, no police, no court, no fire department, no City Hall. Their meetings are held at the home of the former City Clerk, Rev. E. W. Mecum. City Treasurer H. C. Head stands ready to accept the city coin, but it comes not. City Marshal J. C. TenEyck still claims to be in office, but he has doffed the gay regalia and no longer attempts to maintain the peace and dignity of the city. After the City Trustees lost their second battle for the City Hall they surrendered the trenches. At the first conflict they lost all ways of lighting the building, and the second battle ended when the Trustees found that the locks on the office doors had been changed—their keys didn't fit. Their failure to gain the list of voters precluded the holding of the regular city election, so the membership of the Council was rejuvenated by appointment.

Then the matter went to the Superior Court. Here Sawtelle city lost. The suit was carried on appeal to the Supreme Court, and there it is resting, while Los Angeles county is holding the sack—and the sack is full of gold, for the county was collecting the taxes for the city when the annexation put Sawtelle out of business.

Business men and bus drivers recognize Los Angeles city, although some of them pay their vocation licenses under feeble protest. Only one refused to pay. After a few days spent in jail he reconsidered his action.

Los Angeles this week asked the citizens to suggest new names for the streets of the town, but the people told the officers that the old names would serve the purpose until after the Supreme Court had spoken. They promise to cling to the old names, regardless of any action Los Angeles may take. Meantime, the primary election is approaching and the several candidates for police judge in Los Angeles are looking after their political fences in Sawtelle, holding the brief that Sawtelle, being now a part of Los Angeles, is entitled to vote for city officials.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, July 31.—Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, for the past two years pastor of the First Methodist Church in Glendale, has been selected as one of the members of the Southern California conference to receive a commission as army chaplain. It has been the personal desire of Bishop Leonard, it is said, that Rev. Snudden should accept the commission when he received it, but, though he has now been offered the position, Rev. Snudden feels that he could do more constructive work as a Y.M.C.A. worker, and will probably leave for active service soon after returning from his vacation. He left Glendale yesterday evening, following an interview in which he stated that he had decided definitely to give up the commission and accept the Y.M.C.A. work instead.

Mrs. Grace C. Dorris of Bakersfield Seeks Election to California Assembly.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, July 31.—While her husband is fighting in the trenches to make the world safe for liberty-loving nations, Mrs. Grace C. Dorris of Bakersfield, graduate of the Santa Barbara High School, is in the center of a hot political scrap in Bakersfield, ambitious to serve her country in the Assembly. If elected, Mrs. Dorris will be California's first Assemblywoman. Mrs. Dorris is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Green, well-known Santa Barbara residents and prominent in G.A.R. circles. She is a graduate of the University of California and an instructor in modern and Latin languages.

Her husband, W. C. Dorris, graduated from the law school of the University of Southern California, had entered the Assembly campaign in Bakersfield, when he decided to give up political aspirations and withdrew to enter the army. It was then that the wife's friends urged her into the race to carry out her husband's legislative ideas, and she has consented.

Mrs. Dorris has the honor of being the youngest graduate of the Santa Barbara High, taking her diploma in 1903, when but 16. She is dividing her time between campaigning for the Assembly and assisting her husband's law partner, R. W. Henderson, Bakersfield's blind lawyer.

USING WATER POWER TO CONSERVE FUEL.

NEW ONTARIO PLANT WILL SAVE 15,000 BARRELS OF OIL, DECLARED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, July 31.—That the Ontario Power Company, in the construction of its new $60,000 generating plant in San Antonio Canyon, work on which has just started, is acting in direct co-operation with the United States government in its campaign to conserve fuel, and that the new plant will result in an annual saving of more than 15,000 barrels of fuel oil, was the declaration of Glenn D. Smith, general manager of the company, today.

In discussing the matter, Mr. Smith called attention to the great shortage of coal and oil last year and pointed out that the situation is rapidly becoming more critical, particularly with the great quantities of ships being built in the United States, which will require great amounts of fuel, not only for the duration of the war, but afterwards, since the United States will in the future largely control the seas.

"The government is urging the development of water power for generating electric current," said Mr. Smith, "and the use of such current to replace fuels used in producing power from steam plants, gasoline and oil engines and also to replace fuels used in cooking and heating. A large number of homes in the Ontario section have for years used electricity for cooking with splendid results.

"All of the current generated at the new plant of the Ontario Power Company will replace current now generated by steam, and the saving of fuel oil will equal about 15,000 barrels a year, or, at the present price, $24,000 per annum. We, of course, generate no power by steam, but the new power will replace that which we are now obliged to buy from outside companies using steam, and we can sell our surplus to them.

"The new plant will have a capacity of 550 horse power. The water will be taken from the San Antonio Creek near Camp Baldy and conveyed through pipe lines to the power-house, located just above Hog's Back. The plant will be a novel one, inasmuch as it will be operated by 'remote control,' being handled by the attendants at power-house No. 1, three and a half miles down the canyon. This is along the line of efficiency and economical operation."

The new power-house is to be of reinforced concrete with concrete roof, and will be absolutely fireproof.

PUENTE IMPROVEMENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PUENTE, July 31.—Work has been started on the addition to the First National Bank Building, also on a warehouse to be erected by the Puente Mercantile Company. While excavating a basement for the La Puente Valley Walnut Growers' Association packing-house recently, a large steam boiler was found buried several feet below the surface. It will be sold and the proceeds turned in to the Red Cross.

OFFICER ARRESTED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ARTESIA, July 30.—Frank Freeman, deputy constable of Norwalk township, was arrested today on a charge of intoxication while on duty. The warrant came from the justice court of Whittier and was served by Constable Way. Freeman was released on bonds and his preliminary hearing will be held next week.

NAVAL RESERVES CALLED FOR DUTY ON TRANSPORTS

Navy is to Operate All Vessels Moving Troops and Supplies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31.—In accordance with the prearranged plan for the navy to take over control of all shipping engaged in transporting troops and war supplies, orders have been issued by the Navy Department calling several thousand reservists into active duty. The number called, it was stated officially today, was limited only by the available facilities for handling them at the naval training stations.

After undergoing a few weeks' intensive training, the men will be organized into crews, which will be utilized to replace the civilians now manning the troop and supply ships, and for the vessels that are constantly being turned over to the navy under its own construction programme.

To hasten the process of transferring the military tonnage, heads of the various departmental bureaus have inaugurated a strict canvass of the men on shore duty in their organizations to determine how many can be spared for service with ships of troops.

WOMEN FILL POSTS.

At Marine Corps headquarters, orders have been issued to replace every man whose place can be filled with a woman. The men will be sent to one of the corps' stations for duty with a unit.

Similarly Rear-Admiral McGowan, paymaster-general of the navy, has started a campaign for the reduction in the number of petty officers, yeomen and enlisted men who are filling clerical positions in the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. The Bureau of Navigation, under Rear-Admiral Palmer, was the first to undertake this step, as a result of which several hundred men will be added to the forces available for service at sea.

Only employees whose loss would retard ship production will retain "emergency-fleet" deferred classification in the selective draft, it was announced tonight by the Emergency Fleet Corporation. All applications of employees for such deferred classification must be approved by division heads and finally passed on by Howard Coonley, vice-president.

GENERAL ORDER.

A general order issued tonight, calling on employees to report their status, says:

"The United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation will not aid any drafted man to secure at his own instance 'supergency fleet listing' deferred classification in the draft, or any delay of induction into military service.

"When the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation asks 'emergency fleet listing' deferred classification in draft, or delay in induction into military service for a drafted man, it is to be clearly understood that such request will be confined to cases where the qualifications of and services which are being rendered by the drafted man, are, from the national viewpoint, more essential for ship production than for military service."

Reports of employees as to their status under the Selective Service Act are to be sent Vice-President Coonley at Philadelphia before August 10. The reports will be referred to division and section chiefs, who will be required to submit a brief to Mr. Coonley, giving reasons why the men are more necessary for ship construction than for military service.

COONLEY'S COMMENT.

In commenting on the order, Mr. Coonley made the following statement:

"The officers of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation felt that they should ask for exemption for those individuals only who have special experience and ability which makes them essential to the successful carrying out of the shipbuilding programme. In such cases the officials took the position that it is the duty of the individual to subordinate a natural desire for active service at the front to greater service which he can render in the shipbuilding programme. It is therefore his patriotic duty to be governed by our judgment in the matter. In cases other than these, it is felt that the greatest national good can be rendered by entering the military service."

CALLED FOR TRAINING.

Provost-Marshal-General Crowder today called on twenty-three States for 5586 grammar school graduates of draft age, qualified for general military service, to take courses of training at colleges over the country. The men may volunteer until August 6, and after that time any deficiency will be made up. They were ordered to entrain August 15.

The quotas by States and the assignments include:

California, 27, Agricultural College of Utah, and Nevada, 103, University of Nevada.

Appointment of eleven divisional directors to co-operate in the formation and educational supervision of the students' army training corps was announced today by the War Department.

COLLEGE UNITS.

Units of the corps will be established at virtually all colleges having a minimum enrollment of 100 able-bodied men students for military instruction and the entire work will be under the direction of President MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has been appointed educational director.

The divisional directors include:

Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona—President Robert E. Vinson, University of Texas.

California, Nevada and Utah—President Ray L. Wilbur, Stanford University, California.

RENEWS PLEDGE TO MAKE WAR ON I.W.W.

CHARLES M. FICKERT SPEAKS TO FARMERS IN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—Industrialism and sabotage are the two chief evils upsetting the planning of the farmer, Charles M. Fickert, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, told numerous gatherings on a trip through this valley today.

"I have first-hand knowledge of the activities and principles of these anarchists and I have already shown the people the proof that I have to drive them out of the State," he said at Livermore, where he was met by a group of business men headed by Supervisor Murphy. Fickert outlined a plan for increased food production and for water storage against the ravages of a prolonged dreuth.

In Stockton he attacked the high cost of government, and promised the business men to reduce the "forty new commissions" to the number absolutely necessary for an economic adjustment of the State government. Capt. Ben Walters, president of the Island Transportation Company, presided, and W. L. Clark, hotel operator, and Dr. Adrian Gilbert were among the speakers. Each insisted that throughout the San Joaquin Valley the merchants and farmers were demanding retrenchment in the State's governmental expense. Fickert said that instead of California being the second highest extravagant State government, he would reduce the cost to the general average by eliminating the unnecessary commissions and co-ordinating those whose functions were now performed by half a dozen.

The people of this district have had direct contact with the I.W.W. element and the candidate's references to their outrages in the field and factory were heard by men and women who had suffered from them wherever the lawless element has passed. Fickert's strength is assured.

Grape-Nuts needs no sugar!

Unlike most cereal foods it contains its own natural sweetening, obtained through the famous Grape-Nuts process from the wheat and barley from which it is made.

This natural sweet is the starch of the grain changed into a healthful, life-giving sugar.

This change is brought about by the ferment, diastase, in barley malt, and by long baking. The result is a wonderful food, easy to digest, abundantly sweet in its own right, nourishing, economical—they now are on the Fere-en-Tardenois-Coulonges highway south of the forest of Nesle. The advances late Tuesday measured a little less than two miles. French troops on the wings also moved forward and Allied pressure on the flanks of the pocket is being maintained.

In their advance the Americans drove a wedge into the enemy line and the Allies are now in a position to drive the Germans back by flank movements both east and west of the head of the apex which lies near Nesles. From the Nesles region southward through Cierges to Roncheres, the German line is about four miles long and affords the Allies an opportunity to drive the Germans from the region southwest of Ville-en-Tardenois without a frontal attack against the hills to the south.

QUIET SAYS HUN.

Berlin says the fighting front was quiet Tuesday and that all Allied efforts Monday were repulsed.

Some of Germany's best divisions, the Fourth Prussian Guard and a Bavarian division, were opponents of American boys from the Middle West and Eastern States. The Americans had outfought them Monday in the battle for Sergy and defeated them badly Tuesday.

Very few prisoners were taken, so desperate was the combat. Machine gun and artillery fire forms the main part of the enemy defense. German shell-fire from Nesles forest, however, has had little effect against the Americans. The Allied position about Sergy also was improved by the capture of Hill 212 to the southeast and which commands Cierges.

In Flanders the Allied position has been improved further through the capture of Merris by Australian troops. The Australians captured 169 prisoners and some trench mortars and machine guns. The Germans are retaliating by bombarding the new positions.

PHONOGRAPH TRIUMPH.

Inspiring Message of Gen. Pershing Made on West Front is Recorded.

An inspiring message from Gen. Pershing on the battlefields of France, can now be heard on the phonograph. This is one of the latest triumphs of the talking machine. Gen. Pershing speaks in crisp, military voice to the mothers, wives, fathers and children of our soldiers "over there." The speech was recorded at the time of a big offensive in Picardy, when 2,000,000 Germans were rushing to Amiens.

These records are on sale at the Platt Music Company's store, next to the Orpheum Building, and can be played on any talking machine. A facsimile of Gen. Pershing's signature appears on the record. On the reverse side of the record, Ambassador Gerard speaks on "Loyalty." The record is the beginning of a series of records by the world's greatest leaders, to be issued by the Nations' Forum, as a weekly service.

ON THE HIGH SEAS.

Captain of the Eagle Says Mutiny Complaint will Follow His Arrest on Assault Charge.

Deputy United States Marshal Cavanaugh took into custody Capt. "Bill" Denslow of the gasoline launch Eagle, at Long Beach, yesterday, charged with assaulting W. H. Lunsford, on the high seas, with a club. Denslow will have a hearing before United States Commissioner Long this morning.

It is charged that Denslow assaulted a passenger who was one of a party of fishermen who had hired the vessel for an outing. This resulted in Denslow being bound hand and foot on his own craft and brought back to Long Beach.

The statement is imputed to Lunsford that Denslow had become abusive to the passengers, had cursed him, Lunsford, and when Lunsford had struck the captain for calling him a liar, that Denslow seized a heavy stick of wood and undertook to make war on the passengers.

Denslow is said to have said that if any prosecution were instituted against him he would see that Lunsford and his companions were arrested for mutiny at sea.

FIGHTS FOR MONEY.

Collector Seeks to Secure Payment of Debt by Force and Battle Ensues.

A collector last night was hotly received by his debtor when he attempted to collect by force the money due him.

Mack Wilson, the creditor, according to Officers Littell and Ousely, visited the home of V. L. Bryant, No. 1550 East Twenty-first street, last night to collect $35. Bryant, the police say, stated that he didn't have the money and an argument ensued.

Wilson, according to the police, then attacked Bryant with a knife, cutting a slight gash in the latter's arm. Bryant, by way of retaliation, it is said, entered his home, secured a revolver and returned to give battle, firing three shots at his creditor.

Thereupon, Wilson rushed up to Bryant, wrenched the gun from the latter's hand and ran away, at least collecting indirectly, a portion of the money due him. The gun was worth about $25.

CHARNEL CAVES PROVE INDIAN BURIAL GROUND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, July 31.—Investigation made today of the caves filled with bodies discovered yesterday developed the fact that the locality had been the burial ground of nomadic Papago Indians, used for at least forty years. The caves had been opened by vandals recently and their treasures taken away.

The first remains deposited there were of Papages killed by an Apache raid. A number of scapulars indicated Catholicism, while Pagan rites were shown by the bones of slaughtered horses near by, and by the presence in the caves of dishes that had contained food for the journey to the spirit land.

YELLOW PINE OWNERS DELAY SHIPBUILDING.

FLEET CORPORATION DROPS KIRBY WHO CONTROLS SOUTHERN TIMBER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31. — The wooden shipbuilding programme is being seriously hampered, officials of the Emergency Fleet Corporation said today, because southern yellow pine interests have not met more promptly the demand for heavy timbers required in ship construction.

Other government operations are also said to be behind schedule for the same reason. Chairman Baruch is said to be considering taking over the yellow pine industry of the South.

Coincident with these developments was the statement that John H. Kirby of Houston, Tex., is no longer Lumber Administrator of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Mr. Kirby, with two others, virtually controls the yellow pine industry, it is said.

Decision to dispense with Mr. Kirby's services, shipping board officials said, was made by Director-General Schwab and Vice-president Piez. It was said his position was consolidated with another.

Credit Americans.

lea is only just beginning to make itself felt and the most hopeful and encouraging feature of this battle is that the beginning has been so effective for I would repeat it has not been the danger of the Allies' driving in the flanks of the salient which has caused the Germans to withdraw as the danger of the German progress on our flanks at Cantigny and the second battle of Ypres caused us to withdraw but the defeat of the enemy on the southern front by the French-American forces opposed to them.

In fact, the German retreat has been caused by direct pressure and has not been carried out in order to avoid entanglement danger. I am inclined to think that it is doubtful whether the enemy has yet completed a defensive line either on the Aivre or on the Vesle and it looks as if he were still trying hard to gain time, for there would be no point in sacrificing men in a counter-attack if he had made up his mind as to how far he intended to withdraw and had all his arrangements for withdrawal ready.

In fact, the battle is continuing under conditions which are very unfavorable to the enemy and it still seems to be premature to prophesy as to how and when it will end. The Franco-American advance at Fere-en-Tardenois and across the Ourcq has left the apex of the turning the front between Soissons and the Ourcq and it has in consequence begun to crumble.

Butte De Chalmont, a big hill dominating Oulchy-le-Chateau and Nanteuil, which has formed the buttress to the western face of the salient has fallen into our hands and it is clear from the presence of Scotch troops at Buzancy that Foch is taking advantage of the Allied progress in the south to reinforce the attack on the Soissons front and so by maintaining pressure on the enemy all around the salient to keep the initiative which he has now won in this battle, and prevent the enemy from obtaining the time he wants to establish a new front.

ORDERLY RETREAT.

The enemy is carrying out his retreat in good order under cover of strong rear guards plentifully supplied with machine guns, and in a broken wooded country such as forms the present battlefield the delaying power of machine guns is very great. It is therefore not at all likely that we shall be able to cut off any considerable part of the German force in the salient but we will in no way detract from the completeness of the Allied victory. If the enemy had been able to strike elsewhere and gain some conspicuous success before his retreat he might perfectly well argue that he had changed his plans owing to altered circumstances and had decided to employ his troops where they could be used more effectively, but no argument will now alter the fact that the second battle of the Marne has ended like the first in the complete German defeat.

We must, however, keep in mind that what we have accomplished so far is to prevent the enemy from obtaining the decisive results which the German General Staff and their friends at home confidently believed to be within their grasp.

NO SMALL MATTER.

This is no small matter, but it is in its essence a measure of defense and has for example as one of its chief results removed the danger to Paris. But we are still left with a long way to go before we can obtain a satisfactory decision in our favor and the situation calls for an increase rather than a slackening of our efforts so that we may be able to shorten the war tage of the successes we have by taking every possible advantage gained.

There has been a very natural tendency to exaggerate the effect of Foch's bolt from the blue and there is little doubt but that these exaggerations have been used for their own purposes by agitators in fomenting the strike which has so happily collapsed. The enemy is quite certain to try to follow up his practice in the past of bringing the year's campaign to an end with some showy success which will carry their people through the period of winter gloom and inactivity. We must keep our eyes skinned if we are not again to be caught out as we have been aforetime.

ORGANIZE STUDENTS CRUSADE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 31.—The Catholic students mission crusade was organized at a meeting held from July 27 to 30 inclusive at St. Mary's Mission house, Techny, Ill., at which 100 prelates, priests and laymen representing thirty colleges and universities and eight religious orders and missionary propaganda societies were in attendance. It is intended to form a working union of all Catholic students in the United States whose number is estimated at between two and three million. Rt. Rev. Bishop Thomas J. Sheehan, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, was elected president.

lar regiments will be used as the center on which each division is built.

The Chief of Staff made it plain that it is a monthly programme of increase upon which the War Department has embarked. The cycle appears now to be an army corps a month to be shipped abroad, its place to be taken at once by a new corps to be created here. The men, quarters and equipment are available to keep that up for the rest of the year and longer if necessary. Present cantonments will house at least 1,750,000 men.

ABOLISH DESIGNATIONS.

Already two score new general officers are being sought to command the new divisions and brigades. Gen. March announced also that he had decided upon abandonment of every designation for the troops except that of "United States Army." All other marks than the plain "U. S." of the regulations will be abolished. For War Department purposes, the National Army and National Guard are wiped out utterly and the Officers' Reserve Corps goes with them into the discard.

The unification plans mean more than changing collar ornaments. Gen. March said, for in seeking new general officers, promotion by selection from "the entire army" will be employed.

The Chief of Staff said that in carrying out the new policy of "one army" the War Department intends to put the letters "U. S.," heretofore reserved for the regulars, on the collar of every man serving in the military forces of the United States.

The subdesignation of "N. G." for National Guard and "N. A." for National Army will be abandoned. In the same connection, Gen. March said that the thirteen major-generals and thirty-six brigadiers necessary for the new divisions will be selected from all elements of the service.

ALL ELIGIBLE.

This statement was taken to mean that both National Guard and National Army officers hereafter will be eligible for promotion to the rank of general officers even in Regular Army divisions.

In response to a question, Gen. March said that where a division commander was selected to be a temporary corps commander, the command of his division passed to the senior brigadier. He had no information as to the location at present of the Eighty-ninth National Army Division.

Gen. March announced also the conversion of fifteen National Army cavalry regiments, numbered from 301 to 315, into field artillery. These will comprise part of the artillery units for the new divisions.

Gen. March had nothing to reveal as to the extent of the casualties sustained by the American forces in the recent fighting. He said, however, that Gen. Pershing had been ordered to cable the casualties as received and that these would be given out here at once. He added that there would be no distribution of casualties over a long period hereafter.

GERMANS FIGHT HARD TO HALT OUR DRIVE.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY, July 31, 9 a.m.—It has become apparent in the last twenty-four hours that the Germans are determined to make a stand for the present at least on the existing line of the Soissons-Rheims salient. This was indicated yesterday when, following the defeat of the guard troops by the Americans north of the Ourcq Sunday, fresh shock troops were thrown against our men. In spite of the opposition we pushed our lines forward in the bitterest sort of fighting to the north of Sergy and to the edge of the Nesle Wood.

At the latter place our troops found barbed wire entanglements and trenches freshly dug, which showed the Germans intended to make some sort of a halt there.

This appears to be somewhat of a change in the Boche plans, which was believed to be to fall back to the Vesle River. It is not yet easy to say whether the determined stand against the Americans north of the Ourcq was intended only to delay the retirement or to attempt to fix a permanent line. The next two days will tell.

The change from rear-guard warfare, where the German machine-gun nests had the attackers at a disadvantage, to warfare of attack and counter-attacks has given the Americans a new opportunity to inflict heavy losses on the crack German troops.

MEET HUNS' BEST.

Part of one American division met the Fourth Imperial Prussian Guards in the last two days north of the Ourcq in the vicinity of Sergy. There has been the bitterest sort of fighting of brave men against brave men. The American soldiers who charged these Prussians, manning machine guns, tell me they had to shoot them at the guns to make them stop firing. Last night seven Germans brought in were members of the Fifth Foot Guards Regiment, a part of the Fourth Prussian Guard division. They said the day before their company, 150 strong, was thrown into the fight. They refused to retreat and the Americans refused to retreat. The seven said they were all that was left of the company of 150. They were captured in hand-to-hand fighting after their ammunition was exhausted.

The Fifth Guard Grenadiers Regiment and the Ninety-Third Reserve Regiment, also a part of the Fourth Prussian Guard Division, suffered heavily likewise. This is the foremost of all German divisions.

Its mission this time, according to orders taken from German bodies, was to drive the Americans back into the Ourcq.

FIRST FAILURE.

They failed for the first time during the war. The Americans are game fighters, and therefore, somehow or other, have admiration for these Prussians who fought so hard. Totally different from many Germans against whom our troops have been thrown in this drive, they did not surrender when the Americans got close, but fought to the death. In the whole two days' fighting of this division we took only eleven prisoners. That tells the bitter story of itself. Instead of fighting the machine guns until the Americans were close and then fleeing, these Germans charged with the rifle and bayonet.

That kind of fighting our men like, and the result was a bloody slaughter. It so happened that two of the four companies which helped to meet the Prussians are composed largely of German-American fighters. They certainly showed no sign of love or respect for the fatherland or its best military representatives. The fighting yesterday was violent, with the Germans hurling counter-attacks and the Americans doing likewise. Often the two attacking parties met half way and had it out at close range.

The Germans made use of all their weapons, including treachery, for we have proofs that they carried guns made up like stretchers, which enabled the gunners each bearing a Red Cross on his arm to get close to the Americans before cutting loose a stream of bullets. The Germans used much artillery fire and gas, and bombed our lines nearly all day, and daring Boche aviators strafed us with machine guns at close range. It was a strenuous day all round.

AIRPLANE ACTIVITY.

Perhaps the most sensational of all the Boche efforts in the past two days has been what was the most intensive airplane activity of the war. Sunday the Germans hurried scores of crack flyers here and they showed the utmost daring and efficiency. The air yesterday was literally filled with German planes which knew no fear. They bombed us, they strafed us and our observation machines were almost invariably attacked when nearing the line. The Germans traveled in fives, tens and fifteens, which made them formidable. One of the most wonderful sights of the war is to see ten Boche planes challenge and meet eight of our planes. Up there in the air one could hear the droning of many planes with perhaps five or six machine guns going at once for all battle, as the flyers circled about looking for the foe's vital spot.

German planes flew yesterday from five to ten miles behind our lines, braving countless guns and dropped many bombs on our lines in broad daylight. I was standing talking to an American general when I saw the newest sort of aerial performance. The road was filled with American trucks, soldiers and automobiles. All along the road and on the mounted carriages were anti-aircraft guns of every description. Out of the clouds came three Boche machines.

BOCHE CAME ON.

The guns opened up, throwing hundreds of shrapnel shells, but the Boche came on and on. They descended until only 500 feet above the ground and then cut loose with their machine guns, achieved some results and flew away with the anti-aircraft guns going. They got away. There is no denying it takes brave men to do this. The nerve of these crack German flyers is illustrated by another scene I saw yesterday. A Boche plane appeared from behind a cloud above an American observation balloon. The balloon was pulled down hurriedly and got so low that the observer stepped from the basket. Despite a heavy fire from seventy-fives and aircraft machine guns and even rifle fire by the doughboys taking pot shots the Boche flier descended until he almost touched the balloon and cut loose a spurt of incendiary bullets, which set the sausage on fire. Then sweeping away he was caught by a square hit from a three-inch shell, which tumbled him to the ground. Beside the damage done by the vital shell he had sixty-three holes in his airplane.

One has to consider this kind of fighting and that of the Prussian Guards as showing how seriously the German command is taking the Americans fighting north of the Marne. The Americans feel proud of the compliment and are trying successfully to justify the Crown Prince's choice of fighters sent against them.

The Germans have done such effective work with machine guns recently that it may be interesting to know how many they use. A German division of 12,000 men has 400 machine guns. The average width of the sector held by one division is two to two kilometers. This means an allotment of one machine gun to every five yards of front. As a rule about one-third are in operation at the same time, so this means one machine gun every fifteen yards in the actual fighting. At many points the Americans ran against more machine guns than that. This represents the most intensive machine gun work.

BANDITS ROB MAN.

Trio of Automobile Highwaymen Hold Up Man and Woman on Westmoreland Place.

Three armed automobile bandits last night held up and robbed H. R. Land of the Pacific Electric Supply Company and Mrs. Catherine Pepper of the Wellington apartments, in Westmoreland place. The three men secured $6 in cash from Mr. Land, and a diamond ring and silver mesh bag from Mrs. Pepper.

Detective Russel Smith of the Flying Squadron, while investigating the case, found the ignition key to the automobile in which Mr. Land and Mrs. Pepper were riding. The bandits to make sure that they would not be followed, took the key from Mr. Land.

WHERE IS MOTHER? PASADENA QUESTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Aug. 1. — Whether the Crown City is a safe place in which to train soldiers is the subject of the moment in various women's and war organizations, the police department and sociological division of the city government, the Women's Council of Defense, and generally throughout the city. It is held that minor social activities are detracting the soldier guests of the city away from well-appointed clubs and that so general has become the glamor to entertain the uniform that a soldier is not free to pursue his guileless way along the street without being invited to an auto ride or a turkey and ice cream dinner.

"We have invited to boys to our city, and we want them here; yet at the same time we must not place temptation in their way when they do come," says Mrs. Emma Spencer, City Mother. "Parents should not blame the young men for improper things which are happening all over the country. The same natural thing holds good today as in the days of Adam and Eve.

"To the mothers and fathers of Pasadena, I wish to say some plain things, and I do not want anyone to think that they apply only to some other family, but that all are included. Girls must be kept off the streets in the evenings, unless accompanied by their parents or some responsible chaperon. Even in the daytime they should not be allowed too much freedom.

"I call upon all parents to remember their own son, perhaps, who may be away from home and under similar circumstances. Let us by means create a wholesome atmosphere for the boys and may they be better, truer, purer boys for all their associations here."

A. L. Hamilton, chairman of the City Commission, has also expressed himself on the situation, heading a meeting attended by Mrs. Marta D. Carr, chairman of the Council of Defense, Mrs. Myron Hunt, regent of the Army and Navy League; Chief of Police W. S. McIntyre and others. Chief McIntyre has ordered his men to not fail to question young girls found on the street after curfew rings, unless apparently accompanied by their parents.

Mrs. Elisa A. Davis in a published statement asks boldly, "Where is Mother?" Mrs. Davis states:

"A very important question is being asked these days, namely, where is mother? And where is she? That so many of our young daughters are allowed entirely too much freedom—for unusual is the number of girls in their very early teens seen on our streets. Something must be wrong somewhere, and the sad occurences that come to our notice too often must be the outcome of negligence.

"Let us wake up on the question and that we have very young daughters, be sure where they are and whose company they are in. Let us not for a moment think that Red Cross work or any other outside duty will excuse us from the responsibility of motherhood. Then, too, for the sake of the soldier lads, who have left home mothers and sisters who have high ideals, let us do everything in our power to preserve the sacred regard of those boys for all that is good and pure."

BETTER FERRY SERVICE.

SHIPYARD TRANSPORTATION IS DISCUSSED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AT HARBOR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 31.—At a meeting of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce held last night, the necessity for the immediate betterment of the ferry service to the shipyards was demonstrated. Among those present at the conference were E. A. Mills, secretary of the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company; Matt Walsh, superintendent of the San Pedro Transportation Company, and R. E. Kelly of the Pacific Electric.

Eleven hundred men are now employed in the plant of the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company, and by November it is expected they will employ 4500. It was explained that the employees of this yard can reach their homes in Long Beach much quicker than those living in San Pedro, one hour being required to reach certain points in San Pedro from the shipyard. It is proposed to establish ferry service from the plant at East San Pedro to the terminus of the harbor boulevard at the outer harbor.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 31.—All the present directors of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce were re-elected today to serve during the coming year. Secretary I. G. Lewis was re-elected to his position, he having relieved E. O. Tilburne, who recently resigned. The directors for the coming year are C. H. Cleveland, J. A. Privett, P. J. McGrath, Ray Mitchell, T. E. Baker, J. M. Regan, I. N. Edwards, T. Gaffey and E. W. Sandison, Jr. Voting was light, and there was no opposition to the candidates, who were all practically unanimously elected.

The correct test for gasoline

Until recently many purchasers considered the gravity test the only proper measure of gasoline value.

Then the National Bureau of Standards at Washington pointed out that this test tells nothing of the power value of gasoline.

It further showed that the real test of gasoline lies in its vaporizing and combustive qualities, which can only be measured by its boiling points.

Boiling points are vaporizing points. They determine the action of the gas developed from gasoline.

As combustion starts with the lowest boiling points and flashes on through the gas, the continuous, uniform chain of boiling points—from the low to the high—is necessary for instantaneous, full-powered combustion. Eliminate one link and the power chain is broken.

Only straight-distilled gasoline can have the continuous, uniform chain of boiling points. Mixtures always have "holes" in them.

Red Crown is a straight-distilled, all-refinery gasoline, having the full and continuous chain of boiling points necessary for steady, dependable power: Low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick and smooth acceleration, and high boiling points for power and mileage. Look for the Red Crown sign before you fill.

WILL SETTLE EARLY CLOSING.

Magnates to Decide Baseball Question Saturday.

"Comish" and American to Meet at Cleveland.

Tener will not Sit at Board with Ban Johnson.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 31. — President Ban Johnson of the American League tonight called a special meeting of the organization to be held in Cleveland on Saturday to definitely decide on the proposed early closing of the season and the staging of the world's series prior to September 1, in compliance to Secretary Baker's work or fight order. There also will be a special meeting of the National Baseball Commission in Cleveland at the same time.

Although the club owners of the National League are scheduled to meet in special session in New York on Saturday, President Johnson was advised by August Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission and owner of the Cincinnati Nationals, that he would attend the Cleveland meeting instead and that two or three other National League club owners would accompany him. President Johnson and Herrmann were in telephone conference this afternoon.

President Johnson is strongly opposed to continuing baseball after September 1, as he believes to play after that date would be a direct violation of the War Department's orders. Six of the eight clubs in the American League have approved of his suggestion to close the championship season on or about August 29 and then stage the world's series and exhibition games in the eleven days remaining until September 1.

HERRMANN'S STAND.

CINCINNATI (O.) July 31. — August Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, stated today he would not attend the meeting of the National League called by John K. Tener, president of the league, for Saturday at New York.

"Some other National Leaguers will not be there either," said Herrmann. "Why should we go? We have a tacit understanding to keep right on with the schedule till September 1, and not to worry in the meanwhile.

"There is no reason why a world series cannot be arranged to begin September 3 or 4. The men who will play the world series games would have been granted ten days or two weeks by their draft boards in which to find jobs. By our system of finding essential work for the athletes they will be at work before that period of time."

Herrmann also wired invitations to the owners of the clubs in the National and American League to attend, and Herrmann said indications are that practically all club owners will be at the meeting. John K. Tener, president of the National League, in a telephone conversation from New York with Herrmann, said that he would not attend the meeting, as he had decided not to attend any more sessions of the National Commission. This, it is understood, is in line with his declaration several weeks ago that he would not sit with Johnson in any baseball matters following the dispute over the Pitcher Perry case.

Chairman Herrmann said that at the Cleveland meeting the question of when to close the major league seasons and also the question of holding a world series will be definitely decided.

NEW LEAGUE SEASON TO OPEN AUGUST 10.

FIVE MONTHS OF WEEK-END BASEBALL NOW ASSURED.

The Southern California War Service Baseball League was placed on a firm basis last night at A. G. Spalding's when the managers of the six different teams got together and adopted a constitution and by-laws.

The articles were carefully read by President Sample and in many instances were similar to those used by the big leagues.

It was decided to open the season on Saturday, August 10, when the United States Submarine Base will hook up with the Los Angeles Shipbuilding Company at San Pedro and the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company with the Naval Reserve at Washington Park. It was suggested that the season continue until the last Sunday in December, but this was not voted on.

A schedule of the first five weeks play was drawn up, but was not adopted from the fact that the league may comprise eight teams. Representatives from the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company and the March Aviation Field of Riverside were present and expressed a willingness to place clubs in the league.

It required so long a time to read and consider the constitution and by-laws that little other business could be attended to. The next meeting will be held at Spalding's next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock when the question of an eight-league team will be decided and the season's schedule adopted. In the meantime the managers will get their clubs together and the rosters will be presented at the Monday night meeting. Most of the teams will be greatly strengthened in the early part of September when a number of men from the big leagues will come to Los Angeles to winter. It is almost a certainty that by the middle of September the Southern California War Service League will boast teams that will be the equal or superior to the Pacific Coast League nines. Baseball lovers can therefore reasonably look forward to some rare week-end sport for the next five months.

President's Niece to be Married.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Miss Alice Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wilson of Baltimore and a niece of the President, will be married at the White House to the Rev. Isaac Stuart McElroy, Jr., of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Wednesday evening, August 7.

NEW BIG LEAGUE FOR NEXT YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, July 31.—Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Louisville, Toledo and St. Louis or Akron are to be members of a powerful semi-professional baseball league next year, to be conducted by the National Baseball Federation and sanctioned by the United States government, it was announced here today by Clayton C. Townes, chairman of the committee on baseball equipment for training camps.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 31.—New York and Pittsburgh divided a double-header, the home team winning the first game by a score of 1 to 0, while Pittsburgh won the second game by 4 to 2. In the first, Causey won his sixth straight game. In the second, Babe Adams celebrated his return to the National League by a victory. The score:

JIM DONAHUE OFF FOR THE EAST TODAY.

Jim Donahue has been ecommissioned a lieutenant in the Sanitary Corps of the air service division, and has been ordered to the Long Island Flying School. He leaves for the East today. Donahue is one of the heroes of the 1912 Olympic games. He is a member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and coached two club basketball teams and won two A.A.U. championships in as many attempts. His Oxy track team defeated Pomona and took the title. His basketball aggregation was about the best of the intercollegiate engagements.

On the Courts.

OLE TOM BUNDY MEETS DEFEAT.

Wallace Bates, Northern Boy, is the Hero.

Sinsabaugh Triumphs Over Mere Youth.

Franklin P. Winne Relegated Also.

BY JAMES DE CAMP.

One of them was tall and spare, the other brief of stature, but stocky. Arm in arm they trudged morosely up and down the rim of the sad-voiced ocean at a late hour last night. To one side of them, across the restless waters, shimmered the tapered path of the rising moon, while on the other hand towered the city of Long Beach. In the immediate foreground the Hotel Virginia loomed, with a brightly lit pergola sparkling on the trim lawn like some nocturnal jewel, and the tennis courts dim and ghostly in the offing. From the dazzling point of light there emanated sounds of youthful gaiety, tinkling with the fairy music of feminine voices and oft punctuated by the modest bass of some masculine being declaiming at great length.

The moon rose higher. A cooing couple who had been furtively watching the mysterious pair trudging in the sand gave an involuntary gasp. Nature's night lamp had revealed that the Mutt and Jeff silhouettes were no other than Tom Bundy and Frank Winne, until yesterday kingpins of the local tennis colony. Bundy and Winne turned their tear-stained faces seaward and gazed unseeingly toward the horizon. Bundy wound back the clock of time in retrospect, stopping at every week-end to recount some victory of national import upon the field of racquets. For him the past was strewn with the recumbent corpses of vanquished rivals, each with a wand of wood and catgut for a headstone. Yes, Tom had cleaned them all, but yesterday morning a wise young party from up north, by the name of Wallace Bates, had turned in and mopped his name from the annals in two sets straight, 6-3, 9-7.

TROUBLED ALSO.

Winne, a blushing youth of 20, saw in the swashing reaches of the Pacific the scattered strands of a precocious career rent in twain at the outset. With a number of State, sectional and intersectional titles dangling from the belt of his youthful Buster Browns, he had entered the Southern California championships with nothing less than the title in mind. The same day that brought disaster to the astute Thomas Bundy had presented Winne with a decided 6-3, 8-6 trouncing from the musical catgut swatstick of one "Ping" Barker.

So the two paced restlessly back and forth, turning occasionally for a hurried glance at the enchanted pergola, and finally ducked down a back alley to the rear entrance of their apartments.

Meanwhile, youth, beauty and gallantry continued to emanate from the mazda-equipped summer house. Staid seaside couples strutting from the theater descried the horn-rimmed visage of one Simpson Sinsabaugh bending gracefully over a large punchbowl underneath the tower. About him grouped a bevy of the most charming damsels to be found in all of Southern California, their fair faces radiant with their admiration, their eyes and ears waiting upon his every word and gesture. Simpson Sinsabaugh, the veteran, had triumphed. With his old-time fighting mate, Tom Bundy, sluffed off into history, the wily Simpson had managed to outwit, by the strategy of youthful Jim Davies and maintain a LePage grip on his unique pedestal. Inspired by the adulation of his audience, Simpson recounted every stroke and swing of the memorable match, and then fell into a reminiscent mood, informing the wide-eyed maidens of the turbulent scenes of his youth, his hand-to-hand fight with the ferocious saber-tooth tiger that now stands in bony statelliness at the municipal museum. Thumbing the leaves of time, Sinsabaugh then related the details of his swatting matches with Gov. Pio Pico and Gen. Fremont at the Plaza, the first games of racquets put on in Southern California.

The Sinsabaugh-Davies match was one of the few net epics that occur during a season, and merited a much larger gallery than it received. Although Sinsabaugh gobbled up the first set without much difficulty, the second was a harrowing seesaw affair, that kept the feminine portion of the bleachers squealing the while. With the games standing 4-3, Davies rallied and, with a wonderful burst of accurate driving, brought the figures up to 5-all, and then nabbed a one-game lead over the experienced S. S. Sinsabaugh then bound a fresh kerchief about his brow and proceeded to even matters at 6-all, and uncorked a choppy cut serve that brought him two more games and the honors of the day.

Several other matches of the day proved interesting to watch. Mrs. Yager finished Mary Elizabeth Ewins in short order, while Rager ticketed P. Hardeman a neat 6-4, 6-0.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

R. Rager defeated P. Hardeman, 6-4, 6-0; Sinsabaugh and Barker defeated Bates and Johnson, 6-3, 6-1; Warren and Hart defeated Knox and Judd by default; Mervin and Shook defeated Howard and Dr. Mathewson, 7-5, 6-4; Wallace Bates defeated Tom Bundy, 6-3, 9-7; Barker defeated Winne, 6-3, 8-6; Miss Williams and Bates defeated Winne and Miss Ewing, 8-6, 6-3; Sinsabaugh defeated Jim Davies, 6-4, 8-6; Mrs. Yager defeated Mary Louise Ewing, 6-1, 6-2.

By Church of People.

The Church of the People, No. 232 South Hill street, will give an entertainment in Symphony Hall, tonight, the feature of which will be the Hawaiian orchestra, led by Miss Vivienne Stafford, and assisted by professional local talent in a musical programme of distinction. Senorita Elesita Sepulveda will sing and dance in Spanish numbers, and Miss Isabel Martin will sing Scotch songs in costume. Other attractions are to be the Winbau sisters, in the Hulahula dances; Miss Inez Geary in dramatic readings and P. M. Brignal in piano numbers.

FALLS FROM AIRPLANE TO TEST PARACHUTE.

FRENCH AVIATOR LANDS SAFELY IN DROP FROM ALTITUDE OF 800 YARDS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, July 30.—Capt. Sarret, a French aviator, has carried out the first experiment on record of falling from a moving airplane with a parachute.

Capt. Sarret dropped 800 yards with an umbrella twelve yards in diameter, and landed safely. He fell from the observer's position, but similar experiments for the pilot will be undertaken soon.

The aviator crawled out of his seat and hung by his hands with the parachute firmly attached to his body and lightly attached to the airplane. When he jumped the parachute opened perfectly and bore him gently to the ground.

Experiments in the past have been made with sand bags, which were cut away at varying heights.

Although Capt. Sarret's trial was made at a height of 800 yards, it is declared that there is no obstacle to jumping a greater distance, since the parachute has even a better chance to open. When successful, the employment of parachutes will enable airmen to leave their flaming machines and not meet death as did Maj. Raoul Lufbery on May 19.

Capt. Sarret was in the air about three minutes after he had cut loose from the airplane. He was completely composed upon landing, and wrote a brief message describing his sensations during his descent.

Lieut. A. R. Brigss of Framingham, Mass., and Lieut. David E. Putnam of Newman, Mass., of the American aerial forces, report they probably brought down an enemy plane last night behind his lines at Montsic.

The aviators saw their opponent plunge earthward, but the fog and clouds prevented them from observing the crash. The fight was the first in the Toul sector for several days.

JUMPS 6000 FEET.

SAN ANTONIO, July 31.—Rodman Law has jumped from a moving airplane several times and landed safely with the aid of a parachute at Kelly Field, the last time from a height of 6000 feet at the time of Secretary McAdoo's visit to Kelly Field.

The plane was driven by Edward Stinson, and an ordinary balloon parachute was used.

Germany Favors Prisoner Exchange.

LONDON, July 31.—The German government has given a favorable reply to the invitation of the American government to convene a conference to arrange for the exchange of military and civilian prisoners, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Amsterdam, quoting a Berlin dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Two million hand grenades and 1,000,000 rifle grenades are being produced monthly, says an announcement by the Ordnance Department.

State Rules.

TO HOLD RICE PRICES DOWN.

Food Administration and Millers Reach Agreement.

Committees will Grade and Value Growers' Samples.

Hotels and Restaurants Asked to Ban Turkey Broilers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Agreements are being completed between the rice millers of the country and the Federal Food Administration with regard to the handling of the 1918 rice crop, it was announced today by Frederick O'Brien, acting Food Administrator for California.

The main provisions in these agreements, it was said, are that the miller shall pay definite prices to the grower for rough rice and shall not sell the clean rice at more than the prices named in the contract, ranging from 7¾ cents per pound for choice Japan to 9½ cents per pound for fancy Honduras. Consumers will be able; the Food Administration believes, to purchase rice at a price approximately 10 to 12 cents per pound.

In order to arrive at a fair valuation for the grower's products a general committee will be appointed by the Food Administration. The duty of this committee generally will be to supervise the carrying out of the contract by grading and valuing samples of rice submitted by the growers. Valuation committees, operating under the general control of the central committee, will be appointed in each State where rice is grown to handle the details of the matter.

TURKEY BROILERS WASTEFUL.

The United States Food Administration for California received instructions from the poultry and egg division of the national Food Administration at Washington today announcing that the practice of killing so-called broiler turkeys weighing from two to four pounds is a wasteful practice and must be discontinued.

An appeal also was made to hotels and restaurants to refuse to serve these turkeys in the future. By doing this, it was asserted, the birds will be allowed to mature, thereby increasing the meat supply.

FISH RULES.

Sardine fishermen and packers from Monterey met here today with Frederick O'Brien, acting Federal Food Commissioner for California, and agreed upon a price to be paid for sardines for the remainder of the season, beginning August 1.

On that date all sardine fishermen who have equipped their boats in accordance with requirements to reduce the loss of fish to the minimum will be paid $12 per ton, while those who fail so to equip their boats as required will be paid the old price of $10 per ton.

No fish are to be sent to the reduction works without a permit, and $5 per ton will be paid for these fish. Canners are prohibited from paying more than the price agreed upon.

SAYS MOONEY'S CASE IS POLITICAL ISSUE.

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—Charles A. A. McGee of San Diego, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, in a formal statement issued today said:

"If I am elected Governor and the Thomas J. Mooney case is presented to me he will be tried on one of the remaining indictments."

He expressed "regret" in his statement that the case has become a political issue, but in as much as it has become such not only locally but throughout America and Europe it must be reckoned with.

"I know not whether Mooney is guilty or innocent," he added, "my feelings have been rather against him, but with the newly discovered evidence and the alleged perjury of Oxman, I cannot but feel that a terrible injustice would be done in failing to secure a new trial."

Kuehlmann Seeks Reichstag Seat.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—Dr. Von Kuehlmann, former German Foreign Secretary, will be a candidate for the Reichstag at a coming bye-election in Berlin, the Vossische Zeitung says. The election will be held to fill the seat of the late president of the Reichstag, Dr. Johannes Kaempf.

BEAUTY HINTS FOR YOUR HAIR
How to Prevent It From Growing Gray.
There is no occasion for you to look unattractive or prematurely old because of gray, streaked with gray, white or faded hair. Don't let this condition with its look of age rob you of your youthful beauty and the wonderful opportunities which life offers. No matter how gray, prematurely gray, lusterless or faded your hair might be, "La Creole" Hair Dressing will revive the color glands of nature—promote a healthy condition of the hair and scalp—and cause all of your gray or faded hair to become evenly dark, soft, lustrous and beautiful. This preparation is not a dye, but an elegant toilet requisite which is easily applied by simply combing or brushing through the hair.
USE
"LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING
to prevent your hair from growing gray and to restore a beautiful dark color to gray or faded hair. Sold and guaranteed by all good drug stores everywhere, or sent direct for $1.20 by Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn.—(Advt.)

OUR HOSPITAL UNIT OVERSEAS.

Base Organization Recruited in Los Angeles has Arrived in England.

Navy Base Hospital No. 3, which was organized under the direction of Dr. Rae Smith of Los Angeles and the personnel of which was recruited largely in this city, has arrived in England. This is the third in order of organization of navy base hospitals formed in the United States. It has equipment for 500 beds, and is under Medical Director Charles M. Devalin, U.S.N.

News of the arrival of the Base Hospital unit overseas came in a telegram yesterday to Mrs. Hattie Greff of No. 1030 Park View place, this city, from her son Ralph Greff, one of the members. This was confirmed last night in an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

FOR DROWNING VICTIM.

Funeral for Police Captain's Daughter Killed at Victorville to be Held Today.

The funeral services for Miss Julia Frances Adams, daughter of Lieut. David L. Adams, who was accidentally drowned in a swimming pool at Victorville last Monday, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel of Bresee Bros., with the Rev. Baker P. Lee officiating. Miss Adams will be buried at Inglewood Cemetery.

The 18-year-old girl was accompanied by several other young women swimming in a reservoir at a cement plant in Victorville. She is said to have been an excellent swimmer, and it is thought that she was attacked by heart trouble. Her father, who is acting captain in charge of Central Police Station, went at once to his ranch near Victorville, where his wife and daughter had been staying, and brought Mrs. Adams back to this city.

FOR JEWISH RELIEF.

Dr. Nathan Krass will tell of War Zone Conditions at Luncheon Today.

Representing the American Jewish Relief Committee for sufferers from the war, Dr. Nathan Krass, the special envoy of Harry Morgenthau, chairman of the committee, will speak this noon at a luncheon to be given in his honor at Hamburger's Cafe. He will tell of conditions among the Jews in the war zones of Europe.

Dr. Krass, after giving two addresses in Los Angeles, is scheduled to speak in San Francisco and other Coast cities, but will solicit no funds during his tour. He is highly recommended by Nathan Strauss, the philanthropist, who personally informed the Los Angeles committee of his coming.

I.W.W.'S CONVICTED.

Jury Doesn't Waste any Time in Bringing in Verdict in Case Involving Misuse of Mails.

W. O. Lamson, formerly secretary of the local lodge of the I.W.W., was convicted by a jury in United States District Judge Bledsoe's court, yesterday, on a charge of sending lottery tickets through the mails.

It was charged by the government that Lamson sent Mrs. Walter Little of Fresno, sister-in-law of Frank Little, who was lynched by an infuriated mob at Butte, Mont., last spring, a number of tickets or chances on a phonograph, which was to be raffled off for the benefit of the I.W.W. defense fund.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty to court after but a few moments' deliberation.

MUSTN'T NAG A WIFE.

Man Who Kept Referring to the "Other" Fellow is Divorced for Cruelty.

Persistent reference to the "other man" constitutes cruelty, according to Judge York, who granted a divorce yesterday to Mrs. Grace D. O'Hanlon from Richard J. O'Hanlon. The latter was ordered to pay $16 weekly for the support of their children.

Mrs. Hanlon told her husband that she had listened to the advances of one Frank Maus, and O'Hanlon sued Maus for $10,000 for alienation of affection. The action was dropped before it came to trial, but the husband's reference to it continued to survive. Maus disappeared.

O'Hanlon simply could not forget the affair with Maus, and continually nagged her about it, the wife told the court. O'Hanlon filed a cross-complaint to his wife's charge.

MEXICAN ROBBED.

Antonio Espinosa, a Mexican laborer of Hillman, Ariz., was held up and robbed by two men, underneath the Pacific Electric viaduct at Sixth and Los Angeles streets last night, according to his report to the police. The highwaymen, Espinosa said, secured a few dollars in silver and checks for $165.

Victory Parade.

BRILLIANT SPECTACLE USHERS IN GREAT WAR EXPOSITION.

A GREAT throng last night witnessed the brilliant electrical Victory Parade given in honor of the recent victories of the Allies in France and ushering in the great Allied War Exposition, formally opening at Exposition Park today. The parade was given by the Motion Picture War Service Association and formed a notable tribute to the patriotism of the motion-picture producers and players.

There were floats representing the allied nations now battling for world freedom; there were soldiers of the Coast Artillery from Fort MacArthur, and sailors in white duck suits from the naval station at San Pedro and twenty bands of music. Douglas Fairbanks, in a big white hat on a prancing horse, led the parade, while the crowds cheered.

The parade started at 8:45 o'clock from Seventh and Hope streets, moved along Seventh street to Broadway, while bells rang, sirens sounded and general noise broke loose which seemed loud enough to be heard in Berlin. Up Broadway the parade moved to First street, then through First to Spring, and south on Spring to Eighth street, where it disbanded.

Chief Marshal Fairbanks was followed by his aides, also on horseback. Then came the Fort MacArthur Band and then the 105 musicians composing the band, fife and drum corps of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, all men who drive rivets and pound steel plates every day building ships for Uncle Sam. They were given an ovation. Other bands in the parade included the Fire Department Band, Pasadena Elks' Band, Knights of Pythias Band, Submarine Base Band, Soldiers' Home Band and Letter Carriers' Band.

The outstanding feature of the parade was the floats, one from each of the principal studios. Most of them were drawn by horses, all were illuminated, some by flares carried alongside, others by electric lights furnished by storage batteries on the floats. Besides Fairbanks, other stars of the motion-picture world were in line, while Miss Lois Weber headed the women's section of the Motion Picture War Service Association. In this division, as well as on the floats, were all of the leading film studio beauties, who showed they were as patriotic as they are beautiful.

The more than 300 women of the motion-picture industry made the prettiest feature seen in a local parade for a long time. They were all clad in white with white capes and colonial hats of white, and wore red, white and blue sashes. Miss Helen Keller, the blind-deaf-and-dumb graduate of Radcliffe College, who has just come to Los Angeles to make an educational film, was a pretty feature of this division, walking hand in hand with two pretty children in white.

W. S. HART.

The float from the W. S. Hart studios represented Serbia. Josephine Howard was Serbia, and with her on the float were two Serbian veteran soldiers in uniform, and Thomas Brierly, Wanda Hawley, Joseph August and Lambert Hillyer. E. H. Allen, his general manager, was in the parade, representing the Hart studios.

TRIANGLE.

Triangle studios' float represented "The Spirit of Italy." Italy was Alma Rubens, Triangle star, and with her on the float, and the characters they represented were, Columbus, Barney Sherry; Art, Rae Godfrey; Music, Tris Ashton; Italian peasant, Marie Pavis; Italian child, Miss Pavis; soldier, Eugene Burr; guards, Peter Morrison and T. E. Reynolds; and leaders, Nate Solomon, Thornton Edwards, R. A. Beal and M. F. Seva.

VITAGRAPH.

Vitagraph's float—"The Spirit of Canada"—was most unusual. It was designed by Ray H. McCray, Vitagraph art director, and showed the triumphant lions of the Dominion.

LASKY.

Lasky Studios' float depicted the spirit of the United States. The float was designed by Wilfred Buckland of the Lasky Studios. Edna May Cooper was Columbia and there were soldiers, sailors, and workers in all branches of war work and activity. Julia Faye and Marcia Manon represented Red Cross nurses.

FOX.

Fox Studios' float was "Belgium," which was portrayed by Miss Gladys Brockwell. It represented the coming of America to the aid of the martyred nation.

THOMAS H. INCE.

The Thomas H. Ince float, representing Japan, was twenty-four feet long and was drawn by eight horses. Marching at the sides of the float were twenty-four Japanese men in costumes of ancient warriors and modern soldiers. The float portrayed the warrior spirit of ancient Japan greeting modern Japan, there being modern Japanese soldiers and marines and a reproduction of the sacred mountain of Japan. The float was artistic.

GRIFFITH.

Miss Helen Wiener portrayed Victory on the float from David Wark Griffith Studios. With her on the float were children attendants, Isabelle and Marjorie Yeagher. Victory stood under a canopy and by her stood an American soldier, portrayed by Henry Wilson. Miss Bertha Matten portrayed Belgium, lying bleeding and prostrate. About her lay dead German soldiers. This float received much applause.

BRUNTON.

The Brunton division was led by Dixie Nelson in Scotch costume on a white horse. Miss Bessie Barriscale, Paralta star, rode on the front seat of the warlike float from the Brunton Studios, portraying Scotland. The float was a reproduction of a captured German forty-two-centimeter howitzer. Little Mary Jane Irving also was on the float ni a Red Cross costume. The Mack Sennett studio float—England—was a reproduction of one of the heavy English field guns, camouflaged, but was from time to time belching forth smoke and noise in a very realistic manner.

UNIVERSAL.

Universal City's float—France—was enthusiastically received. Upon it Universal actors gave lifelike im-

Estimate.

ROWAN ESTATE WORTH MILLION AND QUARTER.

THE estate left by the late Robert A. Rowan, prominent realty operator who passed away suddenly on July 26, is valued at $1,250,000. This estimate was placed upon it by Henry W. O'Melveny, attorney for the estate, who filed the will for probate yesterday. Of this amount, $525,000 represents life insurance.

In his will Mr. Rowan bequeathed large sums of money to all the members of his family. It is believed that the widow's share will be close to $600,000. The stipulations of the will are as follows:

To his mother, Mrs. George D. Rowan, $10,000; to his sisters, Mrs. Fannie Young and Mrs. Florence Rowan, $7500 each; to his four brothers, sums ranging from $1000 to $10,000 each; to Mrs. Harry Belcher, $10,000; to the widow, Mrs. Laura M. Rowan, one-half the residue; to Mrs. Laura M. Rowan, Phillip D. Rowan and the Title Insurance and Trust Company, as trustees for the four children, who are Lorraine, George D., Robert A. and Lewis Rowan, the remaining one-half of the residue.

Any heir or devisee named in the will who attempts to contest the document will have his rights as a beneficiary revoked.

With reference to the widow, the will states: "Knowing well my beloved wife's sense of right and justice and her great affection for her children, I know they will be well taken care of."

Witnesses to the document are Elliott C. Iddings of No. 341 North Wilton place and J. H. Van Norman of Ocean Park. The will was dated April 13, 1915, and was filed by Attorney O'Melveny.

Mrs. Laura M. Rowan, the widow; Phillip D. Rowan, the brother, and the Title Insurance and Trust Company are named as executors of the estate. In considering the various points in the will, Mr. O'Melveny said:

"It is a difficult matter to estimate the value of the Rowan estate, because Mr. Rowan had a great number of equities in large realty holdings here, but I am inclined to think that $1,250,000 is a conservative figure."

YOUNG M'CUNE SUED FOR ALLEGED THEFT OF LOVE.

A. W. M'CUNE of Long Beach was made defendant in a suit for $50,000 damages, filed at Santa Barbara yesterday by H. Keno Marble of that city, who alleges that McCune alienated the affections of Mrs. Marble. The latter is now in Pasadena and has brought an action for divorce, to which Marble has entered a cross-complaint. McCune is the son of a wealthy mining man of Salt Lake.

According to a report received from Santa Barbara last night, Marble on Tuesday appealed to the police there, alleging that someone had broken into his home. Capt. of Police Champ of Santa Barbara investigated and declared that he had found McCune there. Later Marble appeared and McCune and Marble spent the night in the residence after their differences had been discussed, McCune showing a power of attorney from Mrs. Marble.

"We spent the night under the same roof here in my home merely because of the legal rights which McCune possessed in having my wife's power of attorney," Marble said in explanation. "There is much more coming out of our domestic troubles than disclosed by the complaint or in my cross-complaint, and I'll show McCune up in his true colors."

McCune denied that he has any other interest in Mrs. Marble than that of a friend. "I have never visited her except in company with my daughter," he said.

SANTA MONICA PLANS PROMOTION CAMPAIGN.

TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED people who own property in Santa Monica do not reside there. This surprising statement was made yesterday by Los Angeles members of the Santa Monica Beach Association at a luncheon in the Lankershim Hotel.

The figures resulted from a canvass of the Santa Monica city tax books, and they have a vital bearing upon the object of the association. It was organized several months ago to create unity between the resident and nonresident property owners of Santa Monica. Today the organization has fifty members in Los Angeles and it expects

ATTORNEY IS MADE MAJOR IN ARMY.

A. J. COPP, JR., RECEIVES APPOINTMENT IN JUDGE-ADVOCATE'S OFFICE.

Andrew J. Copp, Jr., of No. 314 South Union avenue, a prominent local attorney, yesterday received the appointment of major in the Judge-Advocate-General's department of the United States Army. He left immediately for Camp Dix, N. J., where he will be stationed for the present.

The honor bestowed upon Mr. Copp is important, since there are only about 160 judge-advocates in the army and navy. Maj. Copp is well qualified for such service, he having served as judge-advocate with the Federalized National Guard at the border two years ago. Since then he has been on the reserve list. He obtaind his military training as a California National Guardsman, and was captain of a company at San Francisco during the weeks following the great disaster in 1906. He is a Stanford graduate, a member of the Jonathan Club, and a prominent Knight Templar.

Arthur L. Ferry of No. 431 Centennial street, John D. Hill of No. 1721 Lucile avenue, Harry A. Swem of No. 5415 South Main street, and George E. Troxell of No. 1081 West Thirty-ninth place have been commissioned second lieutenants in the Engineering Corps. Rex C. Gale of No. 131 Grand avenue has been made second lieutenant in the air service.

Ralph T. Smith of Pomona is commissioned captain in the Medical Corps, and William J. Rady of Alameda and Dany Wiley of Glendora have been made second lieutenants in the air service.

Dr. William E. McLaughlin of this city, with offices in the Van Nuys Building, has received a captain's commission in the Medical Reserve Corps of the army, and will enter the service in the near future.

WOODEN SHIP SUCCESS.

Ferris-type Cargo Vessel Makes Good Showing on Trial Trip at Harbor.

The first Ferris-type wooden cargo vessel turned out by the Ralph J. Chandler Shipbuilding Company at Wilmington, and named the Bellota, made a trial trip up the channel yesterday afternoon and was out for four hours, making ten knots an hour without any effort at speed. A full force of government officials was aboard and all expressed gratification at the success of the trip. The skipper declared that in case of handling, the vessel was almost equal to a yacht.

When the vessel returned to the harbor it was tied up at the wharf for a few finishing touches after which it will be taken over by the United States Shipping Board and placed in service somewhere in the Pacific. The Chandler yard is finishing another vessel which will be ready to launch within about ten days, and others are to follow. The Bellota is a 3500-ton vessel.

Separate Maintenance.

MAGNATE'S WIFE GIVEN ONE DOLLAR PER MONTH.

CHARACTERIZING the testimony of Mary A. Dobbins as the most sordid tale heard by him during his career as a jurist, Judge Wood ordered yesterday that her husband, Timothy C. Dobbins, reputed wealthy inventor of skidchains, pay her $1 a month separate maintenance for a period of one year. In addition, the court ordered that all real and personal property, including a beautiful $14,000 home in Huntington Park, be sold, and the proceeds equally divided. Mrs. Dobbins is to retain what jewelry she has and her husband shall continue in possession of his automobile.

Annulment proceedings brought by Dobbins on the allegation that his wife was married in Telluride, Colo., to Fred L. Ripley at the time of his marriage to her in 1897 were denied, the court stipulating that positive proof of such marriage was lacking.

As an exciting climax to a day of revolting details, the court was constrained to caution Aguilar Harris, a brother of Mrs. Dobbins, not to interfere with Dobbins. Dobbins's attorney, Harrison Caszell, had brought to the attention of the court an alleged threat made by Harris that he was going to "stick around until he attended Dobbins's funeral." Harris was called to the stand, and denied having made such a threat.

"STARTING" SOMETHING.

"Do you intend to do Mr. Dobbins any bodily harm?" Harris was asked by Judge Wood.

"Not unless he starts something first," was the reply.

"Well, I am quite certain that Mr. Dobbins won't do that."

"If he does, he'll find me ready for him," retorted Harris.

Apropos of Mrs. Dobbins's testimony concerning the discovery of Mr. Dobbins and Miss Grace Gibson in a compromising position in his automobile in a secluded part of Hollywood, the court said that she launched into the unprintable details "with utter hardihood and without shame or trepidation."

"Such testimony would make splendid material for a moralist, which I am not," continued the court. "I am satisfied that Mrs. Dobbins was entirely willing that such an incident as here related should occur. The salacious details narrated by her without a wince certainly show a condition of moral depravity. After marriage each is entitled to the matrimonial course he or she desires to follow. Mrs. Dobbins chose the road of defamation."

Second Sack of Sugar Found at Business Place.

Men Who Sold it to Him Admit Having Stolen It.

Certificates for Consumers are Sent Out.

J. H. Neal, the Los Angeles grocer arrested late Tuesday afternoon at his place of business, No. 1203 Hooper avenue, on a charge of receiving a stolen 100-pound sack of sugar, was taken before the Federal authorities yesterday and, according to the arresting detective, will be prosecuted under the hoarding act. This will be the first such prosecution here. Another search of Neal's place of business yesterday morning is said to have revealed a second 100-pound sack of sugar for which Neal could not show certificates.

A complaint was filed against him yesterday in the civil court, charging him with receiving stolen property, after Glenn Riggle and George Wright, employees of the Stetson-Barrett Company, confessed to having stolen the sugar and sold it to Neal. Riggle was arraigned before Police Judge Fredericksen and pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny. He will be sentenced today. Wright, who is under 18 years, was turned over to the juvenile bureau.

Twelve young women volunteers were kept busy yesterday from 9 in the morning until after midnight assisting the local office of the United States Food Administration in making out and mailing the August sugar certificates to the retailers to public eating-houses and bakers.

Louis M. Cole, City Food Administrator, said that upon receiving certificates the inclosed receipt should immediately be sent to his office. On this receipt must be made a statement of the amount of uncashed July certificates and the amount of sugar the holder has on hand. The certificates issued for August so far are only 40 per cent. of the allotment, and they may be cashed for their face value at any time.

ONE-TIME POLITICAL BOSS IS UNDER FIRE.

George Brown, former political boss of the "colored" district, is under fire, the Council yesterday having directed Chief Butler to investigate conditions in and around his cafe, which is located on Central avenue, near Sixth street. One A. B. Branch complained against the place, making the following charges:

That the cafe is open week nights until 12 o'clock and until 2 o'clock on Sunday morning; that guests are served whiskey in coffee cups, and that the place is a nuisance.

Seeing "Pershing's Crusaders."

What Gale saw in big government war film.

"Pershing's Crusaders."

SIXTY-FIVE THOUSAND SEE GOVERNMENT FILM.

HAVE you ever seen a motion-picture in which every character except two were in military uniform? And have you ever stopped to think what the government is doing with the millions which you have contributed through your purchase of Liberty Bonds?

Proof of the public interest in the affairs of their government and especially to those that pertain to the life of their soldiers "over there" is attested by the fact that over 60,000 persons have seen "Pershing's Crusaders," the film which has been released by the United States government through the State Council of Defense, and which is being shown for the remainder of the week at the Alhambra Theater on Hill street.

In this picture, in which Gen. Pershing, Gen. Joffre, Gen. Foch, and thousands of the members of the American Expeditionary Force play the leading parts, the only two nonuniformed actors are President Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Daniels. And these are not featured pre-eminently, for the photoplay, which, by the way, has no fictionary plot and is minus "love" scenes, deals entirely with the life of the men who are making history today in France.

How the government is daring for them is portrayed. Great cantonments are pictured, and there are scenes of the world's greatest laundry, in which the apparel of thousands of men is cared for, and of the factories where machines, capable of cutting sixty uniforms at once are installed.

What Gen. Pershing has termed as a "mere handful" of his men pour through a French village for a quarter of an hour. Their treatment by the French is recorded, and scenes showing their camp life, both in drill and leisure hours, have been incorporated in the play.

"In five years of local theater management we have never had a picture that has caused the sensation that this film of our own boys has," was the statement yesterday of Roy Miller, under whose auspices the film is being shown.

"We feel that the film is fulfilling its purpose. The government has made it to show America what her men are doing on the other side of the big pond. Other motion-pictures have been made as propaganda, but none has ever carried the true life story that this brings forth. We have received hundreds of inquiries and could play the film for many weeks."

"Pershing's Crusaders," the men who are waging a holy war to make the world a decent place in which to live, are to appear in person on the local screen for the remainder of the week. They will then be shown elsewhere, as the film, under the direction of the Division on Films, is to make a nation-wide tour in the interests of American democracy.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Conger Bros. of St. Paul, Minn., say: "Fletcher's Castoria is certainly full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

C. G. A. Loder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."

The Scholtz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."

Hoagland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."

Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."

Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."

D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ills., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."

The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

pressions of Gen. Joffre and other French heroes of the great war.

ASTRA.

The first float in the line was that of the Astra Studios, representing Portugal. Chained to this float were the Kaiser, Von Hindenburg and other German generals. This feature brought forth howls of approval from the crowd.

METRO FLOAT.

The Metro float in the patriotic parade represented Cuba. It bore two symbolical figures, Liberty (impersonated by Anna Q. Nilsson,) and Cuba (impersonated by Miss Eileen Humes,) with Liberty enthroned and Cuba at her feet. The float, twenty-four feet long and ten feet wide, was drawn by four horses, each with a rider in native Cuban costume. An illuminated sign, reading "Like mother, like daughter," was strung between a replica of the blockhouses erected on San Juan Hill by the American people to commemorate the American victory in the war with Spain, on the front end of the float, and tropical foliage at the rear end, with two massive date palms at the corners of the back of the truck. The sides were banked with asparagus fern, and ivy and maple leaves, and draped with American flags. The wheels were also intertwined with the national colors, and those of Cuba. Hundreds of miniature lights, run by storage batteries, served to illuminate the float.

Bernal H. Dyas, Los Angeles manager of the Allied War Exhibit, last night made a public acknowledgement of the work done by the motion-picture industry. "In the interest of all chambers of commerce in Southern California I desire to express my and their appreciation of the great work done by the motion-picture industry," he said. "The Allied War Exhibit is a patriotic affair and, as usual, the motion-picture directors, assistants and players responded nobly. Their parade tonight was donated without any solicitation on our part."

EXPOSITION OPENING.

Today Los Angeles centers the attention of the West.

The Allied War Exhibition, sent by the government and by the Allies that we "over here" may more fully comprehend the meaning of the war "over there" opens its doors at Exposition Park today at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Los Angeles, in the person of Mary Pickford, accepts from the government a service flag containing nearly 14,000 stars, which has been presented to the city by the Committee on Public Information in return for Los Angeles' invitation to bring the exhibit here.

To herald the exhibition there will be one of the largest military parades ever staged in the city. With six bands, 2000 soldiers, French seventy-fives from the fighting front and a convoy of airplanes overhead, it will commence at 12:30 o'clock from Eighth and Hope streets. As a starting signal two guns will be fired, and the line of march will proceed as follows: down Seventh street to Broadway, thence to First, east to Spring and south on Spring to Ninth street, where the entire parade will be transported on cars to the Liberty Forum at Exposition Park. Here, at 2 o'clock, the United States Naval Reserve Band, under Capt. Guy Whitlock, will give a half-hour concert.

One of the outstanding features of the parade will be the appearance of the original British tank, "Britannia," in command of Capt. Richard Haigh, who is the director of the British army exhibit for the exhibition, Sergt. Blunt and the original crew. This will be preceded by a squadron of automobiles carrying returned officers and soldiers of all the Allied nations, who have seen actual service.

Lieuts. H. N. Chaffee and H. H. Wells of the Aviation Corps at San Diego flew over the city yesterday on their way to Arcadia. They, together with Lieut. Marshall, have been designated by Lieut.-Col. W. N. Hensley, commandant of the Arcadia balloon school, as an air convoy for the parade. They will hover over the downtown section of the city during the marching, and from 2:30 to 3:30 today, and each day during the exhibition will perform air drills over the grounds at Exposition Park.

Six bands are to take part in this monster parade, including those from the Naval Reserve station, the Submarine Base, Fort MacArthur, Soldiers' Home, the Los Angeles fire department and the police department. Leo V. Starr, grand marshal of the parade, will head the divisions of men, which are to be from the Arcadia Balloon School, the Naval Training Station, the Submarine Base, Fort MacArthur, divisions comprising the army veterans, the Red Cross and the Los Angeles Women's Battalion.

Escorting Miss Los Angeles to her place of honor at 2:30 o'clock will be an assemblage of military heads, including Capt. H. C. Poundstone, Submarine Base; Capt. Hensley, Arcadia Balloon School; Col. Williams, Fort MacArthur; Capt. Guy Whitlock, United States Naval Training Station; Gov. Stephens; Bernal Dyas, director for Southern California; Wendell McMahill, director of programme; Mayor Woodman and Chester I. Campbell, director of expositions, bureau of public information. This party of celebrities will ride on top of the "Britannia" to the Liberty Forum, where the presentation of the city's service flag will take place. Speeches of welcome will be made by Gov. Stephens, Mayor Woodman, Motley H. Flint, Federal Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe and Mary Pickford.

THE PROGRAMME.

The entire programme for today is as follows:

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Marries at Church of the Angels.

In her gown of white embroidered georgette crepe, wearing a long tulle veil and carrying orchids and orange blossoms, Miss Lucille Ballard of this city made a lovely picture yesterday when she became the bride of Mr. Ralph Drury Jennison of New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry Thompson in the Church of the Angels at 5:30 o'clock.

The church was handsomely decorated in yellow dahlias; and the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. V. Ballard Giles of No. 500 South Kingsley drive, where a reception was held later, was done in yellow roses.

The bride had no attendants, save her mother, who gave her in keeping. She was gowned in orchid silk and wore a picture hat. Mr. Arden Day was Mr. Jennison's best man. One hundred and twenty-five guests witnessed the ceremony and were also present at the reception.

The bride is one of Los Angeles' prominent society girls and she is one of the most stunning. She was educated in the East and in Europe and has traveled extensively in America and abroad.

The couple will go immediately to New York, where they will reside in Warwick Drive, New Rochelle.

Mrs. Stephens.

Mrs. Albert Miller Stephens of No. 711 South Kingsley drive has invited a coterie of friends to a luncheon which she has arranged for Monday. Her guests will be Baroness Alfred de Ropp, and her house guest Miss Mildred Lacy of Santa Barbara; Mrs. Robert D. Read, Mrs. Harry Chase, Mrs. Donald Frick, Mrs. Walter Clark and Misses May and Ann Web.

Wedding Postponed.

Because Mr. Alfred V. Orena received sudden orders to leave Camp Lewis, where he was stationed and report at once at an eastern camp, his marriage to Miss Catharine Keeling has been indefinitely postponed. It was to have been a brilliant church wedding and was to have taken place this month. Miss Keeling and her mother, Mrs. E. C. Keeling, have just returned from San Diego, where they were called by Mr. Orena, when he received his orders. Miss Dowling plans to leave in two weeks for San Francisco, where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. O'Melveny Arrives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart O'Melveny are receiving congratulations over the birth of a grand-daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Melveny (Miss Phyllis Miller.) Donald O'Melveny is now in France in the American army.

Capt. and Mrs. Spencer.

At a dinner party at the Hotel del Coronado, at which Mr. John Hertzman complimented Capt. and Mrs. Spencer, who go soon to Washington, Mrs. Vernon Goodwin, Miss Elizabeth Niles and Miss Katherine Torrance of this city were among the guests.

Wife of Gen. Strong.

Mrs. Frederick S. Strong, wife of Gen. Strong was guest of honor at a luncheon given by the society women of San Diego at the U. S. Grant Hotel. Mrs. Erskine Campbell, Mrs. Julius Wangenheim, Mrs. Frank Gatman, Mrs. G. Aubrey Davidson and Miss Gertrude Gilbert were hosts.

composed the Committee of Arrangements. Covers were laid for seventy-five. A service band played throughout the luncheon.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sinclair of No. 1212 West Forty-first street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Sinclair, to Mr. Ward D. Ridgley of Redondo Beach. Mr. Ridgley is stationed at Camp Taliaferro, San Diego. News of the engagement was told at a dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair entertained in compliment to Mrs. R. K. McGuffin of Imperial, Cal. No date has been set for the wedding.

Wood-Katch Wedding.

Miss Ruth Wood and Mr. James Katch were married by Rev. J. M. Schaefle at his home at No. 1206 El Molino street in the present of relatives and friends. After a wedding trip the couple will be at home at No. 2324 Juliet street.

Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw.

Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw is having a delightful time in the East, although war work has kept her far from idle. Last Saturday evening she shared honors with a number of distinguished guests at a brilliant moonlight fete, which Mr. and Mrs. James D. Lacey of New Windsor, N. J., gave on their estate. Mme. Yaw sang and scored a great hit. The affair was for the Red Cross and 200 guests were there. Mme. Yaw also sang for the Naval Reserves at the open-air theater in Newport the Monday previous.

Personals.

Mrs. Richard A. Stassforth and mother Mrs. Elizabeth Haoni of No. 721 South Kingsley drive, left yesterday for Hotel del Coronado, where they will tarry for two or three weeks. They are going by automobile.

Misses Fannie and Lillian Martin and their niece, Miss Helen Hambly who motored from San Francisco, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burton of Ardmore avenue. They came down the coast route and visited in Paso Robles and Santa Barbara. They leave for their home by the valley road, next week. While here they motored down to Coronado for a few days.

Mrs. C. E. Wilson and her mother, Mrs. Gabrielle Sims of Kansas City, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of No. 200 South Union avenue, will remain here several months—while Mrs. Wilson's husband, Maj. Wilson, is in France. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Sims are sister and mother, respectively, of Mrs. Miller.

Dr. Robert Dudley Emergy, who has been in the East several months, attending the national Osteopathic convention in Boston and visiting in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Chicago, is en route home. He will stop to talk at the Rocky Mountain Association at Colorado Springs and Denver and upon his arrival home will go with his family for an automobile trip through the mountains of Northern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Chandler and Mrs Dan McFarland are spending the summer at Redondo Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. West Hughes have returned from a motor trip through the Yosemite, where they spent much of their time fishing. They also stopped in San Francisco en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Mullen left yesterday for Grand Canyon, where they will have a two week's outing.

Miss Margaret Annette Porter has just returned from Catalina, where she was a member of a yachting party at which Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hayes were hosts.

EXTRAORDINARY BILL.

BIG STARS GIVE FREE SHOW TO LIBERTY BOYS.

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

There probably is nothing new under the sun, but there is a great deal of the old we haven't seen yet No man goes so far that he cannot find a fresh view, and no man learns so much but that endless discoveries await his approach.

Across the wild fields from the tents of the Volunteer Players at Camp Kearny, the moon lifted itself at the rim of the mesa and lay like a mammoth wheel of gold propped against misty hills. It had done this through countless years. It was as old as anything in the world is old, but it was new to Julian Eltinge, William Farnum, Fred Stone and Mme. Mariska Aldrich, as Dustin Farnum drove them in a powerful car along the silver thread of road that was like a river in the light. Never before had this group of notable people watched a moonrise back of Mexican hills and listened to the bay of coyotes with the musketry of applause from more than 4000 American soldiers still echoing in their ears.

They had been down to conduct the opening of the Liberty Theater at Camp Kearny, and exactly 4127 soldiers, headed by Gen. Frederick S. Strong and his staff, had witnessed the remarkable performance given under the supervision of Raymond Wells, director of the Volunteer Players, yet comprised wholly of outside talent, organized by Dustin Farnum and directed by Frank Lloyd.

In addition to the famous people already mentioned, the cast of the evening sketches included such brilliant personalities as Elizabeth Murray, Gladys Brockwell, Wellington Cross, Ted Shapiro, Margaret Loomis and dainty Nancy Caswell, who is perhaps all of four and a half years of age, and who gave the finest performance of "The Littlest Rebel," assisted by Dustin and William Farnum, Wheeler Oakman, "Billy" Faber, William Burress and others that it has ever been my pleasure to witness. She is the tiniest and the sweetest child actress I have ever seen and seems to possess the faculty of memory to an amazing degree.

No act of the evening seemed to hold more surprise and delight for the audience of France-bound boys than the wholesome and artistic female impersonations by Mr. Eltinge. An artist may live a lifetime of success without hearing such applause. Scores of fellows who never saw Eltinge before never did understand that he was a man and went away saying things about "the wonderful woman in red."

Mme. Aldrich sang gloriously and Elizabeth Murray was the essence of drollery. All of the acts were superb, so that the soldiers saw at least a $10 bill for nothing.

While the new theater includes many generous mistakes, chiefly due to its size and inadequate acoustics, it has the virtue of a big seating capacity which is the main point.

Raymond Wells is out for two more volunteer character men and nearly everybody down there who knows about the vacancies is clamoring to have Charles Gunn fill one of them.

As an extra treat Mr. Wells is planning to stage the big out-of-door spectacle of "Julius Caesar" for the boys and use 5000 soldiers in arms along the hills as a background for the action. Tyrone Power will again be Brutus and William Farnum will once more deliver his superb Marc Antony. Dustin Farnum will be Cassius and Theodore Roberts Caesar. Mme. Aldrich will be urged to take a part and Miss Constance Crawley is hoped for as Octavia. It ought to make the biggest show in the world, and probably will.

"The Light of Asia."

Only four nights remain in which to see "America's Passion Play," the startling, spectacular and yet sublime production of "The Light of Asia," dramatized by Georgina Jones Walton from Sir Edwin Arnold's famous mystical poem. The play which deals with the trials and temptations of Buddha, presents a curious parallel between the lives of Buddha and of Jesus Christ. The temptation, the agony, the period of self-examination and trial in the wilderness—including those exercises in silent invitation and a sensual suppression common to all manifestations of Christ in fleshly form—are seen to be closely paralleled in the dramatic story of Buddha's life as in that of Jesus of Nazareth.

"The Light of Asia" is at once an engrossing and inspiring study to the spiritually minded, as well as a veritable feast to the senses. Ruth St. Denis, with her wonderful Denishawn dancers, present several strikingly sensational and novel dances, particularly in that of "Temptation" dance.

The acting of Walter Hampden, the eminent Shakespearian actor, as the Buddha, is a veritable tour de force of dramatic and inspirational work, while the splendor of the settings and natural scenery, enhanced by the starlit curtain of the night, the chatter of crickets and the occasional song of the night birds, weave a magical spell over the enraptured spectator of this singularly beautiful and beautifully singularly play, which concludes its present run at the Krotona Stadium in Hollywood next Sunday night.

Mme. Passart's Picnic.

A novel picnic was given Tuesday evening by Mme. Cornelia Passart, the concert pianist, on the beach at Santa Monica, a few miles beyond the famous Inceville ranch. The site was chosen by William Conklin when it was used as a location in the picture in which he is being filmed by the Universal company. Amid a circle of Japanese lanterns and with a huge fire on the sand, supper was cooked, and here the guests sat far into the night, exchanging stories, experiences and singing songs. Among those present, besides the charming hostess, were William Conklin and his wife, Lucy Blake; Mr. and Mrs. Lee of Dubuque, Ia.; Thornton Church, lately arrived from New York to be featured in Universal films; George B. Cole, the artist and son of Mrs. Cornelius Cole, who toured the country with Susan B. Anthony in her campaign for woman suffrage; his nieces, Mrs. M. N. Mather and Olive Waring, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Carter of Hollywood.

MISS CLARK TO WED.

PICTURE STAR WILL BECOME A SOLDIER'S BRIDE.

By Grace Kingsley.

The lovely Marguerite Clark, Famous Players-Lasky star, is to become a bride. Not only a bride, but a soldier's bride. The happy man is Lieut. H. Palmerson Williams, U.S. A., and the announcement is made by no less an authority than the sister of Marguerite Clark, Miss Cora Clark.

It appears that the romance between the star and the soldier began at the time of the third Liberty Loan drive, when Miss Clark was in New Orleans. While Lieut. Williams's interest in the Liberty Loan drive was naturally at all times of the keenest, it is reported that after Miss Clark's appearance on the scene, in the light of a pleader in the cause of the bonds, the lieutenant's interest arose to fairly feverish pitch.

Mr. Williams has a splendid social position in the South, and has a fortune in his own right. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams of St. Charles avenue, New Orleans, and he is himself head of the Williams Lumber Company of Louisiana. He is at present stationed in Washington, D. C., and it was while Miss Clark was visiting friends there that the engagement came about.

Domestic Item.

After all, Carl McCullough, who is making a riotous success this week at the Orpheum, and his lovely wife, May Thompson, well-known musical comedy star, will not go out in a sketch this fall, as they had planned. Mrs. McCullough is at present in retirement, awaiting a family event. She is the guest of Adolph Friml and Mrs. Friml in Long Beach, New York. McCullough himself expects to do some picture work following his present Orpheum tour, and to that end he will have a test made today at Triangle Culver City studios.

Vitagraph Comes West.

That the entire Vitagraph forces, with the possible exception of one or two companies, are to be moved West to work at the Hollywood studios of the organization, was the announcement received yesterday from an eastern representative of the company.

According to present plans, six companies now working in New York are to come West on or about September 1, together with the directors. Included in those likely to come are Alice Joyce, Edward Earle, Anita Stewart, Gladys Leslie, Harry Morey and Betty Blythe, though it is understood Miss Stewart has expressed a strong desire to remain in New York.

To provide accommodations for these companies a huge new stage is being erected on the Vitagraph's Hollywood studio grounds, while a large laboratory is also being fitted up with all the modern conveniences for the comfort of the stars.

Earle Williams expects to remain in the West all winter, and has just commenced a new picture.

We'll Hear Her Voice.

Carmel Myers, Bluebird star, is not to remain in the silent world of pictures, according to the present plans of the young lady herself, and of A. H. Woods, theatrical producer of New York.

During Miss Myers's recent stay in New York, she and her mother visited Mr. Woods, and such an impression did the gifted young woman make upon him that the manager has planned to put her into one of his productions next fall.

Miss Myers admits she has always had a great longing to go on the stage, the "always" of course being only a few short years at best, as Miss Myers is now only 17 years old.

Frank Mandel's Latest.

A new play by Frank Mandel, author of "The High Cost of Loving," and entitled "A Perfect Day," will serve to introduce Bertha Mann's successor as leading woman at the Morosco Theater. The play will go into rehearsal next week, under the direction of Fred Butler.

Leo is Entertained.

Leo Carillo of the "Lombardi" company, at the Mason, is being entertained every moment he isn't working or sleeping, and it is even reported that yesterday he stopped in at the theater on the way home to play the matinee. Last night he was the guest of honor of Donald Hawley, the Morosco house manager, at the latter's residence, on the occasion of a stag party.

Look Out, Ruthie Dear!

Ruth Budd, scoring a big hit at the Orpheum this week in her trapeze act, and who flirts daily with the undertaker, narrowly escaped an accident the other evening when her apparatus got loose, swinging her out in zigzag fashion by one leg from a ring. The electrician noted her predicament and quickly switched off the light while she righted herself, so that probably nobody in the audience knew anything was wrong.

De Mille Plans Big Film.

Cecil de Mille is planning a tremendous picture production of "The Squaw Man," to be released through the Artcraft programme. He has not yet announced as to whether he will engage the original cast which produced the play on the stage, and which had Dustin Farnum as its star. Mr. Farnum is at present tied up with the Harry Sherman Productions, and is making a big success along that line.

Mass Meeting.

The Stage Women's War Relief will hold a mass meeting at the Mason Operahouse tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. All women members of the acting profession, whether of stage or screen, are earnestly requested to be present, as matters of moment regarding the future work of the organization are to be discussed.

FOR AUTO THEFT.

J. Hornbeck, a truck driver, was arraigned and his preliminary examination set for August 7, by Justice Palmer yesterday, on a charge of embezzling an automobile belonging to S. E. Babson. The car was said to have been stolen from a garage at No. 7295 Compton avenue on December 22, last.

Diva's Employee.

GENERAL ALARM OUT FOR MURDERER OF BESTHORN.

A GENERAL alarm was sent out yesterday for the slayer of Wilhelm Besthorn, a gardener on Mme. Schumann-Heink's estate, who was murdered several days ago on the premises of the diva at Grossmont, her mountain home, near San Diego. Besthorn was formerly in the German navy, but had recently taken out his first papers for naturalization. An investigation was conducted by W. A. Weymouth, of the Department of Justice office at San Diego, as to the status of the murdered man, some months ago. Yesterday Mr. Weymouth accompanied the Sheriff's deputies to the scene of the murder, but stated that he had nothing to do with the investigation, that everything was satisfactory when the investigation was made recently regarding Besthorn.

Besthorn was 26 years old, and well liked. He had $300 or $400 lying on his dresser when the Department of Justice agent called on him. Mr. Weymouth cautioned him about his carelessness. When the body was found he had no money and his pockets had been rifled. Robbery is believed to be the motive of the murder, which was most brutal. Besthorn was evidently hit on the head by a blunt instrument while engaged in his work. The body was buried about a foot beneath the surface of the ground. The body was discovered through the scratching of the earth by his own dogs, which were noticed by a maid. The murder was probably committed last Thursday, in the absence of Mrs. Henry Schumann-Heink, who is in charge of the home while Mme. Schumann-Heink is in the East. Some empty cartridges were found near the body, but no weapon was located. The inquest over the body will be held today.

SWISS TO OBSERVE INDEPENDENCE DAY.

PLANS FOR PICNIC AT CULVER CITY INCLUDE SHOOTING CONTEST.

Today is the Swiss Fourth of July and Sixth of April combined, for it was on the first day of August, 1291, that the men of three valleys in the mountain region of Germany made themselves into a confederacy for defense against the Hapsburgs. And the legend goes that it was on that day that William Tell committed his famous overt act on the bailiff of Uri, one Landvogt (vassal) Gessler of Austria, which precipitated the struggle resulting in the world's first republic.

In celebration of the six hundred and twenty-seventh anniversary of Swiss independence from kultur, the local Swiss will have a picnic Sunday on the Casserini grounds at Culver City. Under the shade of olive trees, within sound of a splashing brooklet, they will sing their folk songs and those of other nations; they will eat cheese pies and onion pies, those delicacies of Switzerland; and, like true descendants of William Tell, they will shoot at targets when the dancing and singing and feasting is over.

Helvetia, the local Swiss singing society, arranged the picnic, not only to celebrate their independence day, but also to swell the Swiss relief fund, which helps sick and needy soldiers and their families and also other deserving people in Switzerland. To this end the committee in charge, composed of Mrs. L. Ducommun, H. M. Kull, H. Graf, H. Welti and H. Bassetti, have arranged a programme that will be well worth the admission fee of 25 cents charged. The thirty members of the singing society, in national costume, will sing the songs of Switzerland in their native tongue, and the songs of America, France and Italy, each in the native language. There will be dancing to the music of violins and a concert, and various games will be played.

to have many times that number in the near future.

Vice-president Hall stated yesterday that the association is working for the upbuilding of Santa Monica Beach as a residence and resort city, and that this aim will be accomplished by the expenditure of millions of dollars in high-grade improvements. Backed up by the right kind of advertising the city expects to enjoy great prosperity in the future.

The chair was authorized yesterday to appoint a committee of three, association members who will have charge of a publicity campaign looking toward a greater spirit of mutual interest between the nonresident property owners.

"What we have been needing in Santa Monica is a bunch of hustlers," said Chairman Hall, yesterday. "Too many of the property owners have lived somewhere else. The Santa Monica Beach Association intends to bring together all the people who own property there, and show them that it is to their interest to go ahead and make great improvements which will be in keeping with the natural advantages of the city. The organization does not intend to dabble with politics in any way. It intends to build."

FOR WOMAN SELF-SLAIN.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ethel M. Ferry, who ended her life by shooting herself three times Tuesday in a room at the Alexandria Hotel will be held this morning at the chapel of Breese Bros. Interment will be at Inglewood Cemetery. Mrs. Ferry was 27 years old, the wife of James E. Ferry of No. 1321 Oak street.

Our Allies' National Songs.

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why do not the citizens of Los Angeles rise with the first chord of any and all of our allies' national anthems, instead of straggling out of their seats when the piece is one-fourth over, as happens in most of our theaters here. Also why do not our audiences sing the different national anthems and our own various battle songs, as they do in New York, and as the other nations do?

With the exception of a young man beside me, who was game as myself, I was the only person who stood when the Marseillaise was played during a performance of the first series of "Hearts of the World" at Clune's Auditorium.

Our Primary Law Farce.

GLENDALE, July 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In an editorial this morning The Times says, "For that reason the August primaries will be more or less of a farce."

Is not the whole primary law a farce from beginning to end? We waste a lot of sympathy on "bleeding Kansas" because of the populistic and free silverism fads and follies, but Kansas in its palmiest days of populism and free silverism never had anything on California progressivism. We of California talk flippantly about making the world "free for democracy," while we allow the political bosses to saddle upon this State that leopard, zebra, chameleon, hydra-headed political monster that has "no pride of ancestry, nor hope of posterity" called the California "Direct Primary Law," as a sample of democracy, which has no more resemblance to true democracy or republicanism, than true democracy has to Kaiserism.

Was the primary law enacted for the benefit of the people at large? It was not. Does the primary law enable the people to select the candidates to fill the various offices? It does not. Was the primary law enacted to enable the people to govern themselves through their chosen representatives? It was not. Instead of that, it was enacted to further the interests of the Johnson plunderbund which manipulates the whole political machinery of this State.

Let us return to sanity and true republicanism, which is true democracy.

Colored Nurses.

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The recent objection to colored girls entering the County Hospital to fit themselves for nurses came as a surprise to the 35,000 or more colored Americans in this city and county. I am not writing to criticise those who have pledged themselves to fight for democracy and that the traditions of this country shall forever be upheld. But I am writing to appeal to the Christian conscience, to the principles which prompt all to claim American citizenship.

The principle of this great country is that all men are created equal, and for the preservance of that principle we are fighting today the battle of our smaller and weaker brothers. Is the negro included as a brother? Are we going to transport democracy away from our shore to plant in Europe?

As soldiers we negroes have always done what was required of us. As nurses, we will do the same. On the battlefield, give us the same chance you give our white brother. Give our sisters the same chance our white sisters have, and we will make you proud. The finger touch of our black sister will be as tender as that of our white sister.

WHAT IS TOBACCO?

In our opinion, the feared shortage of the tobacco crop for home consumption, on account of the fact that so much is needed by the American soldiers abroad, is not likely to interfere with the supply of some of the more or less celebrated brands of cigars and smoking tobacco of which we wot.

IDLE ROUTINE.

Why should the government call the attention of Berlin to the fact that under international law enemy officers held as prisoners of war must be paid for their labors by their captors? Why have such child-like faith in the Berlin chiefs? Why bother Germany with international law at this stage of the proceedings?

EASY ENOUGH.

Since no one is allowed to shoot fire-arms or spread poison within the city limits, the Public Welfare Committee is at a loss as to how to get rid of the squirrels that are destroying valuable trees in Griffith Park. What's the matter with the old idea of sprinkling salt on their tails, capturing them alive and then turning them over to the Red Cross to sell as pets?

GOOD NEWS.

The War Department has modified the orders regarding the relatives of soldiers going to France in order to permit sisters of soldiers to enlist as Red Cross workers. This will be good news to thousands of young women who could not understand why they were barred from the danger zones to which their brothers are sent. God bless them; if they want to go, let them go! The very knowledge that their noble sisters are near them will be of infinite comfort to the brave men "over there."

BULL AND BACON.

According to a recent copy of the London Times ham, bacon and other pork products may be now had in practically unlimited quantities in England by those who have the price. And the price is not exorbitant to Yankee minds. The very choicest brands of sliced bacon may be had at the maximum figure of 52 cents a pound in American money. It comes from Chicago, where the same grade and cuts are retailing at 60 cents. John Bull may give thanks to Uncle Sam for enabling him to bring home the bacon. It is all the Germans can do to keep the watch on the rind.

WE'RE STILL GROWING.

Doubtless there were times in the history of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New Orleans and San Francisco when those cities were dubbed mushroom towns and short-sighted cynics warned would-be investors to watch their steps. Even Los Angeles was once a little desert pueblo with a population of only a few hundred Indians and Mexicans. There were no railroads, no street cars; it was so far—oh, so far!—to the sea, a harbor had not been dreamed of and only enough food was raised in the county to keep the people from starvation. But there were men in those days who looked ahead—wise men with strong hearts and great purpose who looked down the aisles of coming time and saw things and conditions as they exist today. Their dreams came true and their children and children's children are now enjoying the blessings bequeathed to them by the real men and women who lived here more than half a century ago. Los Angeles is still in her youth and another half century will bring her to that glorious maturity of which the enterprising inhabitants today are dreaming and for which they are nobly planning.

BLESSED BE IGNORANCE.

Most of us deceive ourselves when we say we wish to know what the future holds for us. Certainly we do not wish to be apprised of coming evil, and it is just as true that most of us like good fortune to come as a surprise. One of the meanest tricks one friend could play on another would be to tell him what he had bought him for a Christmas or birthday present. On the other hand, the bearer of bad news is unpardonable. If we could know that within a given time, whether of weeks, months or years, our friends and relatives would be taken from us, or we from them, our every meeting would be heart-breaking and every temporary parting full of almost unbearable sorrow. If we were sure, when we meet even a casual friend, that we would never see his face again how filled with solicitude we would be for his welfare, how kind and considerate we would be toward him, and yet how poignant would be our hidden grief in bidding him good-by! It is probable that every forthcoming event is as well known to the Manager of the universe as is every past occurrence. If this be so, then kind indeed is Providence to keep man in blessed ignorance of the pain that, for some good reason, he is destined to suffer, while ever holding before his eyes the shining star of hope.

YESTERDAY'S BATTLING.

To the initiated reader yesterday's fight was the finest achievement thus far scored by the American troops in France.

In the earlier days of the battle the point might have been raised that the Germans were, in the first instance, fighting an advance guard action on difficult ground at Chateau Thierry; in the later fights the Americans were contending against a rear guard whose purpose plainly was to slowly give ground to protect the withdrawal of the great German army.

But there were no two ways about the fights for Clerges, Sergy and Seringes.

By no stretch of the imagination could these fights be regarded as strategic retirements. They were knock-down and drag-out fights. The German General Staff had previously selected a line at which the withdrawal was to stop. It was on the books that the Germans should take their stand in these villages and hold them at all costs.

The Huns were no longer fighting at a disadvantage in any way. They had all the physical facts in their favor. They were again in close contact with their line of communications. They have the advantage of being able to choose the ground where the fight shall take place. The eyes of all Germany were upon them when the great General Staff said, "Now."

The German troops who were chosen to make the stand were the pick and flower of European soldiery. In temperament, fighting quality and morale the finest troops ever developed were supposed to be the famous Prussian Guard; and second to them were ranked the equally famous Bavarian Guard.

Not one of these, but both, were sent into the fight to hold the towns against the long-shanked boys from America—boys from the Iowa prairies, from the sidewalks of New York, from the shadow of old Harvard.

It was a grim and terrible battle. There is a conspicuous absence of news about the taking of prisoners. It was kill or get killed.

In the face of these appalling conditions the American boys have written their names in imperishable glory.

Many, many battles have been fought in days gone by upon these same bloody fields! The ground has been soaked with the blood that welled from many a brave heart now long forgotten; but it is not too much to say that no finer troops have ever been seen on these or upon any other battle grounds than the Yankee boys who swapped shot for shot with the Kaiser's proud Prussian Guard.

The fight at Sergy is an earnest and a pledge for the future. The Yanks have answered the anxious question that has trembled upon the lips of Europe.

Can we lick them?

You bet!

RENTED GARDENS.

Just what is the legal status of a renter? Several Los Angeles gardeners, who are "farming" portions of the yards about their rented homes, together with adjoining or near-by vacant lots, find themselves in an embarrassing situation which seems to verify the oft-repeated contention that a tenant who rents from month to month is almost a "nobody," and that the power which naturally accrues to owners of property gives the transient renter little recourse.

This situation takes on an added significance when it is learned that the existence of several highly-productive Los Angeles war gardens, planted and cultivated at a great personal sacrifice as a strictly patriotic measure, is threatened, and several unfortunate tenants are highly indignant because landlords have ordered them to accept a change in form of lease providing that the properties be open for inspection and subject to sale. Unwilling to submit to these terms, the tenants have been served with notices that the rent would be increased to a point which would make it necessary for them to move out. As a result they find themselves facing the necessity of allowing indiscriminate inspection of the premises, losing their gardens by a sale of the property or moving away and deriving no benefit from them.

It has even been charged that certain property owners are using the gardens as a means of making a quick sale.

Apparently the landlords, having given the tenants no stated lease, are entirely within the law in demanding the privilege, upon giving the usual notice, of renting the property subject to sale after a stated date, or in notifying the tenant of a prohibitive increase in rent. Yet it seems unfortunate that the patriotic gardeners, with their plots just now at the stage of heaviest production, should find themselves suddenly facing the prospect of seeing their gardens pass into other hands.

The lesson to be derived from this experience seems to be this: Before putting labor and expense into a garden on rented ground have a written agreement with the owner as to terms and period of rental, taking a lease for a long enough time to assure the securing of good returns from the garden. This, of course, applies to vacant lots as well as to residence property. No other arrangement can protect the tenant from the will of the owner, whose legal rights are clear and unquestionable.

BARRING THE BUGGY.

Even the old buggy will be standardized if the War Industry Board has its way. This board has asked the vehicle manufacturers to restrict their output to two patterns or designs of wagons and but one style of buggy. Just look up the catalogue of a carriage manufacturing plant of a generation ago and see what this means! Possibly the board finds it advisable to muss up business and standardize everything it can, and it really doesn't make much difference what happens to the buggy any more; but what sort of a roar would go up in America if only one design of buzz-wagon could be used? Even the rakish sidebar buggy, with its narrow piano box, which was the joy and pride of the Sunday girl, has disappeared and will exist only in the misty recollections of Romance. After all, it was not the fittest—although a mighty snug fit—and therefore may not survive. It has gone the way of the one-hoss shay which lived but a hundred years and a day.

American has never lost a war. It is too late now to write a new precedent.

The Help.

A PATRIOTIC BOARD.

Of all the patriotic organizations in this country none is serving the flag more loyally and effectively than the State Council of Defense of New Mexico. By means of their fearless, aggressive and consistent, anti-Germanist propaganda they have stopped the sale of the Examiner and Hearst publications by news dealers in the State; and Hearst is now seeking to lift the ban through injunction proceedings. Huh! No legal action can compel the people of New Mexico to either buy or sell the Examiner. Hearst is wasting his powder. The State Council of Defense of New Mexico has proceeded against him as a dangerous public enemy within our gates, and the patriotic citizens are with them wholeheartedly. The outsweeping of Hearstism in all its forms from New Mexico is the most significant thing that has been done in any State in the Union. Here is a State Council of Defense that has really achieved something tangible for the safety of the nation. The council is to be congratulated on its loyalty and good judgment. It knew where to strike, and will keep on hitting, regardless of Hearst's mustard gas and dum-dums.

GLORY AND INITIATIVE.

During a recent week the King of England had occasion to distribute three Victoria Crosses—which is about the most glorious decoration which can adorn the breast of a fighting man. In each case they were awarded to under officers and for the display of initiative—that quality in which the American soldier excels, but which is so miserably lacking in the make-up of that over-rated Prussian military machine. The English are showing it more in this war than they ever did before and it is in part due to the creation of a system which makes every private a potential major-general. From the public statements made in connection with the awards of these crosses it appears that Sergt. Albert Mountain was a member of a company that had dug itself in in an old sunken road in the face of a galling artillery fire. The enemy was advancing in mass against them, preceded by a patrol of about 200 men. The sergeant saw that a counter-attack or diversion was necessary so he called for ten men and a Lewis gun. The little party managed to creep around on the flank of the enemy and then with an enfilading fire they practically annihilated the patrol. They took thirty prisoners, but the rest of the advance party were killed or disabled. By this time the main body of the enemy came up and the British were required to leave their position. Sergt. Mountain and his squad found a strategic defensive position with his gun and remained to cover the retreat. They mowed the enemy down in blocks and remained until they were surrounded by a force of 600 or more. They held the Germans thus in check for an hour and even then were able to fight their way through and join their company. There the sergeant at once took charge of the flanking post of his battalion and held it for twenty-seven hours and until again surrounded by the enemy. He was one of the few who was able to fight his way through the enemy ranks and regain his original command. He disposed of about 300 Heinies in the course of the day's work and was never at loss what to do when the emergency summoned. He was not merely brave but strategic and resourceful.

The incidents connected with the award of the other two decorations differed but little in the quality of heroism or readiness shown. Lieut. Percy Starkey and six men protected his command by a flank charge on a company of 100 of the enemy, bayoneting thirty of them and capturing three officers, fifty men and a machine gun. Lieut. Cecil Herring's post was surrounded and he was cut off from his command by vastly superior forces. But he did not hesitate to order a counter-attack in which they took six machine guns and thirty prisoners, besides retaking their post and establishing communication with their own forces.

Never make sport of these Percy and Cecil boys again.

But it is by initiative as well as bravery and resourcefulness that Victoria Crosses are won and it is through the initiative of the individual that the supreme tests of the war will be decided.

And it is in initiative that the Americans pre-eminently shine.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF BRITISH NAVY.

Since war broke out the navy has been instrumental in transporting to the British armies and Allies:

Thirteen million men (of whom only 3700 have been lost by enemy action.)

Two million horses and mules.

Fifty-one million tons of oil and fuel.

In addition, 130,000,000 tons of food and other materials have been moved in British ships.

The British navy has driven the surface warships of the Central Powers into harbor and kept them there. Early in the war it destroyed Von Spee's squadron at the Falkland Islands and rounded up raiders. At the moment only one enemy surface vessel that managed to break out is unaccounted for.

The 140,000 square nautical miles of the North Sea, an area larger than Germany, are patrolled incessantly, in all weathers.

In regard to the naval blockade it may be noted that, whereas in 1915 256 out of 1400 ships eluded the patrol squadrons, at the end of 1916 only 60 out of 3000 escaped being intercepted. In one month of 1917 not a single vessel trading with neutral countries crossed the North Atlantic and Arctic Oceans without being held up and examined.

POLITICS.

The American Game.

THE WATCHMAN.

TREND OF POLITICAL THOUGHT AND ACTION.

By the Sentry on His Beat.

Carrying water on both shoulders is not new in the game of politics, reprehensible as it may be.

When C. H. Randall learned that sentiment against him in the Ninth Congress District had crystallized and that his chances for re-election were swiftly dwindling, he sent an S.O.S. to the drys. He knew the futility of appealing to the patriotism of the electorate.

Someone told the discredited incumbent that even the prohibition forces were lining up ferninst him; that Doc Gandier was espousing the candidacy of S. W. Odell. Randall immediately demanded an explanation from Dr. Gandier, and now he is exhibiting in Washington with great glee a letter which he asserts he received from the Anti-Saloon League leader. The letter says:

"I want you to know that I am in no sense responsible for Odell's candidacy. I told him that I hoped that he would not run, as I appreciated the splendid work the party prohibitionists are doing for ratification of the national amendment, and did not wish anything to divide our forces."

Now, if Dr. Gandier did write such a letter to Randall, Mr. Odell surely has a kick coming. I know that Odell's candidacy was not in any manner objectionable to Dr. Gandier. In fact, the wily Doc toted Mr. Odell around to at least one newspaper office, introduced him in a most flattering way and begged support for him in the fight against Randall.

I don't believe the public cares a tinker's dam who has been double-crossed, but Dr. Gandier will have some tall explaining to do in his own camp.

While Randall and Odell are fighting each other for the same element of votes, it looks as if Montaville Flowers will be the logical compromise. In the first place, he is a Republican; secondly, a temperance man, one who believes in national prohibition, and one who has preached it from stage and stump for twenty years. He is patriotic to the core, highly educated and will represent the Ninth District with honor, which will be quite an innovation, to say the least.

The professional ward politicians are peeved. For months they awaited announcement of Jimmie Rolph's candidacy, the word having gone down the line that he would open a dough bag that would put to shame old John D. Deaf ears were turned upon candidates who admitted that they had no money and would run their campaigns upon principle. The gang said they would like to have a little interest, too, and knew they would get it compounded if a San Francisco politician entered. Much to their chagrin, the announcement came, so did Rolph and Secretary Rainey. And neither showed the big bank roll. In fact, they dispelled the idea that money is to run from Rolph headquarters like water from the aqueduct spillway. The result is that the ward heelers are facing a lean summer and a frightful winter. They say they will get even by climbing upon some other feller's wagon, but no one is spending a dime, and they don't know which one to mount.

Some of the fair sex are busting corset strings in an attempt to get public indorsement from prominent women's organizations for Orfa Jean Shontz, the talented attorney, who seeks a seat upon the Superior bench. But their efforts to date have been unavailing. The clubs say they are for Miss Shontz, all right, but to elect her they feel that she should be indorsed alone, with a ticket of seven. Who shall be the other six is the question that even a Superior Court judge cannot answer.

Henry J. Stevens is one of the most formidable candidates for Superior Judge. He has an enviable record before the bar and is looked upon as one of the brightest legal lights in the profession. Always straight Republican, he has countless friends in the ranks of the G. O.P. It is indeed fortunate that a man of his caliber seeks a judicial position. The voters could do nothing better than to elect him.

Walton J. Wood denies that he is running for Superior Judge upon the reputation of Judge Perry Wood. I have an idea that H. F. Wood, candidate for justice of the peace, is doing likewise, but both would be tickled to death to roll up as many votes as the Hon. Perry Wood would.

In the days of the "squared circle," Theodore Gottsdanker might have had a chance in a contest for Police Judge. But "Kid" Williams, his best booster, is finding the glove artists few and far between, and T. G. no doubt will be floored in the first round.

Jeff McIlvaine, member of the State Board of Equalization, who is a candidate for re-election, departed last night for Sacramento to be gone two or three weeks. He declared he is willing to stand upon his record, and while he is transacting State business, feels confident that his friends will look after his interests. He is opposed by Philip D. Wilson, former secretary of the Realty Board, and known in newspaper circles.

John W. Summerfield, the genial justice of the peace who received the top vote four years ago in a large field of candidates, is running for re-election, and his friends believe he has a cinch. About all he needs to win will be the votes of the 10,000 couples he has married, and I understand that 98 per cent. of the knots he has tied are still taut.

Mayor Woodman made a wise selection when he appointed J. Wiseman MacDonald a member of the Civil Service Commission.

Supreme Justice W. G. Lorigan, who is a candidate to succeed himself, along with Hon. Curtis D. Wilbur, is making a vigorous campaign, having fully recovered from a long siege of illness. He has been on the State's highest bench for sixteen years and has made a most commendable record.

Another alleged Odell stronghold was punctured Tuesday night by Montaville Flowers when he went to Long Beach and was greeted by upwards of 2000 enthusiastic men and women. The same thing occurred a few nights ago in Pasadena. If Mr. Flowers keeps the pace he has started, the people need have no fear of the result in the Ninth District. It looks like Randall is a gone goeling.

"Re-elect John C. Cline, the best Sheriff Los Angeles county ever had," says a big ad. on a billboard near Venice. Alongside is another billboard upon which this appears: "Elect Sam Browne, a better Sheriff than Los Angeles county ever had." Now Bob Brain, or some other candidate, may be expected to stick up a board with, "The goodest Sheriff Los Angeles ever had."

Our old friend, Frank C. Roberts, editor of the Long Beach Telegram, but who is summering in Colorado, sent me a telegram approving the suggestion that three of the four candidates opposing Randall be eliminated. If Editor Roberts had pointed out the way to do it, he would have done the people of the Ninth District a big favor. There is no gainsaying the fact that all should unite behind one man to lick Randall, but I must admit that I don't know how to get three of them out.

As the honor guest of the Republican County Central Committee at the Gamut Club last night, Congressman Osborne was given a most cordial reception. He made a fine speech, and was given assurance of the solid support of the G.O.P. He also spoke at noon yesterday at the Sierra Madre Club.

Somebody said the other day that R. H. Norton (no, not the deposed Supervisor) should be elected County Assessor because Mr. Hopkins has held the office too long. If business corporations fired a man because he had held the job too long, how many of them would go to the wall? Usually the longer a man holds a position the more efficient he becomes, and this may be said of Ed Hopkins.

Richmond P. Benton, straight Republican and all-around square-shooter, is temporarily out of the political arena, due to blood poisoning. A few days ago he scratched his foot and irritated the skin. The member is terribly swollen and his condition is more or less serious.

Respected Resident.

Bounderby was a most respected resident of our suburb, and made friends with everybody. As he was putting up for the borough Council he made a tour of the various municipal establishments, including the local police station. The superintendent had treated him with great courtesy and had shown him everything of interest, on which Bounderby dilated when he reached home.

Next day he was taking his little son for a ride on the trolley car, which was crowded with local residents. As the car was passing the police station a shrill voice suddenly cried:

"Oo, dad! Is that the police station where the policeman took you last night?"

Every person on the car turned to stare at Bounderby—and he was not elected to the Council.—[Chicago News.

An Expert.

A government press censor was talking about the German press censorship.

"We found on some prisoners recently," he said, "the German censorships' latest prohibition. Prominent among these was an order to the press not to mention under any circumstances the growing use in Germany of dog flesh for food.

"That prohibition reminds me of a story—a story that may contain a lot of truth.

"'A German prisoner,' the story runs, 'was rebuked by a sergeant for the sloppy way he was feeding and looking after some Red Cross dogs.

"'I guess you think you know a lot about dogs,' the sergeant sneered.

"'Yes, sir, that's right,' said the prisoner, 'for let me tell you, sir, I've been cook in a Berlin restaurant for the last two years.'"—[Washington Star.

Forgot the "Laundry."

They were on an interurban car bound for the big city. One of them, the son of a banker, had been intrusted with a bundle containing $5000 in bills. The bundle was wrapped in a newspaper. Being young, the bearers of the treasure fell to talking of girls and things and when they arrived at the station both got up and started away without the bundle.

"Hey, you fellows," a man who had been sitting back of them shouted. "Hey, boys, you've forgot your laundry."

It need not be guessed that the boys double-quicked back for the "laundry."—[Indianapolis News.

Taken by Storm.

The cruel winds tore at the waves as if to whirl them away.

The man and the maid sat close together on the bench and watched the storm.

"How the wind howls, darling," said she, yelling to make herself heard.

"Yes," shrieked her lover.

"Why does it howl?" she screamed.

"Dunno. Perhaps it's got the toothache," he bellowed.

"The toothache?" she howled. "However——

"Yes," he roared. "Haven't you heard of the teeth of the gale?"

Then the wind howled worse than ever as she handed him back the engagement ring.—[Stray Stories.

He Had an Audience.

"I want to have a tooth drawn," announced the small boy with the steel-gray eye, "and I want gas."

"You're too young to have gas, my little man," said the dentist. "Besides, I'm sure you aren't afraid of being hurt. Sit still and be a man."

"It isn't that at all," said the boy, "but I'm afraid I shall not be able to help giving a bit of a squeal when it comes out."

"Well, that won't matter at all," said the dentist. "I'm sure I shall not mind."

"No, but I shall. Look out of that window."

The dentist looked out and saw a lot of grinning lads standing on the sidewalk.

"They're all the kids I've fought and whacked," said the small patron, "and they've come to hear me holler."—[Baltimore Evening Sun.

"RUSSELLITES" ARE SENTENCED

Judge Quotes from Bible in Meting Out Justice.

Denounces "Finished Mystery" as Hun Propaganda.

Can Find no Parallel for Pacifism in Holy Writ.

Quoting from the Old Testament narrative of the defeat of the Ephraimites at the fords of Jordan, and arguing therefrom that the children of Israel had to fight for their existence, thus opposing the doctrine of the "Russellites" that if a man compels another to go one mile he ought to go two, United States District Judge Trippet yesterday sentenced the three convicted International Bible students to various terms of imprisonment. McNeil's Island was designated as the place of confinement, but on orders of the Attorney-General, it may be shifted to Canon City, Colo.

Mrs. J. Emma Martin, widow of a Methodist clergyman of San Bernardino, who was found guilty of attempting to cause insubordination, mutiny and refusal of duty on the part of the military and naval forces of the United States, by the sale of copies of "The Finished Mystery," was given three years in prison.

Edward Hamm, also of San Bernardino, similarly convicted, was given a similar term.

E. J. Sonnenberg, a San Bernardino bookbinder, who was not only convicted on the same charge, but on additional one of obstructing the recruiting and enlistment service of the United States, was sentenced to two years on each count, the judgments to run concurrently.

Judge Trippet declared that, in his opinion, Mrs. Martin was the author of the lot, as she had sold a copy of the "The Finished Mystery" to a man whom she knew to be a deputy sheriff. Hamm had torn out the interdicted pages from the book, it was shown, and then pasted them back again.

Judge Trippet said "The Finished Mystery" was a fine example of German propaganda, and was the more dangerous because it taught defiance of the national authority, through the medium of religious teaching. The court thought perhaps the defendants had been imposed on by the publishers of the volume, and he stated that he hoped they, too, would be arrested, convicted and given the limit of the law.

Referring to the story of the wars in the Old Testament, Judge Trippet pointed out that 42,000 of the Ephraimites were slain at the fords of the River Jordan by the children of Israel, a casualty list that has not been approached in the present war in behalf of civilization, only a few of the Ephraimites escaped into the land of Gilead. He declared that the clergy of the United States are doing a noble patriotic work in the prosecution of the war, and to a man oppose the foolish views of Pastor Russell, the author of "The Finished Mystery."

All of the defendants were recommended to the mercy of the court. None of them gave any sign of feeling when the judgment of the court was imposed.

A ten days' stay of execution was allowed. A request was made in behalf of Sonnenberg that he be allowed to serve his sentence in the County Jail at San Bernardino, but this was refused.

RECOVERS FROM OPERATION.

Edward H. Brown, of No. 871 North St. Andrews boulevard, is recovering from a serious operation performed by Dr. Nirt Bradley Dakan at the Good Samaritan Hospital. His nurse, Miss Marjorie Barkley, expects to leave for France the first of next month.

"PULL" MAY NOT SAVE SPEEDERS.

Warrants Issued Against Many Who May Have Escaped Fines Through Influence.

That all persons arrested by county motorcycle policemen within the last year, and who have gained immunity by influence, may have complaints filed against them, was among the matters under discussion in a continuation of the investigation into "speeding" cases yesterday.

As a forerunner of this move, Sheriff Cline ordered complaints issued yesterday against all speeders who, during July managed to escape punishment because of alleged "pull" with certain county officers. About fifty warrants were signed and issued by Justice Palmer.

AS A DAY OF PRAYER.

Special Services will be Conducted in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral Sunday—It is War Anniversary.

Special prayer services will be conducted in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, Sunday, which will mark the fifth anniversary of the beginning of the great world war. King George of England has appointed this day as a special day of praper for the whole British Empire.

There will be an appropriate sermon at 11 a.m. The Holy Communion will be celebrated also at this hour, as well as at 7:30 a.m. Members of all patriotic organizations and of the Red Cross and kindred organizations have been invited to participate in the services.

SWITCHES HIS PLEA.

Opium Runner Blames High Cost of Drugs for Troubles that Net Him Penitentiary Sentence.

Frank Weller, who had pleaded not guilty in the United States District Court to selling morphine, cocaine, etc., changed his plea to guilty before Judge Bledsoe yesterday, and was given fifteen months in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island.

Weller is said to be one of the various heads of the opium ring in Los Angeles, and it was in connection with his bail in State cases that a number of investigations relating to straw bondsmen have been made by the office of the District Attorney.

Weller admitted that he had been an opium addict for more than seventeen years, and said that on account of the high cost of opium it had been necessary for him to engage in the traffic in order to get money to buy the stuff for his own use.

LAND IS ALL TAKEN, SUPERVISOR SAYS.

Enthusiasts in search of a home on lands of the government should not be misled by the withdrawal order recently issued opening to entry sections 28, 31, 32 and 33 and the south half of sections 29 and 30 of the Los Angeles Forest Reserve, at the head of Cajon Valley, six miles north of Pine Lodge and east of Sheep Creek, for every bit of the land has already been homesteaded and four of the tracts have been patented. Under the forest homestead act of June 11, 1906, homesteads were established and claims put in for all the land, stated Acting Forest Supervisor Sears yesterday.

married her, the court said, "She testified on the stand in a coldblooded manner that she lived as a prostitute; that she worked in a dance hall which was known also as a 'parlor house,' after the fashion of more border towns; that she sold drinks and drew a commission therefrom, and accompanied men to their rooms. Such evidence coming from a woman is almost beyond our comprehension."

The court added that, though there was no evidence of a marriage with Ripley, the fact that Mrs. Dobbins took his name and was known by it in Telluride "leads to the belief that they were married."

Mrs. Dobbins remained unperturbed throughout the day's proceedings.

Dobbins on the stand testified that he had spent $35,000 improving his various patents, and is now practically "broke."

SUMMER DISPENSATION.

Watts' Lone Ice Man Says Babies will Suffer if He's Called for Jury Service; is Excused.

A new venire of term trial jurors was impaneled in Superior Judge Craig's court, yesterday.

Among those who had been summoned was Jasper M. Curfman, who said he was the only ice man in Watts. He asked that he be excused.

"If Your Honor please, if I am compelled to serve on this jury the babies of Watts will have no ice, and that will mean sickness for them."

"You are excused," said Judge Craig.

WHAT WILL MARY DO?

Filmland Interested in Future Actions of Mary Pickford; She May Go to France.

Will Mary Pickford go to France? Will she go back on the stage? Will she return to pictures? These are the questions of the hour in filmland. Miss Pickford has told close friends she will not sign any new picture contracts at present—not until she had had a nice long vacation, if at all.

After that, she may sign a contract for films, probably with the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, if she accepts any offer, she declares. But she has told the same intimate friends that she has a strong desire to go back on the stage—that negotiations have even been opened with David Belasco. On the other hand, pulling her strongly the other way, is a desire to be of service to her country. If she decides on the patriotic path, she will go to France as an entertainer in the hospitals, it is believed.

TO OPEN BROADWAY.

City Attorney is to Seek Authorization of Capital Issues Committee for Big Project.

Approval of the proposed opening and widening of Broadway, between Tenth and Pico streets, will be urged before the district committee of the Capital Issues Committee in San Francisco, tomorrow, by City Attorney Stephens.

The project will cost $1,200,000, according to estimates prepared by engineers, but before the work may be carried out it must have the approval of the Capital Issues Committee. It is assumed that the district committee will report its findings to the parent body in Washington.

GETS A CAPTAINCY.

Supt. Clark of Employment Bureau to go with Quartermaster Corps.

William L. Clark, superintendent of the United States Employment Service, at No. 207 South Broadway, has been offered a captaincy in the Quartermaster Corps of the National Army, and will leave this city on his new duties today or tomorrow. His new work will take him to Washington, but it is expected he will be asked to perform certain service for the department at San Francisco, Seattle, Salt Lake, Denver, Kansas City and other places in the West and Middle West before reporting to headquarters. His associates in the local bureau presented him with a wrist watch yesterday.

Supt. Clark's report of the local employment bureau, which is ready for presentation to Mayor Woodman, shows that during the last year the institution has been instrumental in placing 89,254 persons in positions, and every division shows a reduction in the cost per placement.

For Artists.

BERNHARDT TO GIVE BENEFIT.

Will be Heard in "Cathedrales de France."

Amphitheater of Brunswig Gardens, Scene.

Dramatic Poem Tells of End of Hun Infamy.

To aid the stricken families of her fellow French artists, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will present as a benefit for L'Union des Arts of Paris, her pet charity, "Les Cathedrales de France" next Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Greek amphitheater of the Brunswig gardens at No. 3528 West Adams street. The production, to be under the patronage of leading society women of the city, is to be a spectacular and fitting tribute to the genius and patriotism of the great tragedienne. Her entire company will take part, in addition to her granddaughter, Mlle. Lysiane Bernhardt, who will essay the role of a young soldier.

L'Union des Arts, the society for whose benefit the performance will be presented, has been organized in Paris for the purpose of assisting wounded artists of every class and their families. Hundreds have perished on the field of battle, and it is for the aid of those whom they have left that Mme. Bernhardt is giving a series of benefits on her tour throughout the country. This particular affair is possibly the only appearance she will make outside of her theatrical engagement while she is in Los Angeles.

The dramatic poem, "Les Cathedrales de France," the work of Eugene Morand, one of the leading French contemporaries, was written especially for Mme. Bernhardt and presented by her for the first time in her Paris theater on November 6, 1915.

STORY OF THE POEM.

The resume of the story is as follows:

On a desolate plain in Picardy, mist and fog mingle with twilight. Some French soldiers returning from a trench appear, look about and pass on. One, however, remains. He is one of those youths in whom France has her entire hope of deliverance. He cannot withdraw his gaze from the war-swept plain where his native village formerly was. Sinking exhausted beside a shattered gun-carriage, he dreams.

The mists clear and reveal the vast vault of the night sky wherein, emerging from an ocean of clouds, the majestic form of cathedrals appear, each bearing a carved stone figure, which, when it speaks, is the voice of the cathedral itself. There is Notre Dame de Paris, Bourges from the middle country, Arles from Provence, Amiens and Saint Pol de Leon from the north of Brittany. The spirits of the cathedrals resolve to pray, after which they perceive the figure of the sleeping soldier, and, divining his thoughts, beg to become animated. The prayer is granted, and the cathedrals talk with the soldier, in his dream.

BELL OF STRASBOURG.

Notre Dame expresses fear that Posterity will not believe the German atrocities unless they are well attested. A bell rings—that of Strasbourg—and is acclaimed. Strasbourg tells of the anxiety with which she and Metz have waited for more than forty years to be set free. The spirits assure her that France will never lay down arms until both are freed. Strasbourg, although gladdened, begs for the avenging of Rheims. In an impassioned utterance Strasbourg promises the martyr that every age shall pass on the heritage of fury against the Huns, cherishing the proofs of their infamy unto the last judgment, when they shall hold forth the evidence.

Weeping for their dead, the cathedrals are rebuked by Strasbourg. Then they speak of Belgium's martyrdom—and from the north the stricken cities of that kingdom of grief cry "Miserere!"

In a superb vision, Strasbourg sees the end of all this infamy, and describes it to her sisters and to the young soldier of France in lines which, as Mme. Bernhardt delivers them, rush every hearer up heights of spiritual exaltation loftier than those to which we have been summoned by any other voice of art speaking out of this world-tempest.

MANY IN TANK CORPS.

Over Two Hundred Enrolled Here with Fighters to "Treat 'Em Rough."

The ten-day recruiting campaign for the United States Tank Corps closed here yesterday with 205 "tankers" enrolled from Los Angeles and vicinity.

Before leaving for San Francisco last night, Lieut. G. G. Garland, recruiting officer, expressed himself as well pleased with the response of Los Angeles men to the "Treat 'Em Rough" invitation. In the last three days eighty-two men were enrolled—an average better than any other three days of the campaign. Many of these men told the lieutenant they had been attracted by the article regarding the Tank Corps appearing in last Sunday's Times.

During the ten days here, Lieut. Garland and his aide, Sergt. J. A. Rodems, received over 750 applications, but because of the strict requirements, less than a third of the men were accepted. Los Angeles was the first stop of a thirty-day drive on the Pacific Coast, and with the local record as an example the officers expect to obtain their full quota in the northern cities.

DAMAGES FOR HUSBAND.

Woman Awarded Ten Thousand for Death in Yards of Southern Pacific.

The sum of $10,000 damages was awarded Mrs. Edith S. Lamport against the Southern Pacific Company by Judge Houser yesterday, due to the death of her husband, Lester C. Lamport, who was killed on November 5, last, at the West Oakland yards.

Mrs. Lamport sued as administrator and on behalf of her daughter, Marcedes Adell Lamport, 6 years old.

STEEL LEADS UPTREND ON MODERATE DEALINGS.

Lack of Public Interest Restricts Trading in Wall Street.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 31.—The stock market's lukewarm response today to the record-breaking statement of the United States Steel Corporation, issued after the close of yesterday's session, was in itself considered striking proof of the utter lack of public interest in securities.

Steel eclipsed all other issues, furnishing about 50 per cent. of the day's moderate dealings, but those who expected a bullish demonstration in that quarter were disappointed. The stock recorded an extreme advance of 1 7-8 points, retaining little more than half its gain.

Affiliated equipments rose 1 to 2 points, oils 1¼ to 3 on better Mexican conditions, and gas shares added 2 to 3½ points to the previous day's gains on a decision favoring People's Gas, although that stock later canceled its advance.

There were desultory advances of 1 to 4 points in Distillers, Industrial Alcohol, sugars, Malting preferred, International Paper and Burns Brothers Coal.

American Telephone rallied on reclamation of recent pressure, but Western Union declined another fraction to a new low level for the current movement.

Renewed weakness was displayed by General Motors and Sumatra Tobacco, and Lorillard Tobacco forfeited another 12 points, making a total of 32 points thus far this week.

Rails and other standard stocks were listless and inclined to ease. Unfavorable June statements of New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio were mainly due to new accounting regulations. Sales amounted to 360,000 shares.

Bonds were firm. Liberty issues stiffening after early heaviness in the 4¼'s. Paris 6's lost a fraction. Total sales (par value) were $5,525,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call, registered 2's gaining ⅝ per cent. on sales.

BANK CLEARINGS IN JULY RECORD.

Total of $137,201,821.28 Most of Any Summer Month.

Close to Figures of City's Record Cash Turnover.

Buying of Army Provisions Helps Swell Balances.

Further evidence of the ascending scale of prosperity with which, despite supposedly adverse conditions, Los Angeles, as the industrial and commercial metropolis of Southern California, is blessed, is afforded in the monthly statement of bank clearings here for July, issued yesterday by the Clearinghouse Association.

The total for the month is $137,201,821.28, the largest on record here for any summer month in the history of Los Angeles business. Clearings for July last year were $114,478,880.91; for the same month in 1916 they were $100,528,952.56. According to J. D. Gamble of the Clearinghouse Association, the new figures come as a surprise to the local bankers, who, he says, had little idea that this month's total would come close to the figures of the record month in banking here, which was March, 1917, when the total clearings were $138,444,066.

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY.

Mr. Gamble attributes the big July figure to a variety of causes, such as increased industrial activity on account of the war, big movements of all kinds of supplies for the armed forces, and sales of Thrift Stamps, and for in checks, and, in a lesser measure, dealings in Liberty Bonds.

In showing what the war is doing toward maintaining a high degree of financial and commercial prosperity here, figures furnished by the local quartermaster's department for the southern district of California are interesting.

Nothing to swell the volume of business done by Los Angeles banks like the financial transactions involved in furnishing all kinds of supplies for now approximately 40,000 men in the armed service. Two months ago there were approximately 25,000 such men to be fed, clothed, housed and otherwise provided for.

SWELLED BY PURCHASES.

During July, Uncle Sam deposited with the banks here fat checks to cover the purchase of such items as 1,000,000 pounds of potatoes, 35,000 tons of corn, 30,000 pounds of dried peas, 25,000 pounds of sugar, 1,000,000 cans of condensed milk, etc., to the extent of 260 separate articles of subsistence, provision of which is in charge of W. E. Ronan, in charge of this particular division of the department. This division's disbursements here alone for July reached figures in the neighborhood of $3,000,000.

It is expected that the clearings for the month beginning today will show a further pronounced gain with the continued enlargement of the military establishment in this part of the country.

Another factor helping to swell the surprising total announced yesterday is found in the large purchases of mining supplies for the southwestern field, where activity on account of the war is in most cases, especially in the great Arizona copper districts, at top pressure.

CAMPAIGNING FOR BONDS IN ALASKA.

At the best, Liberty Loan campaigning isn't easy work. But some of the Fairbanks (Alaska) scouts had more than their share of difficulties, according to Boys' Life.

There was Norman Russell, for instance. He "mushed" about forty miles down the river to reach Tatalina Creek, where the captains, officers and crews of the river boats were in their winter quarters, and came away with $7250 pledged for Liberty bonds.

Ernest Samuel Ivey lived at Chatanika, forty miles from Fairbanks. He didn't have the fun or incentive of working with the other boys and so made it harder. But all alone he visited the mining camps along the creek and came away with twenty-seven subscriptions, totaling $3150.

Eugene Beraud made the record for his troop with sixty-one subscriptions totaling $15,800. Scout Ernest Busby lived out in the country, but he sold $2200 worth. Some of the boys were working all day, but Busby Trustled one or two anyway—just to do their share.

HE DOESN'T THINK "GOD PLANNED IT."

SEPARATE MAINTENANCE SUIT SHE INTRODUCES DETECTIVES FROM OTHER WOMAN.

In a suit for separate maintenance filed in the Superior Court yesterday Mrs. Blanche Alice Berkshire charges her husband, Frank Richard Berkshire, with extreme cruelty and with too intimate with other women. She seeks the custody of their two children.

That her husband received letters from other women couched in fervid language and that he cursed her when she was in a delicate condition are among the charges mentioned in the complaint. A woman signing herself as "Priscilla" is referred to in a letter written Berkshire the latter Millet doux on June 12:

"I never knew what love was until I met you. You came into my life strangely and so sweetly I feel that God must have planned it.

"He is said to have closed "with all my love and on every wave of love I am forever your loving girl, Priscilla."

Mrs. Berkshire asks $40 monthly for maintenance. She says husband earns $105 a month.

DIVORCE DENIED.

A decree was denied Mamie Rose Wood E. Rose by Judge Wood yesterday, despite counter-charges of cruelty and the accusation the wife flirted with other men. The character of the evidence was such that the court ordered the children placed in the care of a third party, Rose to pay $30 monthly for their support. Rose married his wife when she was 16 years old.

FEDERAL TAXES TAKEN IN JULY TOTAL MILLION.

NEARLY $1,000,000 was received by Collector of Internal Revenue Carter during the month of July, according to the report yesterday. The exact figures were $928,430.92. Of this amount the collections on account of the income tax were $309,063.36. The collections for July, 1917, amounted to $220,432.61.

The total collections included the revenue from income, special, beer, distilled spirits and estate taxes. It is estimated that there is still to be collected about $200,000 in income taxes.

A number of warrants in distraint have been issued and served on income tax-payers, and the response has been generous, the delinquents seemingly being glad to comply with the wishes of the government when informed that there is no escape from the burden.

Collector of Customs Elliott yesterday furnished the following figures as to the transactions of his office for the month of July:

Exports, $401,060 (estimated); exports, July, 1917, $655,934; imports, $195,671 (estimated); July, 1917, $756,845; collections, $10,350.89; July, 1917, $36,435.45.

The collections of the various ports for the month of July, 1918 were as follows:

Los Angeles, $8773.66; San Diego, $1187.29 (estimated); Tia Juana, $88; Calexico, $121.95 (estimated;) Campo, $80.

Two days are missing in the report of Postmaster Harrington Brown of the receipts of his office for the month of July, and the exact figures for but twenty-nine days, with two estimated, are covered in the following figures of receipts on account of postage, amounting to $239,487.63.

The sale of Thrift Stamps for the same period reached $505,677.94, as compared with $919,000 for the preceding month, when a drive was on.

ANGELENO TRAINING AS AVIATOR KILLED.

ARTHUR KRONNICK, IN NAVAL SCHOOL AT BOSTON, MEETS DEATH.

News of the death of Arthur Kronnick, young Los Angeles aviator who has been training in Boston for a commission as ensign in the naval aviation service, was received yesterday by his uncle, Police Warrant Officer Henry Deitzen.

Kronnick was 22 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kronnick of Thirty-ninth street and Broadway. Until three months ago he was a student in the University of California, when he enlisted as a naval aviator, and was detailed to Boston for training.

Kronnick was a graduate of Polytechnic High School, and had been studying structural engineering at Berkeley. He first enlisted in the "Bears," but, desirous of immediate action, was transferred to the aviation section. Just before leaving for the East, Kronnick married Miss Bernice Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson of Ojai, who accompanied him to Boston. His bride is now returning to Los Angeles with the body of her husband.

JUDGE M'CORMICK HAS AN ANNIVERSARY.

Superior Judge McCormick celebrated his eighth anniversary yesterday as a judge by disposing of a divorce case in Department Twenty for Judge Valentine.

Coincidentally, Judge McCormick first took up the study of law as a student in the same room, No. 756 of the County Courthouse, back in the spring of 1898. Judge McCormick also served in the same chamber as assistant to the law librarian, and he tried his first case there as a Superior Judge.

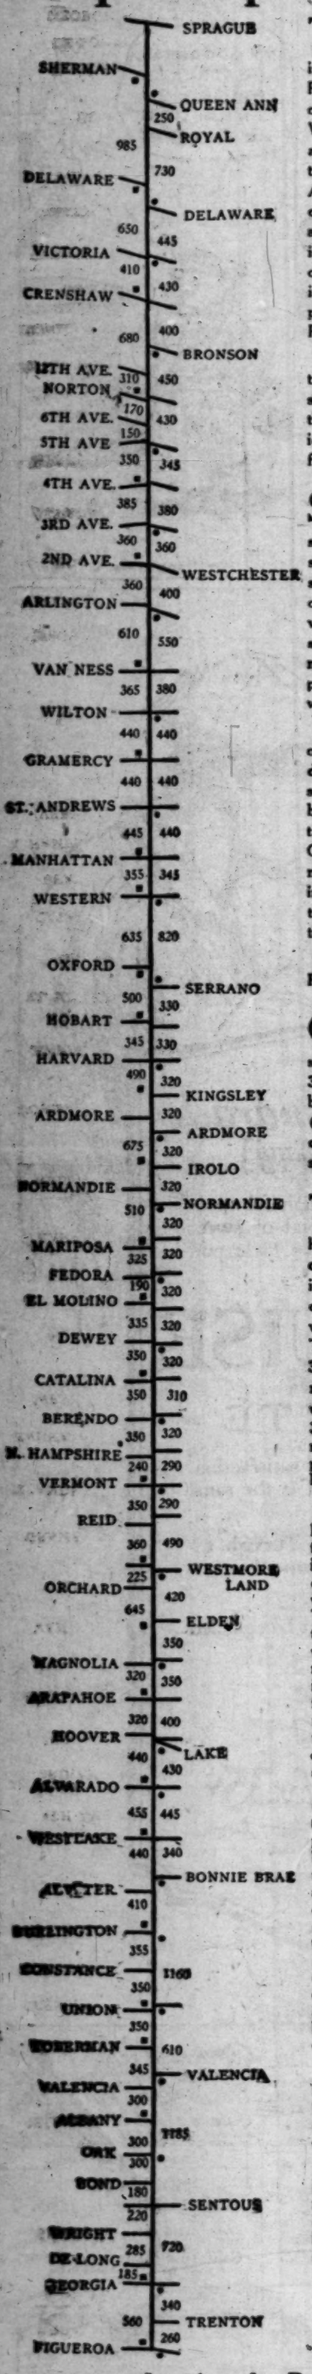
Skip-Stop on Pico



THE "Staggered" Skip-stop will be put into effect on the West Pico Street Car Line west of Figueroa Street on WEDNESDAY, AUG. 7, and will be installed on the other lines of the Los Angeles Railway as requirements of travel are ascertained. This change is in line with the policy of the U. S. Fuel Administration and has the approval of the Board of Public Utilities.

The Fuel Administration rules that stops should average not more than 880 feet apart in residence districts and 1320 feet in outlying districts.

STOP SIGNS are being placed at or near stopping points. Signs south of trolley wire will show stops for east-bound cars. Those north of wire will show west-bound stops. Cars will stop at no other points. Any departure from this plan would cause confusion.

Map shows stops west of Figueroa. Circular dots show west-bound stops; black squares, east-bound stops; figures, distances between streets. One change not on map is noted. Stops will be made in both directions at Sentous School, between Sentous and Bond.

No street stops east of Figueroa will be skipped.

ON 21 "Rush Hour" trips checked, the stops ranged from 20 to 39 per trip, the average being 28. Nearly half (44%) of the time required for trips was absorbed by stops!

THE GREATEST DISTANCE anyone will have to walk—one way only—will be 492 feet—in a very thinly settled district. Few will have to walk more than 440 feet. The average walk will be 320 feet — about one minute. Most patrons will have to walk less than 300 feet. Many will have no extra walk, as at 11 points cars will stop in both directions.

Those who walk when leaving home will stop at their corners when returning. Those who take the cars at the usual places will walk when returning. The slight inconvenience to a few caused by a short walk one way should be more than offset by the increased speed and less frequent stopping of heavily loaded cars with the resultant jolting, which cannot be prevented if speed is to be maintained.

SKIP-STOPS not only will result in some improvement in the service, but the total saving in time on all lines will mean a reduction in operating costs. The Skip-stop is one of the steps to be taken toward improving the service and reducing operating expenses sufficiently to enable your Street Railway, if possible, to avert the necessity of asking for higher fares.

Your Street Railway management believes patrons will willingly co-operate with it in this project.

Such co-operation will be the biggest factor in making this movement for quicker and better service, and for economy in operation, a success.

Respectfully,

G. J. KUHRTS,
Asst. General Mgr.

ADVENTISTS TO MEET YEARLY.

Conference Votes to Return to Former Plan.

Support of the Government is Pledged.

Committees Appointed for Business Sessions.

Hearty support of the government was voiced by the Seventh-day Adventists of the Southern California conference at yesterday's session of their biennial meeting at the camp ground at West Washington street and Orchard avenue. A resolution was passed unanimously by the delegates, in harmony with similar action taken by the representatives of the denomination in the United States, assembled at midsummer council at Takoma Park, Washington, D. C., last month of this year.

In regard to war service, the resolutions stated:

"While ever in our history we have been of noncombatant principles, by religious conviction, we believe equally, by the same religious conviction, that we should render to our government the lines of noncombatant service as defined by the President in his declaration of March 20, 1918."

A decision was reached yesterday by the delegates to return to the plan of former years of holding the conference business sessions each year instead of biennially. It was also decided to elect the departmental secretaries of the conference by vote of the delegates, instead of leaving their appointment to the conference committee.

Committees on nominations, credentials and licenses and plans and resolutions were named as follows:

Nominations: C. E. Kimlin of Glendale; A. G. Daniells, J. W. Christian, Glendale; H. V. Hofgaarten, Long Beach; J. L. Jones, S. W. Beasley, S. P. Smith, W. H. Hall and Dr. C. A. Burrows, Glendale.

Credentials and licenses: J. W. Christian, G. A. Snyder, G. W. Reaser, V. H. Lucas and M. M. Hare.

Plans and resolutions: W. M. Adams, H. G. Lucas, E. S. Emmons, Miss J. L. Ireland, S. A. Oberg, Mrs. M. M. Hare, P. L. Knox, C. L. Cyphers, C. C. Morlan, Dr. P. T. Magan, Frank A. Coffin, Lon Somers, D. H. Warren, Dr. L. J. Otis and L. M. Hodge.

The War at Home

To Intern Trio.

Deputy United States Marshal Cavanaugh yesterday took three alien enemies to Fort MacArthur for internment.

Fred H. Beker was the name Otto von Waldeck gave when taken into custody some time ago in Nevada on the charge of evading the Selective Service Act. When Von Waldeck was arraigned before United States Commissioner Long he absolutely refused to answer many leading questions. He declared that he was born in Constantinople, Turkey, of a German father and a French mother, but said he had been in this country ever since he was 4 years old. He said he had attended the public schools in Pittsburgh, but refused to go into any details. He declared he was in Los Angeles on his way East on June 5, 1917, and had not registered for the draft until he returned to Washington, but he would not say where his registration card was or with what board he had registered.

When Deputy Marshal Cavanaugh went to Von Waldack's cell at the County Jail some time ago he ran across a book of secret codes, which was turned over to the United States Attorney. Following the inquiry into the antecedents of Von Waldeck, a Presidential warrant was asked for his internment.

Other prisoners taken to Fort MacArthur were Arthur W. Coburger, taken into custody at La Jolla by Deputy United States Marshal Carse of San Diego, a native of Frankfort-on-the-Main, who has been in this country but a short time; and Charles Kleine, arrested in this city recently.

Rancher Found Guilty.

Thomas Burch, a Belvidere rancher, was found guilty by a jury in United States District Judge Trippet's court yesterday of violation of the Espionage Act. He will be sentenced the 12th inst.

It was charged that Burch made various slighting remarks about the government and its course during the war, stating that in but a short time there would be but one flag in the world, and that the German colors, and that the war was a Wall-street affair in which the common people had no interest.

Burch denied the truth of the unpatriotic statements imputed to him, but did say that if practical Socialism were the rule in the world there would be no such a thing as war.

Two More Arrested.

A. F. Hammon, 48 years old, was arrested last night by War Squad operatives, and placed in the City Jail on a charge of sedition. The man was taken into custody at No. 1260 West First street. The police refused to give out any information concerning the charges against Hammon, other than to say that a warrant for his arrest had been secured and that bail was set at $1000, which he was unable to furnish.

On charges of violating the Presidential proclamation, John Fisher, 48 years old, was arrested last night at Fifth and Spring streets, by Officer H. L. Kirk, and lodged in the City Jail. He is held for investigation by the Police War Squad.

CALLED GAMBLERS.

Charged with gambling, two 17-year-old boys were taken into custody last night by Officers McMillon and Knowles at Montana and Lemoyne streets. The youths gave the names of Tom Gallagher and McKinley Angora.

VACATION TIME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, July 31.—Vacation season is on at the Home. Capt. F. T. Hague, adjutant, and Will Clark, chief druggist, are the first to go. Their trip includes an automobile trip to San Francisco and Sacramento, also Yosemite Park.

Opening.

WAR SAVINGS DAY IS ON AT ALLIED EXPOSITION.

TODAY is National War Savings Day at the great Allied War Exposition which will be opened this afternoon at Exposition Park. Members of every War Savings Society in the city will participate in the event. Motley H. Flint, Los Angeles city and county chairman of the National War Savings Committee, in issuing a general invitation to all members to join in making the opening event a success, urged that the attendance be as large as possible.

"We want to show other cities how unified and patriotic are the war savings societies of Los Angeles and for that reason we want to make National War Savings Day at the Allied War Exposition one of maximum attendance," he said. "With every 50-cent admission an attached coupon exchangeable for a Thrift Stamp is given, so that the opportunity to see this wonderful exhibit of war trophies and war games is offered at a nominal figure."

The Allied War Exhibition will open at 2 o'clock, and at 3:30 o'clock Mr. Flint will make an address on "Man-power with Money Wins the War."

In the "election-by-mail" campaign of the Los Angeles war savings societies for the election of a governing board of fifteen members, nominations continue to pour into the war savings headquarters in the Trust and Savings Building. The names of more than 400 nominees had been received by Mr. Flint yesterday, these numbering many of the city's most representative men and women for places on the huge ballot, which is to be prepared as soon after August 1 as possible. In many of the war savings societies all-day elections were conducted yesterday for the selection of nominees. Other of the Societies will hold their "Primary" today.

The Albert Cohn patriotic meeting, postponed from Wednesday evening until this evening, will be held at No. 219 South Main street, when members of the commercial board and more than 400 employees of the Albert Cohn stores will participate. Mr. J. T. McBean, assistant to Mr. Flint, will preside and Gov. Stephens will be the principal speaker.

LIMIT KILLINGS TO FIVE DAILY.

Council Enacts Ordinance Regulating Poultry Slaughtering.

Poultry slaughter-houses may no longer be conducted within the residential districts, the Council having enacted an ordinance yesterday placing the ban upon them.

It will be unlawful to kill more than five chickens, turkeys or other fowl in any one day in the residential district, reads the measure.

DR. AXSON'S LECTURES.

Dr. Stockton Axson, national secretary of the Red Cross, is delivering a series of Red Cross lectures free to the public, at 8 p.m., in the Friday Morning Club House, No. 940 South Figueroa street. Last night he spoke on "Red Cross Among Civilians;" this evening on the "Origin of the Red Cross;" tomorrow evening on "Some Moral Aims of the War."

FILM "EXTRAS" TAKEN IN RAID.

Police Squad Swoops Down on Hollywood Studios.

Men Nabbed are Taken Before Draft Official.

Told to Get Essential Jobs or Go to War.

Two of the largest motion-picture studios in Hollywood were yesterday morning the scenes of raids by Officers Brown and Waugh of the "work or fight" squad, when more than 150 men were taken into custody for violation of the proclamation that all able-bodied men between the ages of 21 and 31 must find some useful occupation.

A superficial examination of the men was made by the arresting officers on the grounds; and those holding registration and classification cards were released. One hundred of them, however, had neither and they were bundled into the patrol and taken to police headquarters.

Chairman Long of Local Board No. 17 was notified and came to the Police Station, where he held court on the men. The majority of the prisoners proved to the satisfaction of Chairman Long that they were not fight slackers, but he ordered them to be turned over to the respective draft boards for final disposition. That the motion-picture companies must recruit their extras and supers from men over the draft age and Class 5 men was stated last night by Chairman Long.

GOES TO WASHINGTON.

Chamber of Commerce Head will Discuss Matters of Importance with Government.

Matters of importance pending between the government and the Washington bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce caused Oscar C. Mueller, president of the chamber, to leave yesterday for the national capital. He expects to be home within two weeks.

Since the opening of the branch of the chamber at the seat of government on July 1, many matters of commercial importance to Southern California have developed.
